Eastbay Civic Leaders Enroll To Prevent Division of County

NEW CHARTER DEFEAT ASKED FROM PEOPLE

Mayors of Cities and Men and Women Prominent in All Walks of Life Organize to Protect Home and Business

Proposed Consolidation Is Declared Most Dangerous Proposition Offered Voters in the History of Oakland

Organized to defeat the proposed charter for city and county consolidation at the first election that money may be saved to the taxpayers and county division prevented, the Alameda County Anti-Division League came into being last night at a meeting in the Merchants' Exchange building in Oakland. Officers were elected, resolutions setting fourth the league's position in the campaign were adopted and a number of addresses on the proposal submitted by the board of freeholders were heard. At the meeting were present men and women from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont and Emeryville. Officers elected were:

President, W. E. Gibson, Oakland.

Vice-presidents—Carl Strom president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, Charles H. Bradley, president of Piedmont Civic Association; Charles Hadlen, Berkeley, Arthur Corder, manufacturer, Emeryville, Miss Belle Garrette, former president of the Adelphian Club, Alameda.

ORGANIZATION EFFECTED TO PREVENT COUNTY DIVISION.

By the resolutions adopted and speeches delivered the league sounded the keynote in the fight it is to make to prevent the splitting up of Alameda county. Gibson, Mayor Christie of Emeryville, Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda, Carl Strom of Alameda, Mayor Oliver Ellsworth of Piedmont and L. B. Magoon of Oakland were among those who spoke.

The resolutions, which were adopted unanimously, follow.

"Whereas, The recently elected board of freeholders have submitted a proposed charter for a scheme of consolidated city and county government for Alameda county, said charter to be voted on at a special election November 15, 1921, by all of the incorporated cities and towns in the county; and.

Whereas, If a majority of the voters in any one city in the county shall vote "No" at said election the proposal to form a consolidation of all of the Alameda county will be defeated; and,

DESTINY OF COUNTY WILL BE WRECKED.

Whereas, If a majority of the voters in Oakland shall vote "Yes" at said election and a majority of the voters of Alameda and Berkeley shall vote "No," then by operation of the law there must be formed a city and county of Oakland, which will but lead to the ultimate formation of the city and county of Berkeley and other separate governmental entities, thereby dividing Alameda county into at least three parts, inevitably increasing the tax burden and destroying the spirit of unity and the splendid destiny of the communities which comprise this, the third largest county in California; and,

Whereas, In loyal support of the best interests of Oakland and the several other communities, and in defense of the progress and opportunity of the whole Eastbay district, we unqualifiedly favor the preservation of the unity of Alameda county; therefore, be it

ANTI-COUNTY DIVISION LEAGUE LAUNCHED.

Resolved, That we hereby organize the Alameda County Anti-Division League, and pledge ourselves to use our best endeavors to defeat adoption of said proposed charter. All citizens of Alameda county are eligible for membership in this league without the payment of dues or incurring any obligation whatever; and be it further

Resolved, That the officers of this league shall consist of a president, twelve vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, an executive committee, to be appointed by the president, and such other committees and officers as may be appointed or designated by the president, who shall also prescribe their duties.

After his election to the presidency of the league Gibson, in a short address, gave his views on the purposes and opportunities for service that were afforded by the organization.

PATRIOTIC CITIZENS CALLED TO ARMS.

He said:

"It devolves upon the men and women who are interested in the future government of the Eastbay cities to organize at once and turn the searchlight on the dangers that are confronting that government.

"There can be no economic advantage to be gained by the adoption of this system of government; there can be no saving, and there could be no other excuse possibly offered for a change at this time. The machinery it proposes to set up would not only

Lightning Destroys 220,000 Bbls. of Gas

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Four 55,000-barrel tanks of gasoline were burned today at the Magnola refinery. The fire started when lightning struck one of the tanks, which instantly burst into flames. The loss was estimated at $1,000,000.

'Charter Aims at Division of County And Dangerous Political Oligarchy'

POINTS brought out by speakers at formation of Alameda County Anti-Division League:

W. E. GIBSON, chosen president of Alameda County Anti-Division League.

"I am afraid that the real significance and mystery of this charter has not yet been pointed out.

"If this charter means anything it means county division. It does not make for the development of our city and is the most artistically camouflaged form of government ever submitted to an American community.

"The charter movement will create animosities, and mischief and will erect barriers that may be years in the removing.

"I challenge the proponents of the consolidation plan to prove that there will be any saving in taxes. They undertake to set up a political oligarchy with a one-man political dictator.

"I believe that this is the most dangerous proposition offered to the people of Oakland in the 27 years I have been here."—W. E. Gibson, Oakland.

"Emeryville has always held a friendly feeling toward Oakland and Oakland merchants, but it is not taking kindly to this move to force it into a consolidation that is not wanted."—W. H. Christie, Mayor of Emeryville.

"The fundamental defect in the charter is that only one essential city, Oakland, may be named." — Frank Otis, Mayor of Alameda.

"The people who framed this charter nurse the illusion that they can drive the voters far apart on one issue and herd them together on another. By creating new county lines, divisions and animosities they will make it impossible for united action on any public utility question. A result will be that no move for the people of the Eastbay will be at the mercy of the water company, so far as the water problem is concerned."—L. B. Magoon.

Quake Wrecks School, Homes In Town in Utah

Severe Shock Felt in Elsinore; Tremors Felt Throughout Southern California.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ELSINORE, Utah, Sept. 29.—Three residences and new public school building were completely wrecked by an earthquake this morning, and every residence and business house was more or less damaged. The most severe shock occurred at 7:30 and was followed by thirteen or more shocks in quick succession, the last occurring about 8 o'clock. No one was reported injured. The loss is estimated at approximately $100,000, according to first reports.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

RICHFIELD, Utah, Sept. 29.—Two distinct earth tremors were felt here this morning. Both tremors, which were from east to west and lasted approximately a second and a half, occurred at 7:15 and 7:20 a. m. Houses were shaken, dishes, broken and furniture shaken about, but no other damage was reported.

Reports from Monroe, near here, are to the effect that five earthquake shocks occurred there between 7:20 and 8:15 this morning.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—Southern California was experiencing today another series of earthquakes—the first series of major importance since the shakes of June and July, 1920, which did considerable damage.

Three quakes had been reported up to 9 a. m. today.

The heaviest was shortly before 9 o'clock, when a sharp shock shook Riverside, some 70 miles from Los Angeles.

The others, earlier in the day, seemed to center between Los Angeles and Riverside and were not as heavy.

The tremors were of very short duration and no damage was reported.

Filipino Officials Are Accused of Fraud

MANILA, Sept. 29.—Charges of embezzlement were filed today against Miguel Concepcion, member of the Philippine house of representatives and son of Venancio Concepcion, former president of the Philippine National bank, who himself is under charges of having made loans of bank funds to a corporation in which he was interested while he was head of the financial institution. Manuel Nieto, junior secretary to Manuel Quesno, president of the Philippine senate, and others also are charged with offenses similar to that laid to Miguel Concepcion. The specific charge against Miguel Concepcion, Manuel Nieto and those associated with them is that they obtained $50,000 by fraud from the Aparri branch of the Philippine Natioonal bank.

Russian Relief Put Up to Conference

GENEVA, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) — Recommendation that the Assembly of the League of Nations appeal to its members for credits to Russia will not be made by the Russian relief committee, it was announced here today. The matter of securing funds for Russia and the organization of relief measures will be left entirely to the conference to be held in Brussels soon, and to welfre reorganization.

When the Assembly opened this morning M'Lle Kristine Bonnevie of Norway took the floor and said she had received full power to sign the new white slave trade convention.

"Dolly Mason," Zeh Prevost for Hightower Trial

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

REDWOOD CITY, Sept. 29.—Subpenas were issued here today for "Dolly Mason," alias Mrs. H. Gross, alias Bertha Grossman, and Zeh Prevost, a show girl, to appear and testify as defense witnesses in the trial of William A. Hightower, accused of the murder of Father Patrick E. Heslin, Colma priest. The trial is scheduled to begin Monday.

"Dolly Mason" was said in statements by Hightower to have told him that "a foreigner" admitted to her that he had killed the priest. She has been sought since Hightower's arrest.

Zeh Prevost is a prosecution witness in the case of Roscoe C. ("Fatty") Arbuckle, facing trial on a manslaughter charge in San Francisco in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe. Her alleged interest in the Hightower case has not been made public.

Official Is Charged With Seeking Bribes

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Charged with attempting to obtain bribes, E. G. Rickmeier, assistant chief of the income tax unit of the bureau of internal revenue, and Garnett Underwood, a local insurance man, were arrested today by agents of the government on the order of Commissioner of Internal Revenue David H. Blair.

Commissioner Blair declared that other charges of revealing confidential information and theft of government records would be lodged against the pair.

Rickmeier, with Garnett Underwood of Washington, agred to destroy the records of four personal tax assessments if they were paid $40,000 in each case, or $160,000 in all, a treasury statement today said.

The two men obtained information of pending assessments against taxpayers in Duluth, Minnesota; California, Oklahoma and Texas.

The information was communicated to the taxpayers with the suggestion that the matter could be fixed, and Underwood wrote the taxpayers and suggested meeting them, the statement said.

Lloyd George Would Delay Arms Meet

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—From a source close to Premier Lloyd George it was learned today that the premier may make a move to have the Washington conference on limitation of armaments postponed from November until next March.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The United States has received no intimation that leaders of the British government desire a postponement of the armament conference from November to March, it was said at the State Department today.

Insane Man Fights Constable; Kills Wife

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PASADENA, Sept. 29.—J. M. Short shot and killed his wife here today while grappling with Constable John C. Sosey, who called to arrest Short on a charge of insanity.

Sosey was serving a warrant that had been sworn to by Robert E. Lee, a son-in-law of Short, when Short drew a revolver. Sosey grappled with the man and the gun was discharged, the bullet killing Mrs. Short.

GUNMEN RAID WORKERS OF KERN OIL CO.

Armed Force Orders Staff From Water Plant Serving 750 Coalinga People; Men Lined Up Along Wall

Employee Blows Signal and Raiders Flee When Deputy Appears; Attacking Party Use Nine Unlighted Cars

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

COALINGA, Sept. 29.—Armed men, alleged to be striking oil field workers, raided the water plant of the Pacific Oil Company near here last night and ordered the employees to quit work at 7 o'clock today.

The raiders, led by one car with a searchlight, in nine unlighted automobiles, drove to the plant about 9.30, and menacing the employees with shotguns, ordered them outside and lined them up against the wall of the building.

One of the raiders then addressed the employees, telling them to close down the plant before morning.

One employee of the plant related that he blew a whistle, and when the motorcycle headlight of a deputy sheriff was seen on the highway, the raiders piled into their cars, reiterating threats and departed.

The plant, guarded by officers, was operating today. It supplies water to about 750 persons.

MIGRATION INTO FIELDS CONTINUES.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 29.—Little change showed on the surface of things in the strike of the oil fields workers here and at nearby fields now in the middle of its third week. Road guards continued to permit automobiles to pass unchallenged and also continued to report that machines were entering the fields, carrying capacity loads and returning manned only by their drivers.

The inference that strikebreakers were being thus brought in gradually, was unsupported by any activity that could be seen. A few of the smaller producers that continued to operate were reported to be laying off part of their men. They said they could get along with smaller crews.

While no open statement of discontent could be heard, some of the strikers were very generally reported to be anxious to return to work and to let the settlement of any questions between them and their employers be taken up while the wages were coming in again. None, however, had broken away, and the strike leaders gave no indication of any change of policy.

Bean sandwiches and coffee, served from a little counter in the lathe room of a garage adjoining the Labor Temple here, formed the staples of the diet of many strikers today. Some of the men, who are without funds and have not yet received strike benefits, line up regularly for their allotments. Others come in once or twice a day. The strikers still preserve an air of determination, but many of them are plainly showing the worry of the long period of uncertainty that they are passing through.

SHERIFF MUST KEEP ORDER, GOVERNOR SAYS.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—Governor W. D. Stephens has issued the following statement concerning the strike situation in Kern county:

"I have received a comprehensive report on the strike situation in Kern county from my secretary, Martin Madsen, whom I sent to investigate. I have already said in a previous statement that it is the duty of the district attorney and the sheriff to maintain law and order in Kern county. They have ample authority under the law and will do their duty. The law must be upheld and respected in every particular. I have nothing further to say at this time."

The Governor is scheduled to leave here early tomorrow for Turlock, where he will be a guest at a barbecue. On Saturday he will attend the Fresno county fair in Fresno and will be accompanied by Alden Anderson, former lieutenant-governor.

Baker Nabbed On Short-Weight Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Declaring that an unlawful profit of about $31.20 a day is being made by shortweighting bread in the Latin quarter, where the purchasers for the most part are poor people, James A. Hughes chief deputy sealer of weights and measures, obtained a warrant today for the arrest of Robert Fambrini, a baker of 1624 Powell street.

Fambrini, arrested twice last year on similar charges, runs the White Baking company at 1642 Powell street. Hughes charges that Fambrini has been making a practice of selling his loaves two, three and four ounces shortweight, and that he makes 2500 loaves a day. This would mean that the material saved by the alleged shortweighting would be sufficient for 312 loaves.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—The Southern Pacific company reported to the police and sheriff's office this afternoon that 450 tramps had seized a freight train north of the city and were threatening the train crew and ordering that all possible speed be made in reaching Los Angeles.

A force of 150 police officers and deputy sheriffs arranged to meet the train outside the city and round up the vagrants. The officers prepared for a pitched battle with the tramps, if necessary.

Baby Left on Highway Badly Bitten by Ants

YELLING lustily with pain caused by biting ants and insects, a baby of six months attracted the attention of a passing motorist on the Foothill boulevard and won for itself a bed today in the county hospital at San Leandro. There is no clew as to the parents of the child and the hospital is without information as to the identity of the man who brought it in.

The baby, according to the report made to the police today by hospital authorities, was found Tuesday beside the boulevard. It was crying and in distress. At the hospital it was found to be covered with bites. Today the little boy is recovered from the effects of the experience and is apparently as happy as if he knew his name and address.

Broker Shot by Bandit, Woman Companion Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—William K. Bowes, department manager for the S. W. Strauss company, stock and bond brokers, is at St. Mary's Hospital suffering bullet wounds which may result in his death. He was taken to the hospital last night by Miss Hazel Barber, 511 Ninth avenue, who told the police that while the machine was parked in St. Francis Wood a robber stepped up to her side of the car and, covering her and Bowes with a gun, asked if she had any money.

When she replied in the negative, she said, he pulled her from the machine and attempted to search her. In the meantime Bowes got out of the car and came upon the bandit from behind.

In a scuffle which lasted several minutes the highwayman fired five shots, Miss Barber told the police, one of which struck Bowes in the right hip and another in the mouth, lodging at the base of his skull. Bowes fell to the ground and the robber took $20 and his victim's watch.

According to Miss Barber's statement to the police, the robber lost his hat in the scuffle and evidentaly feared it would be a means of identifying him, whereupon he began a frantic search for it in the darkness. While he was so engaged Miss Barber assisted Bowes into the car and drove away. She took Bowes direct to St. Mary's Hospital, where she telephoned the police. Men were rushed to the scene to search through the woods, but could find no trace of the bandit.

Body of Young Woman Found in Roll of Papers

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Detectives today were trying to trace a couple known as Mr. and Mrs. Boulanger, who it is believed lived for several days, unwittingly, in a room where the body of a young woman friend—murdered—had been stored. The body, packed away in newspapers, was found last night in an unused closet of a lodging house room the couple had occupied. A cloth gag had been tied into the woman's mouth with a white stocking.

The date of one of the newspapers, September 21, is believed to fix the date of the murder. The Boulangers did not quit the room until last Monday—four days later. Other lodgers said they thought the Boulangers had gone to Montreal.

The murdered woman was known at the lodging house only as "Mrs. Fay." The proprietor told the police "Mr. Fay" left the house last Thursday saying "Mrs. Fay" had fallen ill and he had removed her to a hospital. He is being sought in connection with her death.

Flowers Showered On Accused 'Healer'

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—Roses were strewn in the path of Isaiah Cudney, alleged faith healer, known as "Brother Isaiah," when he appeared in a township justice court here today to answer a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Mrs. Mary S. Dunbar of Pomona, whom he was said to have treated by "the laying on of hands." It was charged he fractured several bones in her body and that death resulted from his ministrations.

It was estimated by officers that fully 1000 of his followers threw flowers before him as he walked to the courtroom for his hearing.

Texas Man Tarred and Beaten by Maskers

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 29.—J. D. Jeans was taken from a hotel by a band of unmasked men during the night and given a coat of tar and feathers and a severe beating, he told police today. Janes said he had been warned to leave Austin, but did not know why.

IRISH PEACE MEET ASKED FOR OCT. 11TH

Premier Lloyd George in Note to De Valera Adheres to British Conditions; Invites Another Parley in London

"We Feel That Conference, Not Correspondence, Most Hopeful Way of Understnding," Declares Premier

LONDON, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press)—Leaders of the Irish Sinn Fein have been invited to take part in a conference in this city on October 11 in a note despatched to Eamonn de Valera by Prime Minister Lloyd George. This communication was despatched early today, and was considered to be the British government's final word in the exchange of messages between London and Dublin.

Lloyd George informed De Valera, however, that the British government could not alter its fundamental position, which was vital to the empire's existence. This position was that Ireland could not be allowed to separate from the British empire, but must base her proposition upon self-government of the sisterhood of British dominions.

RENEWS OFFER FOR ANOTHER PEACE PARLEY.

Lloyd George, however, renewed the offer of a conference "with a view to ascertaining how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British empire may best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations," proposing London as the place and October 11 as the date.

De Valera, it is pointed out here, has already agreed to confer on the question of the association of Ireland with the empire, but has reiterated the decision of the Dail Eireann that its negotiators would consider themselves representatives of an independent country.

Thus the view held in some quarters here is that the Sinn Fein can now accept Lloyd George's invitation without abandoning its own standpoint.

IRISH BASIS FOR PARLEY NOT ACCEPTED.

GAIRLOCH, Scotland, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press)—The text of Prime Minister Lloyd George's reply to the latest note from Eamonn de Valera, which was despatched to Dublin early today, follows:

"Sir: His Majesty's government has given close and earnest consideration to the correspondence which has passed between us since their invitation to you to send delegates to a conference at Inverness.

"In spite of their sincere desire for peace, and, in spite of the more conciliatory tone of your latest communications, they cannot enter into a conference upon the basis of this correspondence.

"Notwithstanding your personal assurance to the contrary, which they must appreciate, it might be argued in the future that the acceptance of a conference on this basis had involved them in a recognition which no British government can accord. On this point they must guard themselves against any possible doubt. There is no purpose to be served by any further interchange of explanatory and argumentative communications upon this subject. The position taken up by His Majesty's government is fundamental to the existence of the British Empire and they cannot alter it.

CONFERENCE, NOT CORRESPONDENCE, SOUGHT

"My colleagues and I remain, however, keenly anxious to make, in co-operation with your delegates, another determined effort to explore every possibility of a settlement by personal discussion.

"The proposals which we have already made have been taken by the whole world as proof that our endeavors for reconciliation and settlement are no empty form, and we feel that conference, not correspondence, is the most practical and hopeful way to an understanding such as we ardently desire to achieve. We send, therefore, herewith a fresh invitation to a conference in London on October 11, where we can meet your delegates as the spokesmen of the people whom you represent, with a view to ascertaining how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British empire may be best reconciled with Irish national aspirations.

"I am, sir,
"Yours faithfully,
"D. LLOYD GEORGE"

IRISH LEADERS AGREEABLY SURPRISED BY WORDING.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—The reply of Prime Minister Lloyd George to Eamonn de Valera was received at the Mansion House here at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. It was read by De Valera and Arthur Griffith, foreign minister in the Dail cabinet, who was there awaiting it.

A reply may be drafted today and placed before the Dail cabinet, which will meet tomorrow.

The Sinn Fein leaders were agreeably surprised by the wording of Lloyd George's reply, and one member of the Dail cabinet, who saw it, expressed the view that the public confidence in the conference being held was justified.

A Dail minister said this afternoon: "The reply certainly is better than we expected."

CIVILIAN KILLED IN DUBLIN CLASH.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—A conflict between civilians and police in Tipperary last night resulted in the death of one civilian and the wounding of two other civilians and two policemen, it was announced in an official report from Dublin Castle today. Liaison officers are holding an inquiry into the incident.

First Bread Line Since Beginning of War Opens in N. Y.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—New York's first bread line since beginning of the world war was in operation today at the Church of St. Mark in the Bowery.

The bread line was opened last night under the direction of Dr. William N. Guthrie, rector, as a result of conferences last week with Urbain Ledoux, champion of the unemployed.

About 600 men, many of whom raced from the benches in Bryant Park to be first in line were fed. Dormitories have been opened in the chapel and about 150 men slept there last night.

Despite the opening of the bread line and the chapel sleeping quarters, members of the Industrial Aid Bureau, established to help the unemployed, reiterated that unemployment conditions here had been overpainted. It was pointed out that the municipal lodging house and other agencies where jobless men can get food and shelter in exchange for two hours' work were running far below capacity.

Newberry Given Seat, But Scored Hard by Minority

Republicans and Democrats Agree On Only One Thing: Ford Was Not Elected.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Opinions conflicting along party lines were presented today by majority and minority members of the Senate privileges and elections committee on the Ford-Newberry 1918 senatorial election contest from Michigan.

The majority report cleared Senator Truman H. Newberry, the Republican candidate, of corruption and all other charges, and recommended that he be legally seated. The Democratic members on the contrary, asserted that Senator Newberry was elected by "corrupt and illegal methods and practices," and recommended that his seat be declared vacant.

With filing of reports the case now goes to the Senate for final decision, which will probably not be made for several weeks. In the meantime, it is said, Senator Newberry will not attend the Senate sessions.

AGREE THAT FORD WAS NOT ELECTED.

On only two major issues were the Republicans and Democrats in harmony in the reports filed today. They agreed that Henry Ford, the Democratic contestant, had not been elected and was not entitled to the seat from Michigan. They also agreed that too much money had been spent in the Michigan primary. The minority, however, indicated Newberry was responsible personally for the expenditures, while the Republicans held he was not. Recommendations of the majority report, submitted by Senator Spencer, Republican, who conducted the committee investigation and recount, were:

"1.—That the contest of Henry Ford against Truman H. Newberry be, and it is hereby, dismissed.

"2.—That Truman H. Newberry is hereby declared to be a duly elected Senator from the State of Michigan for the term of six years, commencing on the 4th day of March, 1919.

"3.—That his qualification for a seat in the Senate of the United States to which he has been elected has been conclusively established and the charges made against him in this proceeding, both as to his election and qualification, are not sustained."

NEWBERRY SCORED BY MINORITY REPORT.

Conclusions of the minority, presented by Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, and signed also by Senators King, Utah and Ashurst, Arizona, were:

"First — That the irregularities complained of do not relate to the general election, but to the primary. Henry Ford did not receive a plurality of the votes cast at the general election. We therefore find that the petitioner, Henry Ford, was not elected, and is not entitled to a seat in the Senate of the United States.

"Second—We find that under the facts and circumstances of this case, corrupt and illegal methods and practices were employed at the primary election, and that Truman H. Newberry violated the corrupt practices act and the primary act of the State of Michigan, and that by reason thereof, he ought not to have or hold a seat in the Senate of the United States, and that he is not the duly elected Senator from the State of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1919, and we recommend, therefore, that his seat be declared vacant."

A separate minority report also was submitted by Senator Ashurst, who declared Senator Newberry's credentials were "stained by fraud and tainted by illegal expenditure of money." The testimony showed, he said, the 1918 Michigan campaign "partook more of the character of an auction than an election."

$140,000 Taken From Spain-America Mail

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Approximately $140,000 in gold and American currency has been stolen from the mails en route from Spain to the United States in a series of thefts that has extended over some weeks, it was learned here today.

Postoffic officials are now engaged in investigating the thefts, but beyond admitting that the money has disappeared and that an investigation is now in progress they would not discuss the matter.

DON'T DEBATE IS ORDER TO WORK BOARD

Fears Row Among Conferees If Fundamental Problems Are Dwelt On: Committee Week Ahead of Schedule

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. — A proposal that Charles G. Dawes, federal budget officer, be placed in charge of a nationwide road building and public program work was made to the unemployment conference today by William Hard, Washington economist and writer, who warned that past unemployment conferences have failed because no one has been designated to carry out their recommendations.

By HERBERT WALKER
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The national employment conference today had instructions from President Harding to confine its immediate labors to emergency recommendations for relief and not delve "too deeply" into the "big problems" underlying the nation's unemployment situation.

Harding's views were conveyed to conference leaders by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

The president has two reasons for his request. It was said:

The desire to have the conference find work for men "at once" instead of indulging in long debates.

The fear that discussion at this time of wage reductions, the railroad refunding issue and other fundamental problems, would cause a row among the conference delegates and possibly lead to a "break up" in the parley before it had accomplished results.

After the emergency measures for relief have been determined upon and tried out, the conference then has Harding's consent to "go the limit" toward tackling the deeper issues, it was understood.

Of special gratification to Harding and Hoover was the word that the sub-committees will be ready to submit "emergency" recommendations to the general conference tomorrow, nearly a week ahead of schedule.

Among the emergency recommendations agreed upon are:

That all projected state, city and county road and public works improvements be put under way immediately. The nation now has in the neighborhood of $800,000,000 worth of such projects, which already have been authorized and the bonds sold. This is exclusive of government projects.

That all cities of 25,000 or more immediately establish free employment agencies and drive out of business the "bleeders" among the private employment agencies.

That big employers who have been forced to discharge many of their employees inaugurate a "half time" system under which the remaining workers and those discharged could share in the payroll.

Oakland Held Up As State Example

Oakland's plan of furnishing work for unemployed men of families and the system established at the Oakland municipal woodyard, under W. S. Goodrich, were pointed out at the State conference on the unemployed in San Francisco today as examples for other cities to follow. The Oakland and Berkeley efforts, it was said, were the only evidence of any desire of municipalities to meet the situation.

The conference is studying the new Broughton Act and the reports of State officials, which show that a large amount of State construction work could be undertaken at once giving employment to hundreds. It also was shown that the round figures of reported unemployment include the number of unemployed who are not working by preference. In certain cities where the majority of workers are dependent upon one single manufactory which has curtailed production, the situation was reported as serious.

BUILDING HELPFUL.

Los Angeles and Oakland are pointed out as two examples of cities giving work to thousands of skilled workmen on account of building programs that are being undertaken. The Oakland situation was declared in some ways more remarkable than that in the south inasmuch as the shipyard contracts have been exhausted and thousands have left employment there.

In general the California cities were declared able to care for their own workmen. The warning is sounded lest outsiders, attracted by the better general conditions in the State and the fact that unemployment here is under the national rate, flock here and precipitate a crisis.

Alameda has an emergency fund of $10,000 in her budget, but anticipates no great influx of unemployed.

Eureka has a big unemployment problem already. The lumber companies are working only one crew and many are shutting down early. There is no work for outsiders.

Pasadena reported no unemployment among its own people, but an increasing number of itinerants.

San Bernardino "has done nothing," although a large number of workless are coming in from the East. They can take care of local unemployment, but not outsiders.

Stockton has done nothing. Manufacturing plants have cut down to a minimum, the harvest returns are small and the unemployed walking the streets.

BERKELEY HAS PLAN.

Berkeley is caring for her own unemployed in a scientific fashion. By ordering property owners to pay for the clearing of weeds at the rate of $2.50 a day, many local out-of-works have been given temporary relief. In this way many families have been saved from applying to the charities.

The cities are all looking to the State and nation to meet the problem of the itinerant jobless.

Under the Broughton Act, the State department of industrial relation is called upon to stimulate all possible extra work by the State and to co-ordinate relief work among the cities. Today's conference is held under the terms of this measure.

State Labor Commissioner John P. McLaughlin, in whose office the meeting is being held, presided.

Iowa Governor Asks Aid for Unemployed

DES MOINES, Sept. 29.—Governor N. E. Kendall issued a proclamation today appealing to the people of Iowa to exert every possible effort to relieve the unemployment situation in the state. He said there are fifty thousand men in the state, who with families to provide for are deprived of the ordinary means of substistence.

Five Big British Mines Will Close

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. — Five large collieries in Northern England have given notice that the mines will close in the near future, Withur J. Page, commercial attache at London, cabled yesterday. The properties include the Redheugh, Lintzgreen, Gatesfield, Ellington and Ravensworth.

The action of the mine owners, at*tributed* to the chaotic condition of the markets, has caused widespread distress among miners. Pake reported, as ther are already more than 50,000 unemployed miners in that section.

TO FEED ON DUCKS.

NEWMAN, Sept. 29.—A duck banquet is being planned for the next community dinner to be given by the Chamber of Commerce on October 18. The season will be in full blast by that time and it is expected that plenty of the toothsome birds will be bagged for the feast. A number of good outside speakers will be secured.

CONSOLIDATION IS DOOMED, CLUB IS TOLD AT MEETING

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Refusing to wait for a vote on the proposed city and county charter, steps have been taken by the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs, composed of representatives of civic organizations, for the formation of a public utility district of the Eastbay cities.

The water problem is proposed as the first question to be solved. That the consolidation charter is doomed to defeat and that valuable time should not be lost in getting the Eastbay cities together on another basis is the declaration of H. H. Gastman, chairman of the Affiliated Clubs' public utility committee.

NEW CHARTER DOOMED.

"We don't expect the new charter to go through and for that reason are not losing time in making our preliminary investigations," declares Gastman. "While we think city and county consolidation will be decisively beaten, we are of the opinion that the various Eastbay communities should get together in some other way to solve their mutual problems. The public utility district, in our opinion, is the only logical 'merger' which can be formed."

A preliminary report urging that steps be taken toward forming a utility district was submitted by a committee composed of Gastman, Christ Runckel and Robert Ingram at Tuesday night's meeting of the Affiliated Clubs. The recommendation of the committee that "the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs fire the opening gun in the campaign for a public utility district" was adopted.

Authorization of further work on the part of the committee looking forward to the ultimate calling of an election to place the issue before the voters was given. An investigation of the physical condition of the East Bay Water Company and conferences with representatives of other cities will form the immediate work of the committee.

New "Rushing" Plan At U. C. Is Adopted

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—"Rushing" of new students by fraternities as carried on at the present time will be discontinued as a result of a vote taken at an inter-fraternity conference yesterday.

Sentiment against pledging new students before they come to college and against elaborate parties for the neophytes was expressed by a large majority vote. Under plans now being made an "open" date will probably bet set when the "rushing" will be permitted.

The fraternities went on record yesterday as opposed to a "male Pan-Hellenic" body, refusing to follow the lead of the women in forming a central organization to control all fraternity affairs.

League of Nations Is Seen in New Light

GENEVA, Sept. 29.—Adjournment of the present Assembly of the League of Nations has been set for Tuesday, October 4. With the departure of the delegates, the world will see in the league a vastly different institution from that which its founders conceived and which the 1920 assembly experimentally endeavored to create.

Instead of a veritable superstate, imposing its authority upon all nations, the league is now recognized as a mere instrument to coordinate and make recommendations for international action. It recognizes itself to be completely without power or authority to impose these recommendations.

Church Women of Niles Open Bazaar

NILES, Sept. 29.—The bazaar to be staged by the women of St. Edward's Catholic church here will open tonight and will continue each evening, except Sunday, until Tuesday of next week. The bazaar is being staged as a means of raising funds for the church. Booths have been established at which everything from kewpie dolls to framed pictures of the saints will be sold. A grab pond and a booth where home cooked foods will be sold are the features of the bazaar.

Civic Leaders of Eastbay Enroll to Fight Charter

segregate and divide our rapidly growing and developing county, but would open the way for the largest political machine we have ever known.

"I am satisfied that the proponents of the charter are not urging it to lower the taxes. I have not heard them make any such claim. And I am satisifled that there is some other motive and am afraid that they have not yet pointed out the real significance and the real mystery in the charter.

CHARTER MEANS TURNING PROGRESS BACKWARD.

"This charter means not going forward, but backward. If it means anything it means a division and not a consolidation. It does not make for the development of our city. It is unfair to the taxpayers to presume upon those not acquainted with the facts.

"I submit that this proposal for consolidation which means division is the most artistically camouflaged form of government ever offered to and American community. I believe it is my duty to take part in a campaign, in an organization, to go out and defeat the proposal at the first election."

The speaker called attention to the fact that Oakland pays 65 per cent of the county taxes and absorbs more than that amount and asked what, then, Oakland had to gain. "This absolutely will divide Alameda county into three or four parts," he said. We are asked to go into the county business, to have a whole colony of counties grouped in the bay section.

BITTER ANIMOSITIES WILL BE CREATED.

"The movement as proposed will create animosities, it will drive Berkeley, Alameda and the outside townships away from us. It will create mischief and, more than that, will erect barriers that may not be removed within a hundred years. When once Alameda and Berkeley are separated from us do you see how impossible will be any future actions that should require cohesion of the communities on this side of the bay?

"I challenge the proponents of the plan to prove that there would be any savings in taxes. They undertake to set up a political oligarchy with one man a great political dictator."

Another point brought out to show how Oakland is benefiting from the present system was shown in the figures that this city furnishes 85 per cent of the indigents who are cared for by the county and, in its proportion, pays less than 85 per cent of the costs.

"MOST DANGEROUS PROPOSITION OFFERED."

The speaker concluded with this declaration:

"I believe that this is the most dangerous proposition ever offered the people of Oakland in the 27 years I have been here. If it is defeated at the first election it will be an end to the expense. I believe that it should be defeated and that the best interests of Oakland and of all of the communities in Alameda county demands the defeat at the first election."

"Emeryville has always held a friendly feeling toward Oakland and Oakland merchants," said Mayor W. H. Christie of that city, "but we do not look kindly upon this plan to force us into a consolidation. We have made certain promises, moral obligations to concerns that have built up manufactories in our city, and if we are made to join with Oakland, to adopt the new county tax rate, we will not be able to carry out our word."

PIEDMONT VIEWS ARE TOLD BY MAYOR.

The Piedmont view was expressed by Mayor Oliver Ellsworth, who said:

"Piedmont, under the law, has not much to say regarding our own destiny, but we stand ready to help Oakland, and Oakland ought to defeat this charter. The fundamental defect in the charter law is that it makes Oakland the only essential city. Nothing should have been done until it could have been possible to amend the amendment so that Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley are designated as essential cities, and any plan for consolidation, to be put into effect, must carry in all three of the main cities on the Eastbay."

"The people who framed the charter," said L. B. Magoon, "nurse the illusion that they can drive the people far apart on one issue and herd them together on another. They admit that the alternative will divide the county. What then about the question of public utilities? There are many questions coming before this whole community for settlement and among them the water problem. If we do not acquire the water supply the water company will do so.

WATER ISSUE IS TOUCHED UPON.

The notice has been served and permission has been asked for a $65,000,000 bond issue that the private company may go out and develop the source of our water supply. The company figures on the people of the cities here doing nothing, and they will be doubly sure of our doing nothing if they can split us apart by new county lines and by barriers of ill-feeling. I am against placing the half million people of the Eastbay at the mercy of a privately-owned utility."

Declaring that he represented a considerable sentiment in Berkeley, George Stoddard said that he was for a separate county of Berkeley, and would work to the ends of dividing Alameda county that this could be brought about.

President Gibson announced that the executive committee would be appointed at once and that no time would be lost in putting the league in the field as a working organization.

CHOIR TO REHEARSE.

RICHMOND, Sept. 29.—The regular rehearsal of the Boys' Community choir will be held this evening at the First Christian church at 7:30. V. D. Brammer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announces that he still needs a number of boys in the choir.

LABOR WON'T WIN BRITISH ELECTION STATES EDITOR

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 29.—Lord Northcliffe, British publisher, meeting with labor leaders here, told them he did not believe the labor party could win the next British elections. He warned against carrying out a proposal to establish a chain of daily labor papers.

Prohibition never will be adopted in England, he told the labor men.

W. M. Hughes, Australian premier, declared that an election in England on the Irish question is inevitable.

The government announced that a delegate now is en route from France to arrange details of an Australian-French reciprocal tariff.

Germany May Seize Ex-Kaiser's Property

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The independent socialist party yesterday introduced in the reichstag a bill aiming at the elimination of the last vestiges of monarchistic Germany. The main clause provides that all the property of former Emperor William and the former German princess shall be confiscated.

Siskiyou County Opens Annual Fair

YREKA, Sept. 29.—With the new exhibit buildings filled with the orchard, farm and garden products of the county, Siskiyou county's annual fair was opened here Tuesday to continue for five days. Horse racing is a daily feature on the new half-mile track. The livestock exhibit is housed in a separate building. Horses, cattle, hogs and sheep on display there serve to show the county's importance as a stock raising district.

WAGE REDUCTION AT MARE ISLAND STANDS, IS ORDER

Secretary Denby Tells Civilian Employees Economy Is Order of Congress.

Hundreds of civilian employees at the Mare Island navy yard and at the headquarters of twelfth naval district who have hoped to see a reversal of the recent decision of the naval department in Washington to cut their wages, saw their hopes blasted yesterday when Secretary of the Navy Denby refused to consider a plea to modify the decision. The decision affects 68,000 civilian employees of the naval department throughout the United States.

The first reduction in wages paid civilian employees of the naval department came when the war time bonus was discontinued The bonus amounted to approximately twenty per cent

The next reduction came when the naval department decided to place all naval stations and yards on a five-day week basis This order employees point out, brought a drop of nearly 16 per cent in their wages The new schedule of pay reduces the wages of all employees from 10 to 20 per cent

In a report sent out to all employees by their representatives at Washington, Secretary Denby is quoted as having said·

"I regret more than I can tell that this decrease in salaries was necessary. If I had my own way, nobody would suffer The funds granted by congress are too limited to pay you men the present wage scale, and the department is forced to practice the most rigid economy The navy department is doing the best it can for everybody, but economy is necessary I cannot grant a stay of execution I shall not hear further evidence The economy measure is mandatory. If you cannot see it in the proper light, I will help you to see it. I am all done. The order does"

ATLANTA, Ga, Sept 29—Location of six of the nine free hospitals for crippled children which the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine are to establish at a cost of $2,000,000, have been decided upon by the trustees Among the institutions are those to be erected at San Francisco and Portland, Oregon, at a cost of $200,000 each

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

A TRIBUNE reader recently sent the following letter to the Information Bureau

"About three months ago a bill was introduced in congress providing for the owners of mining claims being relieved from doing the annual assessment work for the year 1921 and also that the ending of each year for doing such work should be changed to July 1 instead of December 31. Will you kindly state for TRIBUNE readers whether or not this bill ever passed, and if not what is its present status?"

By special act an extension of six months was given to miners to complete their assessment work. Owners of mining claims were given until July 1 1921, to complete 1920 work No permanent change of dates was made The land office knows of no recent bill on the subject

Another query that came in recently was as follows

"How may I obtain the address of the Ellison White Chautauqua Company?"

"Captain Kidd" asks about a motion picture school which he has seen advertised The name of this institution is the Apex Motion Picture Studio and it is located at 2161 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley Other information may be secured at this address

Queries with relation to motion picture subjects should be addressed Motion Picture Editor, The TRIBUNE

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 8 a m to 9 p. m

fth Judge Drops Tulare Water Suit

ISALIA. Sept. 29.—Superior dge Peter J. Shields, of Sacra- nto, yesterday notified local attor- s that he considered himself disqualified to sit on the case of the Tulare Irrigation District against Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District, which has been delayed five years awaiting a trial judge. Judge Shields said Mrs. Shields' nephew lives in Lindsay and owns property in the defendant district.

Shields is the fifth judge to be called to hear the case. Judge Wallace of Tulare county was disqualified by the appellate court after having decided the case for the plaintiff; Judge Kinsell of Alameda county declined because of illness; Judge Finch of Willows was promoted to the appellate bench; Judge Seawell of Sonoma county declined to sit on the case because he had relatives in Lindsay.

A further attempt to secure a trial judge for the case will be made, it was said. The case involves the right of the defendant district to take 75 feet of water from the Kaweah river basin to irrigate 16,000 acres of citrus land near Lindsay and Strathmore.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

BRUNSWICK QUALITY FASCINATES

Tone, the great essential in any phonograph, is fascinatingly beautiful in all models of the Brunswick. Splendid in volume and startlingly natural, it gratifies all hearers.

Brunswick special features—the molded wooden amplifying chamber, the improved and more powerful motor—make a better, a more pleasing phonograph.

Then the ULTONA, that splendid patented device, which plays perfectly the records of all makers and all artists, makes the Brunswick an universal phonograph.

The Style 110, pictured above, is the most delightful of the smaller models. The price, $150 on terms. Your name on this ad brings catalogs and terms.

It took YEARS and YEARS to develop CAMEL QUALITY

We worked on Camels for years before we put them on the market. Years of testing—blending—experimenting with the world's choicest tobaccos.

And now, EVERY DAY, all our skill, manufacturing experience and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos are concentrated on making Camel the best cigarette that can be produced.

That's why Camel popularity is growing faster than ever.

'ABSENT' SPEEDER SUSPECT ROUSES ANGER OF COURT

F. F. Pearson of Oakland Is Ordered Arrested and Bail Is Fixed At $250.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—A second bench warrant was issued by Police Judge Weinmann this morning for F. F. Pearson, 458 Hobart street, Oakland, on a charge of speeding. Pearson was arrested by Policeman George Gray several weeks ago. He failed to put in an appearance on the day his case was called and Judge Weinmann issued a bench warrant and set his bail at $50. When Pearson appeared last Thursday he claimed only to have $10 and demanded a jury trial under the claim that he had not been speeding. Judge Weinmann allowed him to go on the $10 bail with orders to appear before a jury this morning. When the case was called Pearson was absent and the police were unable to get in touch with him.

Others, who appeared before the Judge on a charge of speeding this morning were Hazel Folendorf, 21, of Lodi, whose case was continued one week; A. Larrison, of San Francisco, and H. A. Clark, 2607 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, who were each fined $10.

Scholarships Honor Late Dorothy Todd

BERKELEY, Sept. 28.—In honor of the memory of Miss Dorothy Todd, former student at the University, two scholarships have been established by the Girls' Reserve of the Young Women's Christian Association composed of high school students.

One scholarship has been established in the University of California and the other in the University of Arizona. The former was awarded this semester to Miss Margaret Yeamen of Berkeley.

Both scholarships, which are planned to be made perpetual at the rate of $250 per year each, will be awarded to deserving high school students ready to start their first year's work in the university. Miss Todd was a graduate of Berkeley high school and attended the university with the calss of 1922 until ill health forced her to discontinue her studies. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sroority.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton Todd of Berkeley, Miss Toddwas a member of a pioneer family of the colleeg city. She was a niece of Miss Annie Wodall, principal of the Longfellow school.

The schoarships were estabished in recognition of Miss Todd's activities with the Y. W. C. A. and her wide work in the field of social service.

U. C. Military Band Will Give Concert

BERKELEY, Sept. 28.—California's R. O. T. C. band will be featured when the student musicians hold their first concert and dance in Harmon gymnasium next month. The members of the college military band feel that they do not have any opportunity to display their musical ability to proper advantage at the rallies and in the bleachers at football games. The purpose of the concert will be to show that the sixty-piece band can play good music, and to raise funds for the purchase of new instruments.

Health Center To Be Aided By Performance

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29. — The Players' Club of Oakland is to stage a performance in Alameda November 5 in aid of the Alameda Health Center, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Beulah Spunn, executive secretary of the center.

The affair is to be sponsored by the Health Center and the Parent-Teachers Association of Alameda. Mrs. Powell, president of the Porter School Parent-Teacher Association, is chairman of the committee of arrangements

Charge of Passing Check Is Dismissed

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—The charge against E. G. Campbell, Alameda real estate man, of passing a fictitious check for $5, was dismissed this morning by Police Judge L. R. Weinmann. Campbell was charged with having passed the check on A. C. Gillett, groceryman, at 1800 Santa Clara avenue. The check was on a Berkeley bank and was returned marked "No funds."

Broken Bottles add to cost of Milk

Every time a milk bottle is broken it has to be paid for. That's plain.

How many broken bottles do you see on sidewalks?

If you put your empty bottles in a reasonably safe place where they can be easily collected you are helping to keep down the price of milk.

If you see children wrecking milk bottles why not talk sensibly to them? Show them their folly.

Thousands of bottles are stolen or broken each month.

This is waste that can be largely prevented.

Do your share. Records show that more than one bottle in a hundred is destroyed. Good judgment on your part will save much of this expense.

Alameda Elks to Dazzle Guests With Annual Oriental Jinks

Miss Nell Quill to Give Dance of the Far East With Oriental Trimmings

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—When the lights are flashed on at the Elks' club Friday night the spectators will have to look twice in order to convince themselves that they are not in the streets of Cairo or in old Bagdad. And it is not the intention of the Elks' committee to let them lose the illusion for the place is to be stocked more full of Oriental atmosphere than the Orient itself. Chinese and Hindu trimmings, Egyptian music and Persian refreshments are to be the order of the evening. The affair is the annual Oriental jinks of the Alameda Elks.

The star attraction of the evening, however, will be the presentation of a special Oriental dance by Miss Nell Quill. The music for this event, as well as for the dancing, will be furnished by the Elks' orchestra under the direction of Russell Franck.

The committee having charge of the Oriental jinks consists of Ad Bruner, chairman; E. R. Simonson, G. W. Hall, L. W. Allen, H. M. Strauss, William Tardiff and A. C. Stewart.

Impromptu Circus Closed by Police

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—Dave Allen, George Anderson, Dave Cohen, Noval Fults and Jack Wagner heard that a circus was coming to town, so they started to practice up the events that the acrobats will probably perform. They selected for their "big top" a two-story building in course of construction in Webb avenue. They were performing all sorts of hair raising stunts on the upper rafters and roof tree when residents saw them and reported their activities to the police.

SCOUT DRIVE IS LACKING $3000

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—The Boy Scout drive has netted a total of $3980, which is $3000 short of the required $7000 which the boys are seeking. It is expected that a great part of this will be made up before 12 o'clock Saturday night, when the drive closes.

One of the main money making events in the campaign will be the moving picture show today by students in the high school. A similar show is also being staged in the auditorium of the Porter school.

The Boy Scouts' court of honor met last night and Harold Elrod was promoted to second class and Roy Havens and Henry Timm were advanced to first class ranks. Merit badges were awarded Albert Paulson, Everett Sprague, Herman E. Cellarius, John Meldrum, Everett Neumiller and Pablo Gutierrez. The court of honor is composed of Dr. George C. Thompson, A. G. Dexter and Edward Albert. They were assisted by Scout Master K. R. Cunningham and Quartermaster E. H. Levy.

Skull Is Injured By Shaft of Pump

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29. — Jack Sweeny, 736 Buena Vista avenue, was knocked unconscious and probably received a fractured skull yesterday afternoon while adjusting an electrical pump in a sewer being constructed by the city in Atlantic avenue. The pump had gone out of commission and Sweeny had been called to put it back in working order. While he was in the ditch the machinery started up and he was struck by a line shaft on the side of the head. He was taken to the Emergency hospital and given first aid treatment, later being removed to his home.

6000 THRILLED BY MISS FARRAR IN 'BUTTERFLY'

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

Geraldine Farrar, "Madame Butterfly" and "Un bel di vedremo" are as inextricably identified with each other in the American mind as is a certain brand of soap and the fact that it floats or a certain ex-president and "May I not—" Think of Puccini's opera and immediately you will think of La Geraldine. Think of La Geraldine and immediately you will think of "Unbel do" Thank the phonograph for it, of course, but admit the fact.

Last night she sang it to the largest box office receipts ever taken for grand opera in America—according to the management of the present Scotti opera season in San Francisco—more than 6300 persons, more than $30,000 in receipts. That is testimonial aplenty to the fame of Miss Farrar—aided and abetted by the phonograph.

Geraldine Farrar has set a standard for Butterfly that is difficult to excel. It is at once the most obvious and the most subtle part in the repertoire she has given us. It is obvious because John Luther Long's play fixed the part in its chief elements as it should be forever. It is subtle because from beginning to end she has refined upon the Long characterization. She has even refined upon Puccini's own version, for instance, at the end she refuses the melodramatic if spectacular crawl across the stage to beside her little boy. That was refinement for which we were infinitel glad. We have watched that stupid writhing often enough.

ENTHRALLING TONES.

Miss Farrar sang the part, too, better than she has sung before this season. Her voice was never uncertain as it was in 'Tosca' or occasionally vague as in 'Zaza.' The duet with Charles Hackett in the first act tested her, but she came through with colors flying. The 'Un bel di" was sung with vividness, power, emotional truth—all those fascinations that belong to the Farrar voice. None who has loved her for the record would have loved her less in the vocal flesh.

Hackett was liked from the beginning. It's a dog's part—in the feminine opinion particularly—but he was a figure to win it a hearing and he has a voice to make it tonally enjoyable too. The voice is light, but there are few of purer texture or more color. It is no flaggolet tenor this, but a man's voice. His phrasing is as perfect as one could wish, his enunciation clear. He knows how to use his voice, too, with suavity, ease, an occasional brilliancy where brilliancy is needed.

SCOTTI IN FINE VOICE.

Antonio Scotti's masterful baritone was at our service in Sharpless' part. Fine old fellow, Sharpless, fine old fellow, Scotti, far yet from the sere and yellow. Alwa s his singing has authority behind it. It is so obvious that he knows how to singg and that he must have known for a long, long time. There was no questioning the merit of Alice Gentle's Suzuki. She sang the part 'conamore," both for it and for Butterfly. The dash of passion in her outburst in the last act was excellently placed. Her voice was equal to it, with no harshness but with the same good quality and clearness of tone production that were previously noticeable. Angelo Bada made Goro less a clown than is usually done, he even sang the part, which is equally rare. The Bonze wass more satisfactorily sung by Paolo Ananian than I have ever heard it. There was all of the outraged ancestral pride that belongs in the part and which should drive a man to forget the dignity with which the part is always and indefensibly acted.

Between acts one liked to watch the audience in the theater as well as in the foyer. It was the smartest audience the season has yet attracted. There was more of it, in the first place, and it seemed to comport better with the occasion. For instance, I overheard it talking between acts about the opera instead of about Spanish drapes or the day's movements in Con Virginia. But the chief joy for the Eastbay onlooker was to see the 11:40 and 12 o'clock boats crowded again with folk from the same opera house. It was wholesouled co-operation we afforded San Francisco in the making of that record-breaking audience.

SALVATION ARMY FESTIVAL.

A Harvest Festival will be held at the Scandinavian branch of the Salvation Army, 1305 Harrison street, Saturday evening. There will be music and refreshments will be served.

Examinations For Stenographers Set

The civil service board has called an examination on October 6 for junior stenographers, waiving the residence clause because of the present lack of applicants for stenographic positions in the city government. Applications for the examination must be made immediately. Under the new city schedule, the position pays $90 per month for the first year, $100 for the second, $110 for the third, and $125 for the fourth

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. However in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at one dollar. Or if preferable, they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after effects.—Advertisement.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ringworm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize wornout exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.—Advertisement.

RANCHER DIES AS AUTO OVERTURNS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—Thomas Dean, prominent rancher of Yuba City, received fatal injuries late last night when an automobile in which he was riding overturned after a collision with another machine on the Yolo Causeway, seven miles from Sacramento. Sheriff B. B. Hanaford of Sutter county and Mrs. G. W. Newbel of Yuba City, also in the car, received slight injuries. Five occupants of the second machine suffered minor injuries.

"Y" Roundup Plans Discussed At Lunch

All foremen of outfits in the Y. M. C. A. fall "round-up" met at luncheon yesterday to see that all of the punchers from the various ranches would be ready to round up members in the greatest membership efforts the local association ever has made.

Sheriff "Silver Bill" (Nat Friend), "Sequoia" (John Cwilt), boss of the round-up, and all the captains were present and reported their men "rarin' to go."

C. E. Mason, membership secretary, reported that it is possible for the "Y" to take care of at least 3,000 members. The present membership is 2,000.

D. C. Lyon, president, stated there should be an increase of 800 men and 200 boys.

TECHNICAL HIGH PLANS CARNIVAL

As the day of the Technical High School carnival draws nearer the students participating declare the stunts and concessions will rival those of any other year.

The vaudeville, in charge of Betty McKalip, will begin at 2:30 and last an hour. The acts include a musical comedy with Dolores Flashman, well known for her fancy dancing, as the star. Irene Reynard, Beatrice Woodhull, Ed. Fitzpatrick and Harold Liestner promise a musical skit, while Lovelle Rupert will sing. Clinton Davison will present a skit called "Three Dusky Musketeers."

At four o'clock there is to be a dance open to all students and their friends.

This entertainment takes the place of the freshman reception. The receipts will be given to the football team and the school treasury, thus eliminating all pay assemblies for the rest of this term.

S. F. SCIENTIST WILL EXPLORE CARIBBEAN SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Under the direction of the California Academy of Sciences a party of scientists will leave here the latter part of November to explore the Caribbean sea and its environs. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Barton Warren Evermann, director of the museum, California Academy of Sciences. The expedition will be led by F. M. Anderson, a member of the academy and an authority on geology.

The party will make a scientific study of the stratified and other rocks bordering on the Caribbean sea to the north and south, and will study the continuation of the San Andreas rift, along which the earthquake disturbances of 1906 in California occurred.

The expedition will occupy the entire winter. The expenses of the survey will be met by private contributions.

MOOSE TO GIVE BENEFIT PLAY

Much interest is being taken in the play, "Are You a Moose?" which will be given at the Auditorium theater, Tuesday evening, October 4, under the auspices of Oakland Lodge of Moose. The proceeds will go toward the fund for the furnishing of the new clubhouse of the lodge, recently purchased at a cost of $250,000. Included in the cast will be Rupert Drum, Robert Lawrence, Al Cunningham, Mattie Hyde, Estelle Warfield, May Reynolds and others.

The theater party is in charge of the following committee: W. J. Baccus, chairman; A. B. Moffitt, W. J. Hamilton, I. H. Spiro, H. R. Elder, A. J. Donovan, W. R. Pritchard, W. F. Gibson, W. E. Harvent, E. D. Sugden, M. V. Cassidy, C. D. Gadsden, Lee Bertillion, R. N. Willitts, W. J. L'Heureaux, J. E. Cone, E. Alvers, A. Vander Naillen and A. J. Crawford.

BOWMAN'S BAY RUM AND WITCH HAZEL FOR 23¢

In our "Specials" today you will notice Bay Rum and Witch Hazel selling at 23c. We would advise all men who shave themselves to secure a bottle of this splendid after-shaving preparation. Our usual price is 35c—we are selling it tomorrow and Saturday for 23c.

CASTOR OIL THAT CHILDREN WILL TAKE

If you have any difficulty in getting the children to take castor oil we would suggest that you try Bowman's Aromatic Castor Oil. This preparation does not have the objectionable taste of castor oil and children take it readily.

REAL OLD FASHION LIVER PILLS

Not Fancy But Effective

You would be surprised at the great quantity of old-fashioned Liver Pills we sell. If it were possible to check up the amount of sales on each individual article carried by Bowman's during the past 45 years we would probably find that we have sold more of these old-fashioned Liver Pills than of any other article. Our stores have been selling these old-fashioned Pills constantly ever since Bowman's started, and even way back in the early '70s they were called old-fashioned Liver Pills.

We put them up just the same as they were put up for our grandfathers, still using the wooden bottles with exactly the same ingredients that made them popular nearly two generations ago. 25c a bottle.

A MIGHTY GOOD TOOTH POWDER

We have one of the best tooth powders for removing tartar that we have ever heard of. It is Listerated Tooth Powder and dentists who have tried it claim that it is about as near right as tooth powder can be.

It not only cleans the teeth and removes the tartar but has some preservative qualities and heals the gums as well. In our opinion a good tooth powder is superior to a tooth paste, although we sell both. Listerated Tooth Powder 25c.

FOR TIRED FEET

You perhaps noticed during the hot days of this week that your feet were tired at the end of the day. This can be greatly relieved by sprinkling a little Foot Comfort into your shoes. The result is really surprising if you have never used anything of the kind before. Foot Comfort is a powder that comes in a can at 20c.

WATERMAN FOUNTAIN PEN AGENCY

Theaters

ORPHEUM

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be the bright stars of the all-feature bill offered at the Oakland Orpheum for the second week of the new season, beginning with the matinee next Sunday afternoon. An additional stellar act will be Harry and Emma Sharrock with their combination of mystery and laughs, "Behind the Grandstand."

Accompanying these featured headliners is a bill that is entitled to feature honors throughout. Tonie Gray and company offering "Push Down" will be seen in a most delicious bit of comedy work and Shorie and Small's, funsters of a new type, will add materially to the comedy division of the new program. Leon Gautier's "Bricklayers" is a new type of canine entertainment, and Millard and Marlin, in "Honeymooning" will present a clever combination of music and comedy. Loa and Fay Durbeyville the only lady shadowgraphers and magicians, will complete the bill.

PANTAGES

A program of almost all headline features is scheduled for the Pantages next week. The Pantages Opera company is an attractive top line feature. It is composed of a dozen men and women who have gained fame in grand opera. Joe Whitehead is coming for his annual return engagement. He is about the nuttiest comedian appearing out this way. The Ross, Wyse company, man, woman and midget, have one of those hilarious comedy offerings that puts an audience in good humor. The Clemons-Belling company has been specially engaged for the children. Two men, a woman, a couple of small performing donkeys and a troupe of cunning dogs create a storm of excitement on the stage. Other features will be the Sisters Ara, fancy dancers, and King J. Sauls, artist who uses dry colors in making paintings.

AMERICAN

House Peters, in his remarkable play of regeneration and the underworld, in which he co-stars with Irene Rich, and Earle Williams, the Oakland man who has achieved international film fame in "Bring Him In," a story of the Northwest Mounted Police, are the two stellar features now playing at the American.

The House Peters play, a striking expose of police methods, is a gripping story of love and faith with a smashing dramatic climax and a decided surprise.

Next week Pauline Frederick is to be starred in her famous vehicle, "The Sting of the Lash."

BROADWAY

Presented in Oakland for the first time, "Carnival," an international production, will be shown for two days beginning today at the New Broadway theater. The production was filmed in Venice.

Artistically, technically and dramatically, "Carnival" is a notable production. The story brings Matheson Lang in a dual role, that of a husband crazed by jealousy and again as an actor who has lost his mind.

Three attractions in all make up the New Broadway's program. Irving Cummings, who will be remembered here in stock, is the star of "On the Trail."

NEW FRANKLIN

Even the remarkable attendance record set when the New Franklin opened with "Outside the Law" has been shattered this week by the figures for the first half of the long-awaited "Affairs of Anatol Week," which the New Franklin, along with the leading theaters in all big American cities, is observing this week.

Besides "The Affairs of Anatol," the New Franklin is playing Harold Lloyd's new comedy, "I Do." This program, complete, will be held for a second week, and performances start at noon instead of 1 o'clock, to accommodate the matinee crowds.

"The Affairs of Anatol" probably has been the most eagerly awaited picture of all times, the DeMille all-star cast with fourteen of screendom's favorites having been talked about for more than a year.

CENTURY

"Take a Chance" will be served from the stage of the Century theater, formerly Ye Liberty, for the week starting next Sunday, by Will King and his company of fifty frivolous funsters. King describes his offering as "an unprecedented conglomeration of the best there is in mirth."

Will H. Armstrong, the Irish comedian, has been provided with an amusing role and Will Hayes, character actor; Honora Hamilton, Bessie Hill, Jess Mendelson, Jackie Brunea, Dorothea Neville, Reece Gardner, the Golden Gate Four, Harry Davis and others will be seen to the best of advantage.

New vaudeville acts and short comedy pictures will round out the program.

LOEW'S STATE

The screen adaptation of the world-famous novel by Johan Bojer, "The Face of the World," is the chief film attraction on the combination picture and varieties program for the balance of this week at Loew's State theater.

La Temple and company offer the entertaining magical melange, "The Enchanting Palace." Jean de Conde, known as the "Cameo comedienne," offers some song oddities, while Vogel and Mary Crawford are presented in "Odds and Ends." Curt Galloway and company in "The Frisco Hobo," and Moore and Shy with their "Sturdy in Contrast," complete the bill.

Paul Ash and his orchestra are making a hit this week, the locale of their act being Venice, Italy, with its romanticisms, canals and other distinguishing marks.

T. & D.

"Lessons in Love," starring Constance Talmadge, will continue at the T and D theater until Saturday, when it will be succeeded by Peter B. Kyne's fiction masterpiece, "Cappy Ricks."

"Lessons in Love" is a riot of fun to the final fadeout. Constance Talmadge has the role of a pugnacious, whimsical Miss who objects to being married off to a man she never saw. The production is from the First National and was adapted from Douglas Murray's story, "The Man from Toronto."

Sylvia Breamer is a second star on the same program in Harold Macgarth's "Not Guilty." The plot holds with a dramatic suspense that never lessens.

For additional laughs, Louise Fazenda has her first starring role in Mack Sennett's latest comedy, "Made in the Kitchen." Music by Forman's big orchestra, organ recitals by Charles Wilson and a singing duo contribute other enjoyable features to a program packed with entertainment.

CHIMES

Said to be one of the most dramatic photoplays seen here in a long time is "The Woman God Changed," a Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture, featuring Seena Owen and E. K. Lincoln, which will be shown last times today at the Chimes theater. The scenes are laid for the greater part on a tropical island and the action is rapid and thrilling to a degree. Robert G. Vignola was the director and the supporting cast is one of great excellence.

The story is of a beautiful dancing girl's life tragedy, but who after many harrowing experiences glides into the haven of happiness on the bark of love.

STRAND

William S. Hart is star of "The Whistle," which occupies the screen at the Strand theater, Thirty-third and Telegraph today and tomorrow. The story tells of a strange conflict between a factory foreman and his employer whose neglect is the cause of an accident in which the employee's son is killed.

In revenge, the grief stricken father abducts the son of the factory owner during the confusion of an automobile accident when a machine carrying the boy is plunged through an open draw bridge.

Nina Hinds will offer a special song program.

Douglas MacLean, in "One a Minute," for Saturday only.

POULTRY WILL BE LECTURE SUBJECT

James R. Dinwiddie of Petaluma, nationally known poultry authority, who made a thousand dollars a year raising chickens on a half acre, will give two lectures on poultry raising in Oakland next Sunday. Dinwiddie is a graduate of the University of California.

Among the interesting points Dinwiddie plans to cover for his Oakland audiences is the question: "Can a novice make money in the chicken business?" According to Dinwiddie, poultry raising promises the quickest returns of any husbandry, as the grower has only to wait six months between the egg and his finished product.

The Dinwiddie lectures are free to the public and are scheduled for 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. Sunday. They will be held out of doors in the Leona Heights Addition, where seating accommodations are being arranged for several hundred persons.

U. C. Coaches to Be Guests At Luncheon

Alumni and friends of the University of California are arranging a luncheon in honor of the coaches who made possible California's famous athletic teams at Hotel Oakland Tuesday, October 4, at 11 o'clock. President Barrows and Dean Probert will present plans for the stadium. No funds for the stadium will be solicited at the luncheon, it is announced.

Entertainment will be furnished by the U. C. Glee Club quartet and orchestra. Tickets to the luncheon are now on sale at A. G. Spalding Bros., the district attorney's office and the Hotel Oakland. Reservations may be made by mail by writing to District Attorney Ezra Decoto.

$5000 HAMON TOMBSTONE.

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 29.—A $5000 tombstone will be placed on the grave of Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman killed here last November, according to Frank L. Ketch, administrator for the Hamon estate, who let the contract yesterday.

INJURED BY THROWN WHEEL.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—A wheel thrown by a racing automobile at the State Fair grounds yesterday fatally injured Marion Thomas and slightly injured A. D. Abernathy, spectators. Johnny Raimey of Nashville clung to his steering wheel after the accident, and safely piloted his car to the pits.

ACCIDENTS, TOPIC FOR LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 29.—Today's program before the main body of delegates to the twenty third annual convention of the League of California Municipalities included addresses by Ivan Kelso of Los Angeles, associate counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and Commissioner W. H. Carter of Santa Monica. Kelso's address was on "accidents, their cause and prevention," while Carter detailed the work done by his department in the last year and its future plans.

The final session of the State Dairy and Milk Inspectors meeting in conjunction with the league, was scheduled for this afternoon with election of officers and a talk by M. E. Jaffa, professor of nutrition at the University of California on the value of milk and commercial milk products."

PINCHOT'S WARNING

Gifford Pinchot, formerly United States forester, last night warned the people of California of what he declared was the danger of falling into the hands of a more far-reaching, powerful and dangerous monopoly than any their state ever had known. This monopoly he said, was threatened by the steady extension of area controlled by private power companies.

"It is common knowledge that the people of California must have more water and more power," he said. "The question is, shall they pay the corporations a middleman's profit to supply it, or shall they get it at cost for themselves—water and power at cost for the people, or water and power at a profit for the corporations.

"Public ownership, control and operation of water works and power plants is a sound business proposition. Public ownership of water and water power not only renders better service to the consumer, but he pays less for it.

RATES COMPARED.

"In Pasadena, for example, where the price of electricity was 15 cents under private ownership, it is from five cents down under public ownership, in Los Angeles where it was 11, it is from 5.6 cents down. In Cleveland, where it was 12½, it is 5; in Seattle, where it was 20, it is 5½.

"Compared with municipal ownership, corporation control of waterpower in California is a glaring failure. The companies have failed, first to supply enough power, and they have failed, secondly, to supply it at reasonable rates. If the matter is left in their hands, there is no reason whatever to suppose that in these two supremely important respects they will not continue to fail.

WARNS OF MONOPOLY.

"You people of California are threatened with what the nation has escaped. The private power corporations are steadily extending the area of their control in your state. It is as certain as anything can be in the future that if they are allowed to go on they will repeat the history of the Southern Pacific, and the state will have to free itself from a monopoly far more wide-reaching, powerful and dangerous. For you have no coal, your oil some day will be gone, and only waterpower will be left. And he who controls a monopoly of power will soon control all.

"I have come some three thousand miles to urge upon you the adoption of the California water and power act in the full belief that it will be a declaration of industrial independence, a triumphant success in practice, and a shining example to be followed by other states."

ALAMEDAN HAS A HEAVY GRAPE CROP ON ARBOR

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—An arbor heavily laden with grapes is one of the unusual crops at the C. T. Hoffman home at 1521 Sherman street. The arbor was started eight years ago from a single vine brought from Santa Rosa.

The several vines now making up the arbor growth have a crop of grapes now ripening and of which any grape grower might be proud. Grapes are considered difficult to raise in Alameda, owing to the closeness of salt water, which tends to decrease the sugar content.

Besides raising grapes successfully, Hoffmann has a fine example of general intensive farming in his yard. Poultry, vegetables of all kinds, a flower garden and lawn are all grown on a fifty-foot building lot which is 150 feet deep and on which standsthe Hoffmann house. No square foot of yard is permitted to lie idle. A goodly portion of the yard raises two crops a year.

BANDITS HOLD UP GIRL CASHIER OF S. F. THEATER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Held up on Market street in the midst of hurrying crowds and robbed of $200, Miss Helen Vincent of 16 Waller street, cashier of the College theater was roughly handled by a pair of daring bandits shortly before midnight.

One of the robbers waited in an automobile while his companion seized Miss Vincent, snatched a bag containing the money and escaped. The girl was on her way to the Liberty Bank to place the coin in a safety deposit box.

The automobile suddenly drew up at the curb and the holdup men seized her from behind menacing [illegible] into the waiting car, which, as it sped off, ran down a boy on a bicycle. The latter was uninjured but got the number of the machine which it is believed was stolen.

X-RAY SHOCK FATAL.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Winifred Bagley, a nurse, employed by a dental company during the pageant of progress here, died from an electric shock from an X-Ray machine she was operating and not from heart disease, a coroner's jury has decided. After it has been reported that she had died from electric shock, her husband had the body exhumed and examined. He has instituted suit for $10,00 against the dental company.

Woman, Girl Fined for Violating Traffic Law

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Ignorance of parking laws cost Mrs. G. A. Mattern, 100 Tunnel road, $2 this morning. Mrs. Mattern was arrested by Patrolman W. J. Wilson for violating parking regulations at Allston way and Telegraph avenue.

Miss Ruth McLure, university student, of 5905 Keith avenue, Oakland, was also fined $2 by Judge Robert Edgar for a similar infraction of the traffic rules.

Acting Fire Chief Is Hurt in Hill Fire

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Internal injuries which necessitated medical treatment were sustained by Assistant Chief George Haggerty in fighting the fire in the Claremont hills.

Haggerty, who is acting as chief in the absence of Fire Chief G. Sydney Rose, fell on Tuesday while directing activities in the Tunnel road region. Thinking nothing of the fall at the time Haggerty continued his work. Today the pain became so acute that he was forced to seek medical attention. An X-ray will be taken to determine the extent of Assistant Chief Haggerty's injuries. That one or more ribs are fractured is the belief of physicians.

WOMEN WORKERS URGE HOOVER TO AID EMPLOYMENT

Meeting Gives Its Indorsement to Striking Oil Laborers of Kern County.

A petition for immediate action by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in releving unemployment and indorsement of the striking oil workers in Kern county were the principal acts of the general conference of the Women Workers of Oakland in Machinists' hall last night. Mrs. Elvina Beals, chairman of the executive committee; Mrs. Effie L. McLennan, president of the organization, and E. M. Forsell, secretary, have signed the communication which is being forwarded to Washington. It was addressed to Secretary Hoover because of his ability to place it before the unemployment conference. Immediate action to relieve the millions of unemployed was urged. The resolution declared that 17,000 in Alameda county were at present unemployed.

Sympathy for the striking oil workers was expressed because the members believed their cause was just according to leaders.

The Women Workers of Oakland, numbering more than 100 working women of all crafts and occupations, was organized last month for the expressed purpose of being in a position to express themselves on all questions which pertain to their welfare.

Five Enter Pleas in Syndicalism Cases

Howard Welton, Michael J. Dunn, Patrick Casey, James McLaughlin and John Hannon pleaded not guilty to a charge of criminal syndicalism before Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church yesterday afternoon. The defendants asked for separate trials, but their request was denied, since all are charged with the same offense and the evidence against each is identical. George Ryan, a sixth man, will be tried with the others.

The six men were arrested by the Oakland Police Loyalty Squad on June 26, 1921, during the course of a radical meeting at Carpenters' hall, when allegedly seditious utterances were made. At the same time much I. W. W. literature was seized.

ELECTRIC LINE STOCKHOLDERS DENOUNCE SALE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—In a hearing before Commissioner H. S. Benedict, minority stockholders in the Sacramento Northern railroad made accusations of constructive fraudery. Those named as defendants were the Western Pacific railroad, officials of the Sacramento Northern railroad, and the board of directors of the Western Pacific corporation of Delaware. Authorization of the sale of the property of the Sacramento Northern to the Western Pacific was being sought. Miles Standish and P. C. Connolly, minority stockholdeers, declared that the price fixed by officials of the Western Pacific and the Sacramento Northern was inadequate. The amount in question was $730,000.

Ban Bureau System, S. F. Official Urges

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—John O. Davis, collector of the port, spoke yesterday at a luncheon given by the Mutual Business club in the Palace hotel. Among the things favored by the speaker were abolishment of the present bureau system of the United States government and the lending of assistance to Harding's disarmament plans.

Ex-War Worker to Assist Deportation

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—On Saturday, Mrs. Belle Cross, former war worker, appointed by Secretary of Labor James Davis to escort alien women to New York for deportation, will leave here with her first detachment of charges. Mrs. Cross has several decorations for distinguished service. Mrs. Cross is one of the few "dollar-a-year" women in the government service.

Crocker Returns From French Tour

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—W. W. Crocker, vice-president of the Crocker National bank, is back in San Francisco after a two-months' tour inspecting conditions in France. Through the frugality and hard work of her people, France is raipdly returning to normal, according to Crocker.

S. F. Civic Official Passes Suddenly

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The death of David J. McCoy, a commissioner of the Board of Public Works, occurred at the Central Emergency Hospital yesterday following an attack of heart trouble. McCoy was stricken while attending a meeting of the board. He was 44 years of age.

S. F. Clubman and Brewer Succumbs

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Arrangements are being made for the funeral of Thomas Alton, director of the Olympic club and official of a local breweries company for 33 years, who died yesterday at St. Francis hospital following an operation. Death was due to apoplexy. Alton was 56 years of age.

BUYERS SOUGHT FOR $1,200,000 S. F. RESIDENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The $1,200,000 Claus Spreckels mansion, on Van Ness avenue near Clay street, is up for sale. The building, which is of sandstone, was erected about 20 years ago. Among the restrictions placed upon the sale is one to the effect that the building shall not be used for a cafe, restaurant or hotel. The house was gutted during the fire of 1906, but was restored.

Adult Probation, Is Luncheon Topic

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—"Adult Probation" was the subject of a talk given yesterday by A. C. Keane at a luncheon of the fourth degree assembly, Knights of Columbus, at the Palace hotel. He declared that criminals represent social waste and that the adult probation board's function is to reduce this wast as much as possible.

Automobile Burns on Foothill Boulevard

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 29.—An automobile belonging to A. I. Darling, 3839 Redding avenue, Oakland, was destroyed at an early hour this morning when it caught fire on the Foothill boulevard near here. According to Darling, who escaped unhurt, the fire was caused by poor wiring which ignited gasolne that was dripping from the gas tank. The San Leandro fire department responded to an alarm turned in by Darling, but the machine was a total wreck before the flames could be extinguished.

1000 BANKERS ON WAY TO L. A. VISIT IN BAY CITIES

Financiers See End to Business Depression and Prosperous Days Ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Before the end of the week, 1000 bankers from all parts of the United States will have been the guests of the local banking fraternity. This was the announcement by the reception committee today following the arrival yesterday afternoon of the Ohio delegation en route to Los Angeles to attend the forty-seventh annual convention of the American Bankers' Association. A delegation of 125 bankers from Oklahoma arrived here this afternoon by special train.

The Ohioans were welcomed at the San Francisco headquarters for the bankers' convention at the Palace hotel and were immediately taken in charge by the local entertainment committee. A large number were taken on tours of the city, while others spent the afternoon on the various golf links around the bay. Last night they were escorted on a tour through Chinatown. The Ohio delegation will remain here until Saturday, when they will leave for the southern city.

HOSPITALITY PRAISED.

"Our visit in San Francisco is the longest on our schedule, and we're delighted to have the opportunity to see something of the city noted for its hospitality," said Miss G. E. Howard of Columbus, Ohio, assistant secretary of the Ohio Bankers' Association. "We had not been in the city more than an hour before we were showered with invitations to entertainments of all kinds. I have never encountered such hospitality in my life. San Francisco is a beautiful city and Californians should be proud to live there.

A general feeling of optimism over the business situation in the United States was expressed by the Buckeye bankers. It was the consensus of opinion that the turning point of the downward trend of financial depression had been reached and that better times are due within a few months.

Among the interesting characters in the Ohio party is Joseph R. Kraus, vice-president and executive manager of the Union Trust company of Cleveland, now a millionaire, who 25 years ago was "down and out" in California and got his first job loading lumber in Berkeley.

JOB SOON LOST.

"I lived in an Oakland boarding house for three months," he said. "I tried to get a job, but couldn't, and was getting desperate. Then I heard of a job in Berkeley, loading lumber for a furniture factory, and struck the boss for it. I got it, but it only lasted several days. I was discouraged, but in a day or so I got a telegram to come to Cleveland to work as a bookkeeper. I took that job, and that gave me my start. My bank now has $300,000,000 in assets and employs 1300 men."

Kraus, in commenting on the rebuilding of San Francisco after the catastrophe of 1906, said:

"The spirit that rebuilt San Francisco cannot be kept down, and before long it will pull us out of our financial depression."

The Ohio bankers leave San Francisco Saturday by way of Del Monte, where they will be entertained for a day.

MINISTER SAYS PRESENT SYSTEM IS "DAMNABLE"

DENVER, Sept. 29.—"Any system of society which is responsible every four or five years for a period of unemployment such as we have now, is damnable," declared the Rev. Dr. James J. Coale, Baltimore, Md., in an address to the fiftieth annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of Colorado here.

"Our churches are committed to the wealthy classes of the nation," he asserted. "There are men in Wall street today who have their daily morning prayers, and who then go to their offices and by a scratch of a pen and by a word or a look damn vast numbers of men to serfdom."

2500 Chicago Police Under Bootleg Quiz

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Investigation by federal authorities of liquor rings said to involve half of Chicago's 5000 policemen, was being speeded up today following half a dozen sensational developments yesterday.

These included the death of a woman while being questioned at the federal building, the finding of an alleged whisky runner dead on a country road, the hold-up of a freight train which was robbed of twenty cases of gin, the alleged confession of a police officer and the hunt for a rum pirate ship.

Mrs. Rose Allen died a few minutes after questioning by an assistant district attorney regarding her connection with alleged extortions schemes. An investigation is being made to determine whether she committed suicide.

Mail Bandits Foiled By Plucky Driver

An attempted robbery of a United States mail truck was frustrated last night when the driver of the truck, C. R. Hosley, 5331 Thomas street, disobeyed the order of a man who had him covered with a revolver and sped away.

Hosley was collecting mail and had stopped in front of a mail box at 1252 Forty-seventh avenue. Leaving the motor running he was about to step on the curb when he was accosted by three men. One of them had a revolver.

"Throw up your hands and keep quiet," a youthful voice commanded. "We want some of that jack you got in that sack under the seat."

Hosley settled back into his seat and before the bandits could climb onto the truck he slipped the gears into place and stepped on the throttle.

SHOE STORE ROBBED.

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Forty pairs of shoes, seven pounds of leather, one box of garters and one box of socks, total value $175, were stolen from the store of John Vitale, 819 Delaware street, last night.

Forger Will Be Sentenced Tomorrow

Sentence will be pronounced tomorrow on August Tews, proprietor of the Mint saloon, Tenth street and Broadway, who was convicted of forgery in Superior Judge George Samuel's court. The jury was out several hours. Tews was charged with forging the name of R. W. Howard, 2416 Central avenue, Alameda, to a check on the Rex Dye Works of Oakland.

We Are FOR City and County Consolidation

To the Voters of Alameda County:

The undersigned members of the Retail Dry Goods Association of Oakland, in meeting Tuesday, September 27, 1921, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, we believe in city and county consolidation and have believed in it for twenty-five years; and

Whereas, we are aware that arguments are always advanced against every forward step on the road to progress; therefore be it

RESOLVED, that we are more interested in getting forward than in finding reasons for holding back; and be it

RESOLVED, that we commend to the taxpayers and voters of Alameda county, the project of consolidation under the proposed charter as furnishing an economical, commonsense and efficient basis for the administration of public business, paralleling the best practices in business life.

ALL LARGE RAIL UNIONS VOTE IN FAVOR OF STRIKE

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—All of the large unions of the railroad workers have voted in favor of a strike, it was learned today by the United Press from authoritative sources.

The official canvass of the strike vote of all unions will show a large majority for rejection of the wage cut of 12 per cent and authorizing their leaders to call a strike, leaders stated.

Canvass of the vote of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was completed today, showing 90 per cent favored rejection of the wage cut, and giving their grievance committees power to call the men out. The shopmen and the clerks have also voted to strike, the official canvasses revealed.

The official count of the vote of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors and the Switchmen's Union of North America will start on Monday. It will be a mere formality, rail union leaders declared, however, as an unofficial tabulation of most of the vote showed that a majority of the men voted to authorize a strike.

Armed with a strike vote, the union leaders believe they will be in a more favorable position to negotiate with the railroads.

All of the union heads, except possibly the chiefs of the shopmen's organization, profess to believe the men will not actually quit work, but that an adjustment will be reached.

William G. Lee, head of the trainmen's union, in an interview with the United Press today, warned the railroad unions against a general walkout of rail employees. Lee pointed to the unemployment situation, and cited statistics which he said showed there had been a 16 per cent reduction in the cost of living since the railroad board authorized the cuts the unions now are fighting.

SIX MASKED MEN ROB MAIL TRAIN, ESCAPE IN AUTO

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 29.—Six masked bandits early today held up Santa Fe passenger train No. 11, Kansas City to Galveston, Tex., near Edmond, Okla., and escaped with four pouches of mail, one of which was registered.

The robbers forced mail clerks to throw the mail sacks from the car door. They escaped in an automobile. Posses from here, headed by county officials and police, are in pursuit.

No attempt was made by the bandits to molest passengers.

One of the robbers forced his way into the engine cab at Edmond and compelled the engineer to stop the train, a short distance south of there.

A charge of dynamite was placed under the mail car and exploded, the explosion tearing the car door from its hinges.

The lone robber was then joined by five other companions. They entered the mail car and forced the clerks to toss out all mail pouches in sight.

Postal authorities early today refused to estimate the loss.

A telegram was received today by postoffice officials here from Postmaster General Hays authorizing a reward of $30,000 for the capture of the bandits. The reward is in the form of $5000 for each of the six men who participated in the robbery.

STONE STRIKES BOY'S GLASSES; EYE IS INJURED

Morris Bunow, aged 8, 740 Sixth street, may lose the sight of his left eye, which was badly cut by glass from the lens of his spectacles, broken by a stone thrown by another boy in the Campbell grammar school yard. Young Bunow was playing with other boys when one of them threw a stone high in the air. Bunow looked up to watch it and the sun dazzled him. The stone struck him in the eye as it fell. He was taken to the Emergency hospital, where he was given temporary treatment and sent to an eye specialist.

Man Partly Eaten By Ants, Succumbs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—Thomas Chaplin, 25, partly devoured by small red ants when he was found unconscious yesterday in the Los Angeles river bed near Fish street, died last night at the Los Angeles County Hospital, where he was taken after treatment at the municipal receiving hospital. Surgeons said the ants had eaten part of his tongue and stripped bits of skin from his body from his neck to his toes. The man had been made unconscious by a blow from bandits and fell on the ant heap.

His father, George Chaplin, of Baldwin Park, near Los Angeles, said his son had deserted from the navy and a few days ago had announced his intention of reporting to naval authorities and accepting whatever punishment they chose to give him, according to police detectives.

GIRL, 13, KILLED IN CRASH.

YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 29.—Esther Schlien, 13, was instantly killed last night at Buena, near here, when an automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schlien of Zillah and their five children was struck by a Northern Pacific extra freight train. A younger girl of the family was so badly injured that she may die, and Schlien was seriously hurt.

Boy Scouts Will Stage Radio Concert to Launch Campaign

MISS ELFRIEDA STEINDORFF, daughter of Paul Steindorff, who will be heard in the open-air wireless concert for the Boy Scouts Monday. She will appear on the Paul Steindorff concert at the Fairmont.

Orchestra Playing in San Francisco Will Be Heard at Fifteenth and Broadway

What is expected to be one of the greatest radio demonstrations ever heard in Oakland will be given by the Boy Scouts of Oakland Monday noon, when thousands of Oakland residents will be the guests of the Scouts at a great open air recital at the Latham fountain, Fifteenth street and Broadway, in front of the Federal building.

Elfrieda Steindorff, the well known lyric soprano, will sing, and Paul Steindorff and his 60-piece orchestra will give a musical program at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco which will be carried by wireless to the receiving station at the Latham fountain, operated by local Boy Scouts. Addresses by well known men will also be part of the wireless program. The sound volume will be multiplied through the aid of the magnavox.

APPARATUS INSTALLED.

The receiving apparatus has been installed by local men interested in the Boy Scout movement and will be of the latest design guaranteed to reproduce the concert perfectly. The mechanism will be set up on a truck and will be operated by Boy Scouts. The location of the receiving station is also the site of the model camp which will be operated during all of Boy Scouts' week, beginning Monday. It will constitute part of the organization's drive for funds.

Daily demonstrations of Boy Scout activities will be given all during the week at the model camp, at Idora Park and at other places throughout the city. Among other things, the Scouts will act as traffic officers one one day. The following week the actual drive for funds will be carried out. The campaign organization, headed by Abe Leach, chairman, is now being completed.

Officials of the Leo. J. Meyberg wireless station, which will transmit the radio concert, said today that next Monday's wireless demonstration will be carried for long distances through the ether.

It will range for 1000 miles up the coast and an equal distance to the south, 1000 miles into the interior and for 2000 miles at sea. This means that operators, both professional and amateur, will hear it in all the western states and on ships almost as far west as Honolulu. The many amateur operators, most of them Boy Scout age, have been especially invited to "sit in" on this radio program.

The wireless apparatus will be given a preliminary try-out tonight when some selections will be given by the Scotti grand opera company, also from the Fairmont station. This will be at 6:30 o'clock, and will be through the same receiving mechanism, mounted on the truck at Fifteenth street and Broadway, and operated by the Scouts.

Roosevelt's Spanish War Diary Gift to Memorial

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A terse history of the Spanish-American war, as seen through the eyes of its most famous participant, came to light today when Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt presented the former President's war diary to the Roosevelt Memorial association.

The diary is a record of experiences and impressions, made up of laconic entries, some historical, some critical.

The diary is a small pocket volume and contained notes in pencil and ink.

May 6, 1898—Commissioned as lieutenant colonel, United States Voluntary Cavalry. Wood as colonel by choice.

May 7—The delays and stupidity of the ordnance department surpass belief. The quartermaster's department is better, but bad. The commissary department is good. There is no management whatever in the war department. Against a good nation we should be helpless.

GUNS SLOW ARRIVING.

May 21—The blunders and delays of the ordnance bureau surpass belief. They express us stuff we don't need and send us the rifles by slow freight. There is no head, no energy, no intelligence in the war department.

May 24—Quota nearly filled. It is astonishing how rapidly we have armed, mounted and drilled these men. Wood's power of work and executive capacity are wonderful.

May 30—Railway system tends to break down. Interminable delay; no proper facilities for unloading horses, to rest, water or feed, etc., etc.

June 3—Reached Tampa in morning. Railway system in wildest confusion; it took us twelve hours to get into camp with our baggage.

June 5—No words can paint the confusion. No head, a breakdown of both the railroad and military systems.

MORE CONFUSION.

June 6—No plans; no staff officers; no instructions to us. Each officer finds out for himself and takes his chances. We are doing as well as the regular regiments. Have very light baggage.

June 20—Reached Santiago.

June 22—Landed.

June 23—Marched.

June 24—Fight—Las Guasimas. We drove enemy in fine shape. Lost 60 men, killed and wounded, 20 slight.

SANTIAGO SURRENDERS.

July 4—Truce. Mismanagement horrible. No head to army.

July 10—Bombardment again.

July 17—Surrender at Santiago.

July 18—Shifted camp to foothills. Half of men of my regiment dead or disabled by wounds, or sickness.

Mrs. Roosevelt also presented the association with the spectacle case and manuscript of an address, pierced by a bullet aimed at Roosevelt in Milwaukee in 1912. It was from this manuscript that Roosevelt a half hour later read his campaign speech with the assassin's bullet still imbedded in his body.

PRAYER HEALING IS HELD LEGAL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—It is a lawful means in the State of California to use prayer in the treatment of disease, according to a decision handed down by Justice Channing Follette in the justice court here yesterday by which charges of manslaughter against Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Salsbury were dismissed.

Salsbury and his wife, who were arrested August 12 last, were charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of their five-year-old daughter Wilma, who died, according to a complaint issued by the district attorney's office, because of lack of medical attention.

An autopsy held over the child's body stated that death had been due to diptheria.

California Plane Makes S. F. Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The Friesley Falcon airplane, which was built in California, is at the Marina field, where it arrived yesterday from Gridley, via Sacramento. In the airplane were Pilot Ray Francis, H. M. Friesley, builder of the giant 'plane, Mr. and Mrs. Grafton Reed of Gridley and Frank Merrill of San Francisco. Ignatz, an Angora kitten, was also one of the passengers.

Former Cafe Man Beats Food Charge

John Voros, arrested in connection with the charge against his former partner, George Pappas, of having spoiled food in his Shattuck avenue, Berkeley, restaurant, was discharged by Judge Harry W. Pulcifer today.

Pappas was arrested first. State Inspector Robert G. Wray declared he found a chicken long past its prime in the ice box and that the restaurant disclosed unsanitary features. Pappas claimed he had just bought the place from Voros and that he was ignorant of the conditions.

Judge Pulcifer directed that Voros be brought into court. He was able to show he had severed his connection with the business before the offenses complained of took place.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Rev. Peter Yorke to Speak On Ireland

Rev. Peter C. Yorke, D.D., state president of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, will address the delegates to Oakland District Council, No. 11, this evening. Officers for the ensuing term will be elected.

JEWEL THEFT CHARGED.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—H. W. Leavitt, alias J. Clay Coleman, was arrested here last night charged with having stolen $1500 in jewelry from a number of Los Angeles jewelry companies.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

TO have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in North America.

$2,300 IN GATE PRIZES

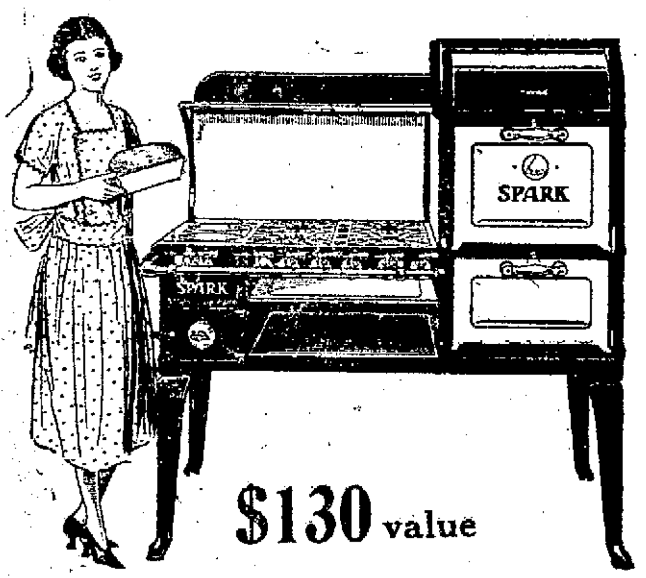
East Bay Manufacturers' Exposition

ANOTHER reason for attending this gigantic exposition—a chance to win one or more of these wonderful products of the East Bay manufacturers. Plan to be among the boosters on the opening days, this coming Saturday and Sunday. The Exposition starts at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with a big downtown parade and the formal opening at Idora Park follows the parade. Bring your friends. See the show. Talk of what you see. You'll want to go again—it's your opportunity to see what is being done by East Bay manufacturers.

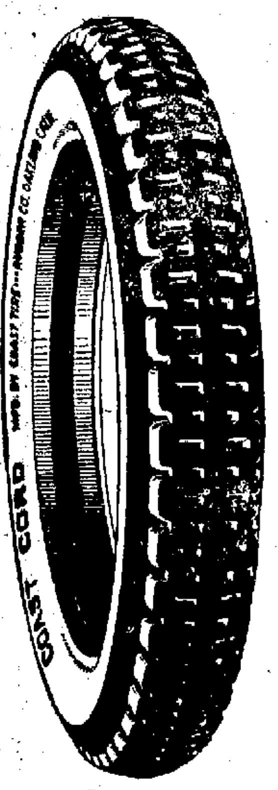


$130 value

Spark Combination Range

This Spark Combination Gas Range, Kitchen and Water Heater is made by the Hammer-Bray Company of Oakland and is being donated as a gate prize by the Jackson Furniture Company. A triumph in the stove-maker's art. See it at Jackson's—then come to the Exposition and see if you're not the lucky winner.

Two Coast Cord Tires



Value $45 each

All Oaklanders are justly proud of the Coast Tires which have in a short time taken their place among the leading makes in the United States. Mayor Davie, who uses them on his car, said "They have given and are giving splendid service. I wish to congratulate you on the fact that a home industry produces a product of such excellence." Two of them, valued at $45 each, will be given away as gate prizes. See if you can't get one for your car.

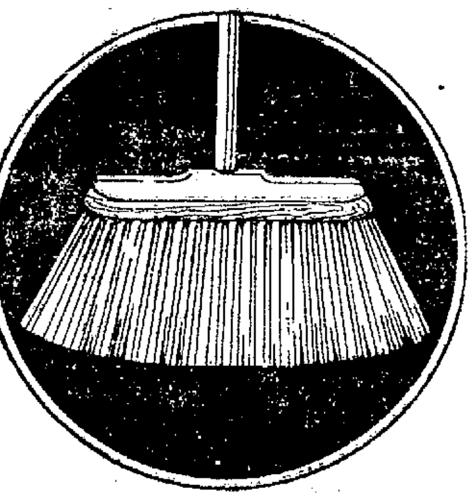
Sturges Rubber Soles

5 Orders Valued at $1 each

The man or woman who does a lot of walking will appreciate one of these orders—just as a car needs shock absorbers, he needs rubber soles. These prizes themselves will make you want to be at this stupendous exposition.

$40 worth of paint

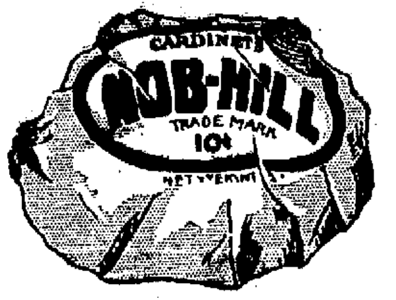
Enough paint to cover your entire house—you choose the color yourself. Cal-pa-co Paint has made Oakland know in 33 foreign countries. The California Paint Company is boosting for Oakland. Let us boost for them!



12 Fibre Brooms

Value $2 each

Made by the Baird Brush Company, one of our own manufacturers. There are twelve to be given away at different times. See if you can't win one.



$3.00 Boxes Twice Daily

Every afternoon and every evening a $3.00 box of Nob Hills will be given away. They are a deliciously different combination of delicate flavors that delight any candy loving boy or girl—man or woman.

Also watch the papers for the announcement of Candy Day, Saturday the 8th. The Cardinet Candy Company will give a Nob Hill as a gate prize for each person entering the Park.

$50 Silk Comforter

A beautiful comforter made by the California Cotton Mills. The covering is of figured silk with a plain silk border and the filling is of pure wool. Will you be the lucky one to sleep under it after the Exposition?

Grand Prize

Ford Touring Car

Value $593.17

This is the latest model Ford Touring Car, 5-passenger, 4-cylinder, 20-horsepower, and it's equipped with Ruckstell Axle, made by the Ruckstell Mfg. Co. This axle alone is worth $105. You have as much chance to win as anyone else. Be at the Exposition and get a chance on it. The car has been donated by the Ford dealers.

It's the only prize not made in Oakland—that's where Henry Ford made his big mistake. When he realizes the wonderful possibilities of the East Bay we hope he'll establish a factory here.

Virden Campfire Products

$25 Worth in Prizes

A case of these products to be given away. It includes a Camp Fire Ham, a Camp Fire Bacon, a gallon can of Camp Fire Salad Oil, a can of Camp Fire Lard, a can of Camp Fire Shortening and 12 cans of Camp Fire Peaches, the kind that make your mouth water. Try and win it.

Waterproof Coat

Value $9

This coat is made double throughout, with one-piece shoulder cape, reinforced sleeves, double storm flap, corduroy collar and convenient pockets. Why not win it?

Long's Coffee

90 1 lb. pkgs. value 35c each

LONG, THE COFFEE MAN

Diablo
Gloves of Distinction

1 Pair Ladies' Gloves

$3.50

Something every woman has to have and think how proud the winner will be when she knows that the gloves she wears were made right here in the East Bay!

$53 worth Mission Aluminum

Eighteen articles to be given away—one each afternoon and one each evening. Among them are included cast teakettles, saucepans, percolators, fry pans and rice boilers. All made by the Western Aluminum Manufacturing Company of Oakland. They are of a very fine quality aluminum. Try and win one or more articles.

9 Rubber Door Mats

Value $2 each

Made by the American Rubber Company and there are nine of them to be given away—one each day. A durable mat you'll enjoy using.

90 Bricks Miller's Ice Cream

Value 50c each

Five one-quart bricks will be given away each afternoon and each evening. You even have a chance to get your refreshments free at this wonderful exposition.

$50 on a homesite

What could be more truly an Oakland product than a lot in one of its newest and choicest residence districts? The Realty Syndicate Company of Oakland are donating a $50 payment on any one of the beautiful lots now on sale in Montclair.

Electric Vacuum Sweeper

Value $55

To be given away by the Schuyler Company. It will be on exhibition at the Common Sense Washer booth at the Exposition. Be sure and see it there. Think of getting a vacuum sweeper for nothing!

Two Morpheus Mattresses

Value $15 each

Even when you are asleep the East Bay Manufacturers are looking after your happiness and comfort. Win one of these mattresses to be given away by the Star Mattress Company—they're guaranteed not to lump for years.

FOUR

T. & D. Oakland

Annual Passes

Value $37.50 ea.

Four annual passes to T. & D.! Each pass is good for a ticket each week in the year. Two passes go to the same lucky person. They will be given away on Monday afternoon and evening, Oct. 3d, T. & D. Day. A movie party each week in year for nothing!

9 Boxes Mabelle Chocolates

Value $2 each

Every evening a $2 box of Mabelle chocolates will be given away to some lucky person. They're the chocolates made by two maids of Oakland. They are nutritious, flavored right and always taste like more.

Prizes awarded at 4:30 o'clock every afternoon and 10:30 every evening. You must be there to win

ALASKA WRECK BLAME PUT ON DEAD CAPTAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—After several weeks of sifting out of testimony, the coroner's jury has placed responsibility for the wreck of the steamer Alaska off Blunt's Reef on Capt. Harry Hobey. Captain Hobey went down with the Alaska. The other officers on the vessel were exonerated by the jury.

"Gets-It" Tickles Corns to Death

First Stops All Pain—Then Peels the Corn Off.

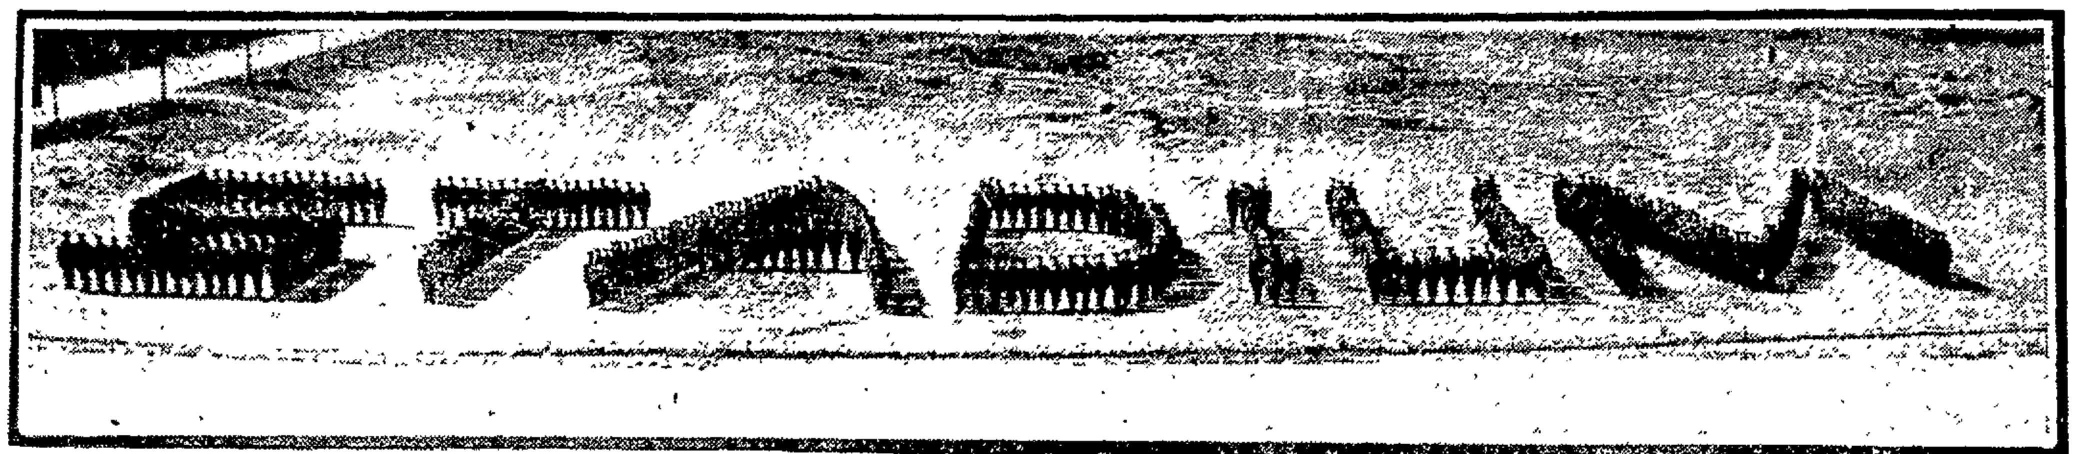
Make Your Feet Happy! Remove Those Corns With "Gets-It."

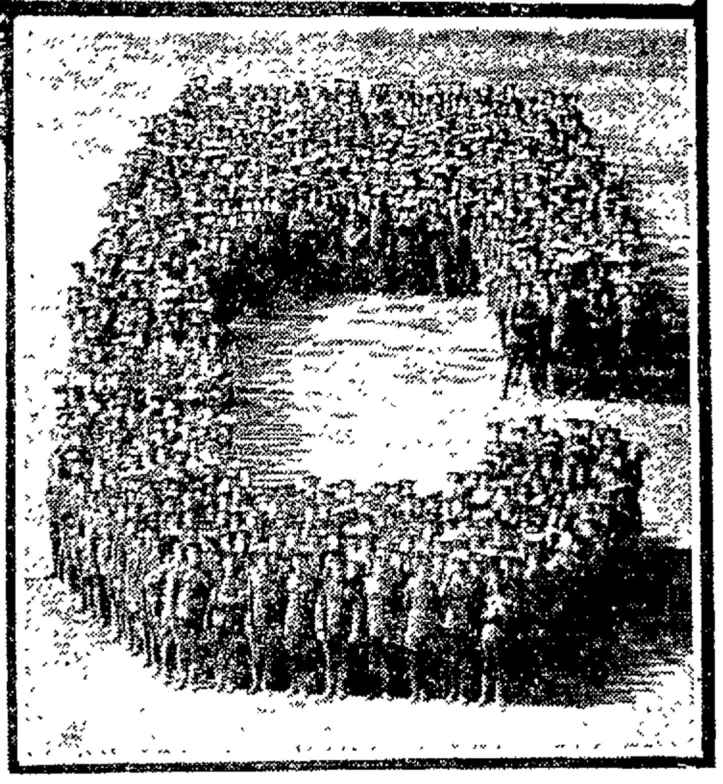
If you have never seen a corn tickled to death, just apply a few drops of "Gets-It" to yours. Then watch that corn die—peacefully as if it had gone to sleep. Soon it is nothing but a loose piece of dead skin that you can lift right off with your fingers.

Get after them now. Your druggist has "Gets-It." Costs but a trifle—or nothing at all if it fails. Mfd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Oakland at all stores of the Owl Drug Company.—Advertisement

Student Stadium Is Living Reality

Without the formation of the Big "C" no fancy drill of the University of California R. O. T. C. would be complete, but yesterday the future soldiers built a "stadium" with the smoothness characterizing the campaign for stadium funds. The "C" and "stadium" drills were only a part of a number of fancy movements through which the student soldiers were put by their officers for the purpose of advertising the stadium campaign.





SOLDIERS' RELIEF TO BE DISCUSSED

Soldier legislation of vital interest to former service men, including the home and farm loan act and educational act, will be discussed by Robert F. Smith, secretary of the California Veterans' Welfare Bureau, at the meeting of Chapter No. 7, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Municipal Auditorium.

All disabled ex-service men and women in the bay district, whether members or not, are invited to attend this meeting to receive first-hand information on the subject of these acts.

Tomorrow evening Smith will be the guest of honor at a dinner party at the Hotel Oakland. Disabled veterans will give the dinner. Other speakers tomorrow evening will be Commander E. G. Winsby and Treasurer F. C. Colridge, both of post No. 5, American Legion.

A letter of invitation was sent to chapter No. 3, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, urging them to attend the meeting.

1400 Two-Seat Units for Stadium Allotted Oakland

District Attorney Ezra Decoto was today named as Oakland chairman of the sale of scrip books for California-Stanford games as a means of raising funds for the construction of the U. C. stadium.

Decoto announced that Oakland's allotment of seats is 1400 units of two seats each, which will be placed on sale to all of the alumni and to the general public of Oakland.

Members of the committee appointed today by Decoto are: Robert Fitzgerald, George Wilhelm, Arthur Tashiera and Judge Everett J. Brown.

"Realizing," Decoto said today, "that the sale of big game tickets which opens on next Monday, October 3, offers to alumni and to the general public of Oakland their first and last opportunity to see a California-Stanford game for the next ten years, my feeling is that the 1400 units of two sets each, which have been allotted to Oakland by the stadium executive committee will not be enough to supply the demand. Before the seat sale opens, therefore, I am going to ask the committee if some provision can not be made to allot additional seats to Oakland.

DEMAND ACTIVE.

"10,000 units of two seats each are all, in the opinion of the stadium executive committee, that can be placed on sale to alumni and the public throughout California. All other stadium seats must be held for the very large student body at California, and for Stanford students and alumni. The committee, therefore, has allotted to each community in the state the number of seats it can purchase, in accordance with population and nearness to the university. I feel sure that Oakland's 1400 seats units will be taken up in short order. 1400 persons here, for a cash payment of $100, will have an opportunity to buy two $5 seats in the choicest section at the big game at Palo Alto this year, and two choice seats at each big game, whether at Berkeley or at Palo Alto, for the nine following years. The $100 payment also secures an option on two seats at all University of California contests, whether football, baseball, track or other activity, if in any one year the $10 in tickets has been used for games. If not expended for big game seats, the tickets, at the rate of $10 a year for ten years, will be good for any other contest. The tickets may be used by the purchaser, and by members of his immediate family, and any one purchaser may buy as many units of two seats each as he needs."

STUDENT ACTIVITIES.

Student subscriptions for the seats in the stadium will be solicited at a rally in the Greek theater Monday morning, according to an announcement by F. W. Tenney, student body president.

The students' drive for funds will open with a rally in the bleachers before the football game Saturday, and will be followed by an automobile parade in Oakland on Monday, after which the students will return for the meeting in the Greek theater.

The students hope to raise the million dollars needed within one week of the opening of the state-wide drive on Monday.

EX-CONGRESSMAN DIES.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 29.—Former Congressman C. L. Brumbaugh of Ohio, 58, died last night of bright's disease. He served four successive terms in congress, retiring March 4, last.

The Chevrolet Motor Company, at Twenty-first and Franklin streets, announced yesterday that beginning this Saturday they will keep the parts department open all day instead of just a half-day, which has been the custom heretofore.

Dick Brooker, sales manager, points out the fact that the increased sales and week-end travel must be taken care of properly. Many Chevrolet owners go on outing trips and there are many times when some little part may be desired, and by eliminating closing at noon they will be able to get the same service as through the week.

During the summer months many Chevrolet cars have reported at the salesroom after traveling many thousand miles through mighty bad country and it has been indeed interesting to note the performance of this automobile, points out Brooker. We take a check on each car that reports, then compare trips and what mileage each car made.

Inquiry to Await Submarine Raising

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—Divers today continued their efforts to raise the submarine R-6, which sank in Los Angeles harbor Monday night with the loss of two seamen.

It was stated the court of inquiry ordered by Admiral Eberle, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, would not begin to function until after the submarine had been raised.

WIFE A CAPTIVE FOR NINE YEARS, SHE COMPLAINS

Woman Tells Sheriff Husband Has Kept Her Prisoner Since Marriage.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. — For nine years Mrs. C. Voletti, 24, has been held a prisoner on her husband's ranch in Fruitridge, she told State officials here today. Her 7-year-old son has also been held there all his life. The sheriff's office is investigating the case.

Sanitary inspectors, calling at the ranch, found it surrounded by high wire fences. Every gate was padlocked. Mrs. Voletti told the inspectors she could not let them in as her husband carried all the keys and had not allowed her to leave the place without him since her marriage.

Thief Borrows Tool To Effect Robbery

The thief told Genello that he had come to fix a typewriter in the principal's office and that he wanted to borrow a screw driver. It was given to him by Genello and before the man left he returned it to the janitor and thanked him.

The theft was discovered when Marjorie Calder, clerk to Principal C. E. Hudspeth, opened the office this morning. The drawer of Hudspeth's desk had been pried open and $52.91, which belonged to the student body, was missing.

LEADER IN CITY CLUB LIFE DEAD

Miss Lurana Denison, well-known philanthropist and local club woman, died at her home, 246 Sea View avenue, last night following a short illness. Miss Denison was a leader in the West Oakland Home, which is devoted to the welfare of little children. For many years she has been a member of the board of directors and an active worker in the annual doll shows for the benefit of the institution. Every holiday season has witnessed her a holder of prizes for the most beautifully dressed dolls presented in the winter fete.

In discharging the business affairs of the association and in looking out after the recreational interests of the big household in summer camp and Christmas festivals Miss Denison contributed valuable service. She was a member of Ebell and several other local clubs.

Miss Denison represented one of the pioneer families of the city. A few years ago the original residence west of Broadway was given up and the family took possession of a handsome Piedmont home. She was the daughter of the late Eli S. and Celia M. Denison. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. B. Ayer, two nieces and two nephews. They are: Mrs. Parker McConnell Mrs. James Mockbee, Denison and John Ayer. Miss Denison was born in Sacramento.

ARM BROKEN IN FALL.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—George Conway, 3, broke his right arm in a fall from an apple tree at his home, 2326 Clement avenue, yesterday. He was treated by Dr. Saunders at the Emergency hospital.

Brides-Elect Are Motif For Teas

An affair of note of this coming month will be the tea for which Miss Alma Smith and Miss Dorothy Techentin will send out cards October 15 in compliment to Miss Vera Chatfield, bride-to-be of Carlton G. Wells. The tea will be given at the Smith home on Virginia street, and thirty-five of the closest friends of the bride-elect are to be guests.

The hostess and her guests are members of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

SILL-FUSSELL WEDDING AT HOME.

Though witnessed by members of the two families and a coterie of their closest friends, the marriage of Miss Wilma Sill and Paul Fussell at the Stephen J. Sill home in Thousand Oaks last evening was one of the prettiest of home weddings. The ceremony was read at 8 o'clock by Rev. H. E. B. Speight of the First Unitarian church in Berkeley. The bride's gown was or brocaded crepe made with a full court train. A juliet cap of rare lace held the coiffure in place, the same lace pattern forming a cascade on either side of the veil to the hem. Orchids, bride's roses and lilies of the valley made up the shower bouquet.

Miss Gladys Murr, who was maid of honor at the wedding, wore rainbow tulle over apricot satin and carried Irish Elegance roses.

Miss Marilla Bragdon of Pasadena and Miss Christine Howells of Belvedere were bridesmaids. Both wore taffeta frocks, the former in pale blue over silver leaf and the latter in yellow over the same foundation. Both carried armfuls of golden chrysanthemums and blue Delphinium.

Two of the younger matrons are to leave the bay region to be domiciled elsewhere this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Chesley John Roberts (Bernice Taylor) are about to leave for Seattle to establish their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Power (Beverly Nason) are to go south to make their home. The Arthur G. Nasons have leased their home in Crossroads, Claremont, and will reside in Piedmont while the Clinton Wordens will make their home with the W. W. Wordens for a time.

TO GO SOUTH FOR WEDDING.

Miss Betty Merrill will leave the first of the month for Santa Barbara, where she is to attend the wedding of Miss Eunice Hitchcock and Oliver Schaas October 7, when Mrs. James Hobart Moore will open her home for the event. Before returning north Miss Merrill will go on south to Pasadena for a visit with friends.

✡ ✡ ✡

Miss Helen McIntyre of Piedmont, whose betrothal to Edington Detrick, Jr., was recently announced, will be the honoree at a tea at the Palace hotel October 22, when Miss Margaret Sloan will preside as hostess.

✡ ✡ ✡

Mrs. Charles A. Dukes will be hostess at a bridge afternoon tomorrow at her home in Berkeley, having no special honor guest.

✡ ✡ ✡

At the home of Mrs. Edgar P. Stone in Lakeshort avenue, Miss Alison Stone will be hostess the afternoon of October 12 for fifty of the debutante set.

✡ ✡ ✡

Mr. and Mrs. John Chaddock will be hosts this evening at a farewell dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Down of Berkeley who are to leave for New York to make their home. The Downs will go east to live, since six months of the year will be spent in Europe.

✡ ✡ ✡

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wright are in Southern California on their wedding trip, but when they return will live in San Francisco. Mrs. Wright was Miss Helen Love, a sister of Mrs. Charles Rhein and a niece of Mrs. Clyde Schrader of Piedmont.

Clubwomen Plan to Boost For Oakland

By EDNA B. KINARD.

That they cannot "sell" Oakland because they are able to assemble so few facts concerning Oakland, is the frank admission of the civic and current events section of Lakeview Club. It is a condition, however, that is not long to exist. Before the close of the season these same women, if information is any assistance in the salesmanship game, will be able to "sell" their city to the world. They have adopted a definite and strenuous program and study of Oakland. They have pledged themselves to "know."

More than a score of clubwomen are included in the section. Among them are to be apportioned the branches of government, development, public and private institutions, scenic attractions for careful survey. Reports will be made at the regular meetings of the section. The harbor and magnitude of Oakland's sea trade will not be overlooked. Budgets in city and county government, school conditions, location of buildings and their equipment, recreational facilities, industries and where they are housed, the important structures in the business center, where the branches of government are located and their operation—these are a few of the subjects which will be considered.

Legislation is not to be overlooked, nor is the study of parliamentary law to be omitted. Reports of ordinances and bills will be made as they are introduced in the council or legislature when in session. A half hour parliamentary law drill will open each session.

October will be given over to an exhaustive study of the charter of the proposed city and county government, with presentation by its proponents and opponents. Mrs. R. W. Kittrelle is chairman of the section.

Mrs. W. W. Robson is president of the north of the lake group, where the interesting civic movement is being launched.

Disarmament discussions. Armistice Day celebrations, charter for consolidated city and county government, eight-hour working day for women—such are some of the subjects to which members of Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women's Voters, are turning their attention in the coming few weeks. But lest friendship be forgotten and all work makes one dull, serious matters are to be laid aside on Friday, October 21, and the women will play whist. The ballroom of the Municipal Auditorium has been reserved for the informal function which is under the direction of Mrs. George Preston. The proceeds will help cover some important items in the center's budget. The card party is arranged primarily in the interests of the membership campaign which would increase the enrollment to 1000.

Both Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford University, and Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, have accepted the invitation to be speakers at the Armistice Day luncheon, November 11.

Rabbi Rudolph Coffee and Superintendent of Berkeley Schools H. B. Wilson will be speakers at the regular program in Aahmes Temple tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Alice Luce of the faculty of Mills College, intimate friend and former student of Alice Freeman Palmer, will review the life of that widely known educator who devoted her life to Wellesley College, before the Mills Club of Alameda County at the October program. The club of which Mrs. J. W Bingaman is president is taking over a new meeting place in the Blue Room of Hotel Oakland, beginning on the first Thursday of the coming month. Mrs. Robert Carl Strehlow, Mrs. W. H. Sellman and Leo A. De Mers will contribute the musical numbers.

Mrs. Charles Youngberg is opening her Perry street home for two travel lectures next month, the proceeds from which will be appropriated to the Mills College endowment fund. Mrs. Grace Robert Moore will be the speaker. "Egypt" will be presented on October 11; "Babylon" on October 25.

The club is fostering the production of "Midsummer Night's Dream" by students in the Mills College campus theater on October 14 and 15.

The California Girls' Training Home, which has been fostered in so practical a way during the past year by the women's clubs is offering a reception in compliment to the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League tomorrow afternoon at the institution in Alameda. Between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. the young girls will serve tea and offer entertainment to the women who have been leaders in the movement which resulted in equipping more comfortably and attractively the rooms in which they live.

The guests, even tomorrow, will not go empty-handed. Their hostesses are busy with plans for a big bazaar to help materialize some pet plans which are brewing. Many of the Big Sisters will slip into corners some dainty contribution toward the fall fair.

The Big Sisters will assemble in a regular meeting in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium on Friday, October 7.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

Caused by Woman's Ills and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Grafton, Pa.—"I was troubled with inflammation and pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different doctors and not getting relief, I had almost given up hopes when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and knowing that she had really been helped by it, I purchased it. I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four months old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen, and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise for my health."—Mrs. BLAIR L. FISHER, R.D.1, Box 27, Grafton, Pa.

Working early and late—lifting, carrying, and the heaviest of household duties—is it any wonder that it results in backaches and kindred ills. But every woman who suffers as Mrs. Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1921.

BERKELEY'S POSITION CLEAR.

Any doubt that may have been entertained as to how Berkeley feels concerning the plan to force a division of the county under the name of consolidation was removed when a meeting of two hundred of the city's prominent men and women organized Tuesday evening to fight to preserve their community's identity. It was not a meeting of politicians or office seekers, but one of the deservingly prominent citizens, and its conclusion left no room for question as to Berkeley's attitude. The principal speaker was Mr. Max Thelen, former chairman of the State Railroad Commission, and among those who took part were Commissioner Charles Heywood, Prof. Clifton Price, Messrs. Wells Drury, Perry Tompkins, George C. Schneider, Lester Hink, Beverly Hodghead and others, to the number of two hundred.

The Berkeley meeting put itself, first, on record against the consolidation proposal. The contention of THE TRIBUNE from the first that the idea would not find favor there was borne out in the action of the meeting and the belief of all those present. It is not only quite evident that the Berkeley vote in the election, as that of Alameda and the outside communities, will open the way for county division, but it was also made clear that Berkeley, on a second election, will vote in favor of Oakland's drawing off in a city and county by itself.

"If Oakland shows its determination to force a county division proposal," it was said at the meeting, "Berkeley will take the necessary step to have a city and county of its own."

Of the men present at the meeting and prominent in the organization formed, Charles Heywood and George Schneider were in the group who went to Sacramento and secured the approval of the amendment which affords Berkeley the exclusive opportunity to realize what has long been a cherished dream, a city and county of Berkeley. That city will vote against the proposal for consolidation and then all of those who favor the separate county will join with the Oakland citizens who wish the separation of this city from the rest of the county. With 30,000 majority of registered votes in Oakland and the help of this Berkeley sentiment the "safeguard" of the separation election is made a flimsy affair.

Berkeley's new city and county would not start with the handicap imposed on an Oakland county. It would not be shouldered with a system of constitutional officers designed for a larger area. It could name its chief of police, sheriff and use its city hall as a county seat, and that is what it will do if the consolidation plan carries. In the meantime, however, the Berkeley citizens who have organized a Protective Association will direct their efforts to the defeat of the consolidation plan and charter at the first election. Berkeley is waiting to see if Oakland is going to force the other action, and it has a program ready.

The meeting in the university city reveals the fact that county division agitation has already engendered strong feeling and indicates that with the actual division there will be a breach that will take years in the healing.

"We should resist this attempt," Mr. Thelen said at the meeting, "with all the determination with which we would resist a physical attack on our homes." In what ways could a separate county of Oakland hope to act in harmony and for a solution of mutual problems with any section that had been overpowered in such an "attack"?

Mr. Thelen showed the fallacy of any claim for a saving under the new plan, he said that the city and county under the new charter would have more officers and employees than the present county and he gave it as his deliberate judgment that the cost of government would increase instead of decrease to the taxpayers of Berkeley.

Certain proponents of the plan to divide the county have asserted that Berkeley will support the proposal, and have denied that there was any contemplation there of a separate city and county. Tuesday's meeting proves that these assertions were regrettable and costly mistakes.

ADVERTISING AND BUYING.

In a very interesting report to the Oakland Ad Club Tuesday, Mr. K. L. Hamman presented some statistics on advertising which should be understood by a large number of citizens beside those directly concerned in the advertising and publishing business. Mr. Hamman's information was compiled after a painstaking survey of several districts of consumers. What he sought was the appeal and effect of advertising in its different forms upon the readers of advertising mediums, and what were some of the outstanding buying habits among the ranks of consumers.

As to the first point, it was found that ninety eight percent of the people interviewed read advertisements either thoroughly or casually. Twenty-two percent read all mediums of advertising. But the largest percentage, sixty-two percent, read newspaper advertising alone. The number reading newspaper advertising exclusively was found to be greater than the number reading all other kinds of advertising combined.

As to the buying habits, the information obtained is highly encouraging to those who have advocated and applied their efforts toward creating a spirit of cooperation and mutual good will among the Eastbay communities. In a Berkeley district surveyed, it was found that twenty four percent of the people made their purchases in San Francisco and Oakland combined, twenty-eight per cent in Oakland exclusively, twenty-six percent in Berkeley and Oakland twelve percent in Berkeley alone. An Alameda district reported that it made thirty-eight per cent of its purchases in Oakland exclusively, and ten per cent in Alameda exclusively.

These figures, although covering a comparatively small district in each of the neighboring cities selected at random, may be safely taken as indicating pretty accurately the average buying habits of the entire city in each case. They indicate to what a fortunate extent Oakland has assumed a position of leadership in catering to the tastes and preferences of the people of the great consuming district which the Eastbay cities and outlying territory comprise.

They should have a sobering effect upon those citizens of Oakland, particularly upon the merchants, who are nonchalantly and unthinkingly lending their efforts to a movement that can mean nothing but county division and the disruption of mutual confidence and respect. They should give these citizens a hint of the harmful effects that will certainly follow a revival of township rivalries and animosities.

Mr. John Wanamaker, merchant prince of the east; Mr. Charles E. Bedford, prominent official in the Standard Oil Corporation; heads of the steel industry, bankers throughout the country, government officials and other close observers of conditions, believe that the business revival that has now set in will be swift and certain. These men are shaping their plans confident that their prophesy as to the future will prove correct. They have faith in their beliefs. This is a good sign. Moreover, it will prove a powerful factor in bringing about the business revival predicted and hoped for.

Two baths a week are recommended by the federal government. This probably will provoke fresh determination from the agriculturist block in Congress to stick together tighter than ever. Government is encroaching alarmingly upon personal prerogatives.

WAR IN EUROPE.

Some time ago Lloyd George said that the powers had decided nothing could be done with Greece and Turkey. They could not be brought to reason, and intervention in their war, unless it was undertaken with full force, was useless. They were on their way and were to be allowed to keep on going. They could have their war and were welcome to it.

War, said the British prime minister, was a teacher of facts, and it might teach the Greeks and Turks some—teach them their limitations and teach them to be reasonable.

Serbia may have taken this statement as a permit to cut into Albania and get to the Adriatic, or the Serbians may have decided they did not need a permit to start a war. No nation seems to require a sanction these days for starting a movement to get what some one else has.

If Serbia cuts Albania in two, Greece is in the market for all or part of the southern half. Italy intends to interpose there. Italy intends to have Valona across the Straits of Otranto and with it bottle up the Adriatic as a private Italian lake. Great Britain is inclined to intervene here. The British want freedom of the Adriatic sea.

If war is to teach facts and establish them, school may be about to open again, with an eager attendance. Serbia gave the world a college education, beginning in 1914, but there is no indication that much was learned.

Some one has started a war regularly every five or six months since 1918 to get territory. The century following the congress of Vienna was one of periodic war. The period following the Paris conference has been one of continuous war. Now nearly every nation in Europe has armed forces in the territory of another nation.

Mr. Lloyd George's statement that it is impossible to handle the fighters is reiterated by the council of the league of nations. The Serbian delegate to the league of nations says that the Serbians do not intend to permit the league to interfere with the operations against Albania.

If Albania involves Jugo-Slavia in war with Italy there will be no way of stopping that unless Great Britain and France want to get into it themselves.

Three nations have signed the league's pledge to limit military expenditures. They are China, Bolivia, and Guatemala. The despairing conclusion is written by the league's committee on disarmament.

"Mankind is still too far removed from the ideals of peace to make possible at present the solution of the question of disarmament."

NOTES and COMMENT

If there is to be an interference with the wild duck refuge in Lake Merritt a good many people who took pleasure in the unusual flocking hither of wild fowl and the palpable assurance felt by the feathered visitors that they were safe though in the midst of those destructive of such wild life in its customary habitat, will be disappointed. The wild ducks, here for refuge, had come to be a most interesting feature.

It is something new entirely for the State Board of Control to interest itself in tuition fees at the State university. Under the State law fees may not be charged residents of the State, yet members of the Board of Control say there is much complaint of fees being charged. Going through the university has come to be a complicated process, and possibly some charges are complained of that the university authorities are not responsible for.

An instance of how the public watches and interprets the actions of the world's captains is the conclusion largely published, that a contemplated visit of E. H. Gary to Mexico was to buy the iron industry of that country, he being at the head of the United States steel industry. Mr. Gary has felt impelled to deny it. To be rich and powerful carries its penalties, one of which is that slight and commonplace actions are often misconstrued.

Warning has been sounded that bank clearances which may be lower this year than at the corresponding date last year do not necessarily indicate a recession in prosperity. Prices have fallen, and the same volume of business, or even greater, may be transacted now with less money than was required then. At that, there are very few recent reports showing lower clearances than those of last year.

There is likely to be a conclusion that Judge Mogan has done something for downtrodden man in his decision in a recent divorce case. It appeared that the wife had been the recipient of all the husband's income, and had refused to return him sufficient for his personal needs. Consequently he had "held out" on her. Judge Mogan ruled that the husband was justified. This is an important point in family amenities, and there will be satisfaction that it is at last settled.

The news from Porterville, about the woman saving her parrot from her burning home and leaving her jewels to their fate, is a variant of that about the other woman who threw the clock out of the window and carried a pillow carefully in her arms to safety. Human action when the house is on fire is not necessarily in accord with it in times of normalcy.

The news conveyed in despatches that seventy-five fell in a Peruvian revolutionary clash indicates that the same sort of "unrest" is going on in the southern zone of this continent that is so noticeable in sections of Europe. The uprising bug seems to sting the people in widely different sections of the earth about the same time.

The avalanche of bankers and their uniform prophecy of better times just ahead will do the Pacific Coast much good. It is well established that optimism helps on while pessimism retards progress back to normalcy. The bankers have certainly shown that they are a cheerful and appreciative company.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

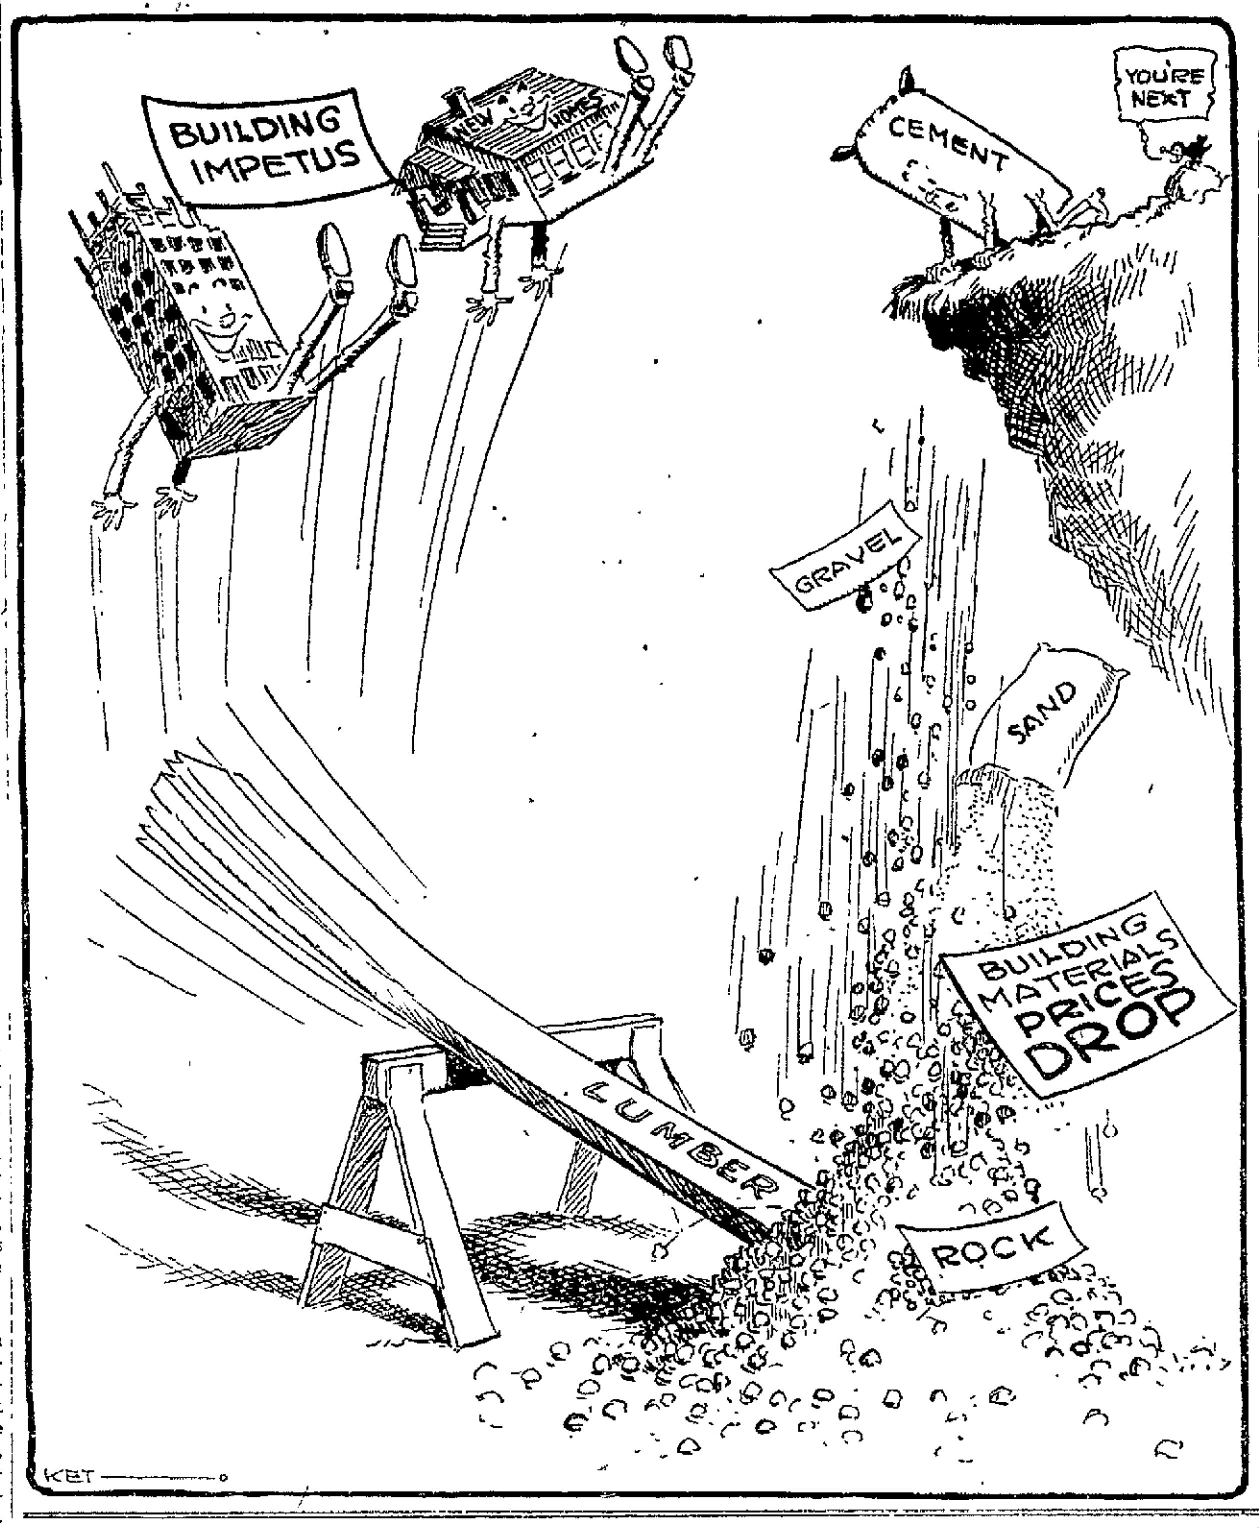
Approximately 3500 gallons of red wine flowed several feet deep in an irrigation ditch on the Rampoldi Brothers' ranch, the aftermath of one of the biggest raids in this section of California. While a 1500-gallon vat containing claret wine in the making and 25 50-gallon barrels of finished product were being thus emptied, eight barrels of "retail stock" stored in the basement of the Rampoldi home, were being poured back into Mother Earth by thirteen Federal agents last Friday.—Modesto News.

There are still 621 enlisted men attached to the "receiving ship" at Mare Island. The men are quartered at the cantonment barracks and it is believed that the force will be increased in the near future as the navy yard camp is one of the finest on this seaboard, as was proven when the crew of the California was trained for duty on the 44.—Vallejo News.

If some of our lawmakers and initiative petition signers would give a little more attention to the study of the Constitution of the United States, we would be saved the expense of a whole lot of fool legislation. It seems to be hard work for some Californians to be convinced that this State does not run the Federal Government.—Calaveras Prospect.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes thinks that home-brewing is simply a fad. "A whole lot of people are trying to get excitement or fun out of descending to the cellar and there performing certain mysterious rites supposed to result in the production of beer." And from what Mr. Haynes hears, the product bears little resemblance to the results aimed at.—Stockton Independent.

EVERY LITTLE DROP HELPS.



BUSINESS AND AGRICULTURE

The farmers of the nation prepared the ground, sowed the seed and harvested the crop of 1920, under conditions calling for high-priced labor, high-priced equipment, expensive facilities. In fact, all expenses were comparable with those of the previous year. Yet they were obliged to take for this crop, which was a larger crop than that of the year previous, some five billions of dollars less. . . . Granted that some method had been devised to reduce the price of farm products gradually, and that we had reduced the value of the 1920 crop but a billion dollars instead of five billion, giving the farmer for last year's crop four billion dollars more than the amount he received at the prevailing prices, what would have been the situation? There are 6,500,000 farms in the United States, upon which are engaged thirteen million men. These farms are, in effect, 6,500,000 separate manufacturing plants, needing woven wire fence, tractors, trucks, windmills, homes with all their equipment, clothing, shoes, lumber for barns, tile for drainage, steel for a thousand different purposes. These plants do as other plants do, namely, buy equipment when they have money to pay for it. Business is but an exchange or a trade of one article of commerce for another article of commerce. The farmer trades his wheat or his corn for a tractor, a truck or other equipment, and the fact that one man buys the wheat and pays for it in dollars, the farmer using the money to pay for the tractor does not essentially change the situation. Will anyone deny that had the farmer four million orders to place, for a thousand dollars each—had property in the way of agricultural products been valued at four billion dollars more than they were valued—he would have delayed making these trades?

If anyone of us could act as purchasing agent for the farmers of the nation, and had today four million orders for a thousand dollars each to place with the manufacturers of shoes, clothing, implements, trucks, tractors, automobiles, etc., every idle man in America would be put to work manufacturing the goods with which to fill these orders, and the manufacturers would have many orders to place with other business concerns for raw material and equipment. The business men of the nation, whose profits are only a charge for the service they render in connection with making these exchanges between agriculture and labor, would have orders. The business men with orders could pay his banker; labor employed would patronize the retailer; the retailer would buy of the jobber and manufacturer, and "business" would be in a very different situation. The lost labor of three million idle men, and the profits business men did not make on orders not received, would be traded for the farmers' crops. Were the trades made, the farmer would be benefited by the extra equipment, labor would be employed in making it, and business men would profit in making the exchanges.

A LONELY WORLD

It's getting so I want to see
The green returning to the tree,
I want to hear the robin's song—
The birds have been away so long
That I've begun to wonder when They'll come to build their nests again.

As when the youngsters go away
And all alone at home I stay,
The world has lonely grown to me,
For everywhere I turn to see
Some spot deserted and in gloom
Where friendly blossoms ought to bloom.

The corner where the children play
Looks up at me, as if to say,
"When shall I hear the shouts of glee
Which are the breath of life to me?"
And from a limb the creaking swing
Seems waiting to behold the spring.

I know they're tired of walls and floor,
The youngsters should be out-of-doors
And street and lawn need merry feet
To make their loveliness complete,
I'm hungry now once more to see

REGULATING THE CO-EDS.

If the Women's Council of the State University can accomplish it, the co-eds of that institution will serve the womanhood of California as the authoritative model of decorum and fashion. Already, under the rules of the council, the personal conduct of women students is above reproach. They cease dancing at 1 o'clock in the morning, and all "visiting," male or female after its kind, is prohibited at 10:30 in the evening. There are no more "wee sma' hours" in Berkeley, and those who desire to combine "social duties" or matrimony with their intellectual activities must go about it in broad daylight.

Having regulated the "morality" of the women students the council is now telling the girls how they must dress themselves. "College is not the place for the frivolous and painted doll, and we will have none of her," is the final edict of the councillors. "We come to college to study, not to dress," one eminent Prytanean Honorable announced.

But as in all things feminine, and especially in feminine fashions, there is the usual compromise. It is granted that "a woman can dress neat and in fashion without going to extreme," they say, although it is not explained what would happen if it were "the fashion" to dress in the "extreme." Some allowance, however, must be made for the proverbial "illogic" of woman as a species.

The masculine observer, somewhat cynical of college sumptuary laws, wonders how the Women's council of the university would handle the case of a truly beautiful woman (not a woman merely "pretty" or "good looking") who should appear on the campus attired in a costume consonant with her beauty and who was at the same time intellectually the peer of the homeliest of the councillors — an admirable feminine Crichton in her classes and the joy of the faculty. What would they do about it if this beautiful woman should tell the Women's council that she came to college to study, not to be dressed by the council? Would they undress her, or would they expel her?—San Diego Union.

About YOUR HEALTH

How the Shick Test Helps To Conquer Dread Diphtheria

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Disease should not be looked upon as something which must be had and from which there is no escape. The almost fatalistic manner in which we submit to certain ailments is amazing. We expect our children to have all the infectious or "catching" things. Referring to one of these, we ask the parent of a husky child:

"Has Willie had it yet?"

This means, of course, he must have it sometime, if he hasn't had it "yet."

Progress is being made. The combined armies in the last war did not suffer from typhoid as our little army did during the Spanish war.

Smallpox is almost unknown in advanced communities. The type we have now is almost negligible, it is so mild.

Unfortunately, some of the common diseases of childhood remain as mysterious as ever. After a while their causes will be discovered and means of prevention found. It is not long ago that a means of treating diphtheria was given humanity. Now, something equally wonderful has been determined. I refer to what is known as the "Schick test."

By this test it is possible to determine who are susceptible to diphtheria. Not every one can take diphtheria. Fortunately, many persons are naturally immune to this terrible disease. Only about 20 per cent of persons past 20 years of age are in danger of diphtheria. As a matter of fact, not over 30 per cent of persons past five years are susceptible to it. Of course, a much smaller percentage of persons actually have it, but between the ages of six months and three years, almost three-quarters of the children will contract diphtheria if exposed.

Since there is a means of vaccinating against diphtheria and thus protecting the child it is important to find out whether he needs protection or whether he comes in the 25 or 30 per cent group who have been given protection by kind nature.

When I was a boy every child used to run a pin through the superficial layers of the skin of the fingers to show that "it didn't hurt." In the Schick test, a hollow needle is inserted into the very outside layer of the skin in the same painless manner. A tiny drop of toxin is injected through this needle. Children susceptible to diphtheria, and, therefore, liable to have it, will have what is called a "reaction." That is, the spot where the toxin was injected will turn red and look like the beginning of a pimple or like a mosquito bite. It will stay red for a week or so.

On the contrary, if the child has natural protection, or "immunity," as it is called, there will be no reaction, no redness.

When there is a positive reaction the child should be "immunized"—that is, he should be vaccinated to protect him against the disease. It has been found that when the protecting injections are given, [illegible] 90 per cent are safe, and will never have the disease.

Every parent should give solemn thought to the importance of this means of protection against so terrible a disease. It troubles me to think so many little children are the needless victims of a disease which can be headed off so easily. It is so terrible in its after effects as well as in its fatalities!

Almost one-fourth of the children who have diphtheria between the ages of 1 and 5 die of the disease.

LIBERTY'S CENTENNIAL.

A century ago the various provinces of Central America declared their independence of Spain. Realizing the need of common action, they inaugurated and maintained for a while a semblance of union under the leadership of Guatemala. In fact, it seemed not unlikely that they would merge themselves with Mexico in order to make all the Latin provinces of North America one indivisable body.

But the collapse of Iturbide not only ended this ambitious project but brought disunion to Central America itself. Patriotic citizens persisted in their efforts, however, and gradually plans were evolved for common action. General Vicente Filisola called together a Congress in Guatemala for June 24, 1823, which assumed the status of a constituent assembly. This body continued its labors until January 23, 1825, when the Republic of Central America was formally proclaimed, with a constitution modeled after that of the United States.

This union fell asunder in the tumultuous years that followed, but the ideal to which it gave embodiment never died in the hearts of the people, and today has a new fulfillment in the formation of the Federation of Central American republics. That the present union is regarded, not as a new State, but the resurrection of the former republic, is shown by the adoption of the old flag, with its three horizontal bars, a bar of white between two of blue. — New York Sun.

Judge Lazarus Replies to Criticism of His Decision by Brady; Booze for Party At Hotel Traced by Agents

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—"I never knew it was such a fine world. I feel great. Everything will come out all right."

This was the statement of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle today, preparatory to leaving for Los Angeles, following his being held to answer to superior court on a charge of manslaughter by Police Judge Lazarus yesterday afternoon. The first degree murder charge, preferred against the film star in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, was dismissed.

Arbuckle was at liberty today on bail of $5000 for the first time in more than two weeks. He was taken from his cell late yesterday when the preliminary examination in police court had been concluded and the court failed to acceed to the demands of the district attorney and hold the screen actor to answer to a charge of murder.

Arbuckle spent the night at the home of his brother, A. C. Arbuckle, 690 Arguello boulevard. He will leave tonight for Los Angeles, accompanied by his wife, Minta Durfee Arbuckle; his mother-in-law, his manager, Lou Anger; Charles Brennan, one of his attorneys, and Frank Dominguez, chief counsel for the defense.

LAZARUS REPLIES.

Police Judge Lazarus was much disturbed today over the statement of District Attorney Matthew Brady criticizing him for reducing the charge against Arbuckle from murder to manslaughter.

"The District Attorney has no reason to be dissatisfied," said Judge Lazarus. He has picked out a sentence from my oral decision and played upon it for the purpose of showing that I was treating Arbuckle differently from another defendant in the same situation because he was a man of prominence and because of the attention attracted to the orgy culminating in Miss Rappe's death. I did not say so, nor did I wish to convey any such meaning. This the district attorney well knows.

"What I did say was that there was more than Arbuckle in the case. There was a moral issue involved. There was an orgy of drink. I did not hold the defendant to answer for murder because there was no showing that he had attacked Miss Rappe, that he had made a criminal assault on her or had attempted to do so. Had there been evidence to the effect that she had resisted his efforts to attack her and tried to prevent a criminal assault, if there was one, the situation would have been entirely different and I would have held Arbuckle to the higher court for murder.

BOOZE INVESTIGATION.

"There was no evidence of any assault save the testimony as to finger marks on the girl's arm. One witness told of hearing cries from the room but there was no evidence to show that if an assault of a criminal nature was attempted there was resistance and that such an attack culminated in Miss Rappe's death. I acted on the evidence, I believe, and it is significant that the same action was taken by the grand jury and by the coroner's jury."

Federal authorities believed today they would expose the largest liquor running ring yet unearthed in the west as an outgrowth of their investigation of Arbuckle's party.

They said a witness had been turned over to federal officials here by Long Beach and Los Angeles police who had disclosed a remarkable story of an alleged liquor ring maintaining branches in leading coast cities and securing its supplies from Mexico and Canada.

This ring, it was charged, furnished the liquor to Arbuckle's party.

BOY HELD AS THIEF.

George Rodgers, 17 years, who was arrested while attempting to drive away with the automobile belonging to L. J. Maddan, 381 Tenth street, was today turned over to the juvenile authorities. Maddan came out of his house just in time to see the boy try to start the machine. He held him until Policeman Albert Delke arrived on the scene.

Forest Fire Razes Trees, Fences and Underbrush

FIRE BREAKS OUT ANEW IN TUNNEL ROAD TERRITORY

Additional fire fighting forces consisting of Engine Company 19 and No. 1 Chemical of the Oakland fire department, were rushed to the Tunnel Road at one o'clock today to combat the forest fire, which broke out again in that section. Battalion Fire Chief Matt Healey superintended the work of the firemen and volunteers who sought to beat back the flames to the other side of the road. The conflagration late today was reported spreading.

The fire at that point had been practically extinguished last night and a portion of the appartus was withdrawn.

After raging for two days, during which time it swept over hills and through canyons and threatened to spread to the residential district of Claremont, the forest fire in the hills between the Fish ranch and the Tunnel road was reported to be abating today and well under control.

A brisk wind, which sprang up shortly before dusk late yesterday, turned the flames and blocked their path, which was gradually approaching the Claremont Hotel and a number of homes. Firemen from Oakland and Berkeley and volunteers were still at their posts today, however, ready to check any renewed outburst by the flames. They will remain on duty until the least possible chance of danger has passed, Battalion Fire Chief Martin Carlson, of the Oakland department, who is in charge of the fire fighting operations, said this morning.

CHECKED AT HIGHWAY.

The conflagration yesterday approached the Skyline boulevard and this served as a check for the flames. During the day Claremont and Arlington Heights, two of Berkeley's most exclusive districts, were threatened. The tunnel road leading to Contra Costa county was shut off all day and many other hill roads could not be traveled.

Today it was reaching down into the canyon on this side of the Tunnel road, but a lack of wind was preventing it from spreading with rapidity. Fences have been burned at some places for more than a thousand yards, and are still burning.

While the situation was pronounced this morning as being well under control, the fire is still burning with violence and should a wind, particularly an eastern breeze, arise during the day, the situation would again become serious.

TWO HOMES PERILED.

Shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the wind drove the flames to the back doors of two Claremont homes. One of them is the new house of Clyde Arrowsmith, Berkeley merchant. Arrowsmith loaded his household goods into two automobiles preparatory to moving out, but the fire fighters kept the flames away. The other home menaced was that of Ward Esterly. The fire burned around it, but the house was not touched.

Sparks and ashes from the blaze were carried a long distance. They fell in the heart of Berkeley and as far south as Twelfth street, Oakland. Ashes also were found in the Fruitvale section.

A dense cloud of heavy smoke, hanging low over the hills and Berkeley yesterday intimated at the seriousness of the fire. As the day went on the smoke increased until it had spread into southern Oakland.

Thousands of acres of beautiful trees have been razed by the flames. It is expected that the total damage will mount into thousands of dollars.

Officials of the East Bay Water company stated that the flames had done no damage to their land and equipment.

SHOW PATRON LOSES BIKE.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—Alfred Soulges of 1101 Santa Clara avenue had his recollections of a good show ruined last night when, after coming out of the theater, he found some thief had ridden away on his $50 bicycle.

Demurrer Filed by Accused Realty Men

A demurrer was filed to the complaint of T. J. McKeon and W. J. Culligan, real estate brokers, who are charged with obtaining money under false pretense on the grounds that the complaint doer not state that a public offense has been committed. The demurrer was filed this morning before Police Judge Ralph Richmond by Attorneys Myron Harris and Pierre A. Fontaine when the case came up for hearing. The case was continued until October 7, when Judge Richmond will give a decision.

The two men were arrested two weeks ago on the complaint of Mrs. Victoria Fogg. She accuses the men of fraudulent transaction in the sale to her of the Golden West Annex rooming house. She also states that a mortgage of $2300 on the property was to have been cleared previous to the sale but this, she claims, was not done.

DISTRICT TO PAY COST OF STREET WORK

All Downtown Residence Region West of Lake Will Be Assessed for Expense of Widening Part of 14th St.

A large assessment district will be called upon to provide the funds for the widening of Fourteenth street, according to City Attorney Leon Gray, who states that as outlined by the superior court it will comprise practically the entire downtown residential section this side of Lake Merritt.

The south line of the district is parallel to and 100 feet north of Thirteenth street. The west line is up Broadway to 100 feet north of and parallel to Fourteenth street. The line then goes east to 150 feet east of the east line of Franklin, thence east 150 feet east of the east line of Harrison, thence north to 100 feet south of the south line of Nineteenth, thence east to the western line of Jackson, thence to eastern line of Jackson and along it to 100 feet north on north of the north line of Lake, thence along Lake to Oak, thence down Oak to 100 feet north of Thirteenth.

DISTRICT LINES.

Gray says that the Fourteenth street project, important as it is, will be dwarfed by the magnitude of the Seventeenth street project. The condemnation suits for the opening of Seventeenth street through many present pieces of property start in November.

"This will be a costly project," says Gray, "but it will be well worth all that is spent. It will mean a new business district for Oakland."

CLAY STREET EXTENSION.

Gray also announces that a plan is afoot for cutting Clay street across San Pablo to Telegraph avenue.

"Clay street could relieve traffic immensely by running through to Telegraph," says Gray. "At present it is blocked by many buildings, but Oakland traffic conditions are becoming worse every year and we must find outlets. Clay street is one of the logical arteries of commerce."

Ex-Actress Is Fined For 'Dope' Violation

Gail Kennedy, alias Gail Perkins, a stenographer, 28 years old, pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of violating the state poison act before Police Judge Mortimer Smith. She was fined $50 or twenty-five days in the city prison.

She was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Frank Barnett while she was talking through a barred window from the outside of the county jail. According to the police she was talking to Fred Thomas, who is serving a three months sentence for violating the state poison act. She told the police that Thomas is her husband.

At the time of her arrest the police say that she had a small quantity of narcotics in her vanity bag. At one time she was a movie actress in Los Angeles. She expects to be released on bail this afternoon.

Man Free of False Pretenses Charge

Police Judge Ralph Richmond today dismissed the case of obtaining money under false pretense against Jack Rogers. He was arrested on the complaint of John Baxter, 5006 Telegraph avenue.

Baxter alleges that he gave Rogers $100 as a loan for four hours and in return he was to receive $175, or $75 interest.

Rogers told Police Inspector Wm. Emigh he borrowed the money to purchase liquor in Richmond, adding that he did not pay it back because he was arrested by the prohibition enforcement officers in Richmond when he went to purchase the liquor.

Girl Puts Bold Masher to Flight With Trusty Pin

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Miss Ruth Ryan, 19, reported to the police today that she was accosted by a strange man at Ninth and Virginia streets last night and forced to fight and scream for protection.

According to Miss Ryan the man, who sat behind her on the electric train got off at her station and followed her. When he grabbed her by the arm and started pulling her toward the shadows, Miss Ryan drew a hatpin and jabbed him several times. She ran into a nearby house and gave the alarm which was relayed to the police. Miss Ryan lives at 1502 Fifth street.

U. S. SLEUTHS SEEK PAL OF GARDNER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Federal authorities were searching today in San Francisco for George C. Wilbur, Raymond, Wash., restaurant proprietor and close friend of Roy Gardner, bandit.

Wilbur, who mysteriously disappeared from Raymond, made a telephone call from San Francisco to his restaurant yesterday, authorities said they had learned. They said their information was authentic.

They believe that if they can find Wilbur they will be close to capturing Gardner.

Flurries of Snow Fall in Texas Town

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 29.—Flurries of snow fell here today and pedestrians scurried to work in overcoats as Amarillo experienced its first touch of winter. Temperature ranged around 40 degrees.

JURY SYSTEM IS SCORED BY JUDGE BROWN

Former Jurist Tells Rotary Club Members Placing of Incompetents in Box Tends to Undermine Government

In the presence of a number of Alameda county superior judges, and before the Rotary Club at luncheon this noon, Everett Brown, former judge, attacked the jury system used in this county. Judge Brown said that the manner of choosing jurors was responsible for the selection of incapables and for verdicts that were not just. Unless there is a realization of the duty of every man to respond for service, he said, there is danger of an undermining of government because of the growing feeling that the courts were not according fair treatment. Listening to Judge Brown were the following members of the superior bench: James G. Quinn, Joseph Koford, T. H. Harris, L. S. Church, A. L. St. Sure, E. C. Robinson and George Samuels.

"The average jury," said Judge Brown, "is composed of seekers of fees. In creating these juries of incompetents we are undermining government because we are fostering the growing belief that justice is not returned in the verdicts. The average man, after facing one of our average juries, is of the belief that he has not had a fair trial.

"In order to have good juries the enthusiasm and sentiment of the people to that end is needed. Any busy man is not too busy to serve, any good man is not too good. It is a duty that should be recognized by each and every one of you."

FORTUNE SOLDIER GOES TO TRIAL IN BAD CHECK CASE

The trial of Hugh Newell, alias Bruce Vincent Douglass, world adventurer, soldier of fortune and contestant with his alleged wife for 1,000,000 acres of jungle land in Brazil, on a charge of passing a fictitious check, began today before Superior Judge George Samuels.

Mrs. Ella Mair Bennett Douglass was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure last April, at which time she was awarded the community property, consisting mainly of the vast track of land in South America given to Newell by the government of Brazil in recognition of his service as a major in the Brazilian army.

Newell, then in Sing Sing prison, New York, announced his intention to fight the suit and filed an affidavit with Judge St. Sure declaring Mrs. Douglass' marriage to him was a bigamous one, as she was then the undivorced wife of John Arthur Bennett, living in Nebraska. A motion to set aside the divorce decree will be heard October 7. Newell says he will fight for his property to the end.

The present charge accuses Newell of passing a worthless check for $50 on the First National bank of Oakland. Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren is prosecuting the case, while Attorney Charles H. Seccombe appears for the defendant.

Children Net $14,620 By Drive in Schools

A total of $14,620.07 was raised by Oakland school children for philanthropic and civic improvement work during the last year, according to a report by Mrs. Sue L. Fratis, director of these activities.

The money was outside tax or school funds and was subscribed voluntarily by students, and spent by them under proper adult guidance, as part of their training in citizenship.

Much of the money was raised through sales in the Red Cross shop and was spent in the four day nurseries, the shoe fund and the student loan fund. Eleven childrens' health centers and dental clinics have been assisted by these funds raised by the children, and many other special activities were financed. In spite of all these calls on the funds, a balance of $553.23 was carried over into the present school term.

San Leandro Man Granted Probation

Herman A. Girling, 2307 Seminary avenue, formerly in charge of a San Leandro cannery, was granted five years' probation today by Judge Samuels after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of passing bad checks. Probation Officer L. D. Compton recommended probation. Girling said he was ill with rheumatism and had cashed the check to aid in supporting an invalid wife.

Carl S. Schillinger pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing worthless paper on a Chinese market at 411 Ninth street. He will be tried October 15.

One Year Probation For Chiropractor

Probation for one year was granted today to H. Alfred Anderson, Berkeley, former chiropractor, by Superior Judge George Samuels on condition that he refrain from practicing his profession.

Anderson pleaded guilty to the charge of practicing healing without a license. Physicians testified that his health would be impaired by confinement in jail. Anderson admitted he had had only one year of training, fourteen years ago, for his profession. He lives at 2108 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley.

W.C.T.U. Gather to Dedicate Industrial Home for Girls

County Union Opens Annual Convention in Union St. Presbyterian Church.

Dedication of the Frances E. Willard Home for Industrial Girls tonight will be the outstanding feature of the thirty-ninth annual convention of Alameda County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which opened today in Union Street Presbyterian church. The old mansion at 1074 Twelfth street will be formally opened on Saturday to the young women who will become its first residents. The achievement of the county union in purchasing and equipping the boarding home is a matter of comment in W. C. T. U. circles throughout the country.

Girls employed and with no family ties are eligible to residence, with a maximum charge of $25 for room and board and accomodations for laundry. As soon as possible the organization contemplates the addition of room for a household of 50.

HOUSE TO GREET VISITORS.

A mortgage of $2000 remains on the property which is at Twelfth and Chestnut streets. The county union has collected the entire sum, which has been expended in acquiring and equipping the home without city or State aid. County officers tonight will receive the delegates to the convention and members of the local unions, and the house will be open to visitors.

A resume of the year's work was given at the opening session today by officers, department chairmen, local presidents and superintendents. The reports covered the achievements of 500 members scattered through seven locals. Mrs. C. W. Johnson, county president, delivered her annual message this afternoon. Welcome to the convention was expressed by Mrs. J. M. Brown, with Mrs. Addie Moore making the response.

World disarmament was discussed at the closing session today, Mrs. Melva Green delivering the address and leading the discussion.

Election of officers will be accomplished by secret ballot tomorrow morning. The adoption of resolutions will procede adjournment in the afternoon

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, assemblywoman from Berkeley, will be a speaker tomorrow afternoon. She will discuss "Our Laws and Their Enforcement." Mrs. Sara J. Dorr, state president, will outline the state convention to be held next month in Fresno and Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp will present a plan to interest new members.

Special guests of the convention are: Mrs. Sara J. Dorr, Mrs. Gertrude Burdick, Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, Miss Lusy Whitwell.

County officers are: President, Mrs. C. W. Johnson, vice president-at-large, Miss Jennie Lind Redfield; first vice-president, Mrs. Hattie McMath; second vice-president, Mrs. A. R. Slater; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mazie McDonald; recording secretary, Mrs. A. D. King; treasurer, Mrs. S. J. Young; pianist, Mrs. F. Van Wicklem; auditor, Mrs. W. J. Hamilton.

Des Moines Wins Fight for 1922 G.A.R. Encampment

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 29.—Des Moines today was chosen for the 1922 encampment of the G. A. R. The G. A. R. at its final business session elected Lewis S Pilcher of Brooklyn, N. Y., to succeed William A. Ketcham of Indianapolis as commander-in-chief

Through streets packed with flag-waving, shouting citizens, the grand army paraded. Last night the veterans sought the rest places provided throughout the downtown district, but yesterday they marched jauntily, tramping in step with the music of war drums and fifes.

Hundreds of automobiles were ready for those who might be unable to march, but their number was small.

The cheering started with the approach of the Old Guard at the head of the column. These veterans marched with equipment and rifles, keeping orderly files. The Purdue University band followed the old guard and swung into place. Then came the veterans in six divisions—Illinois, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maine, California, Nevada, New Hampshire and Rhode Island the second; the Potomac, Virginia, Vermont, North Carolina, Maryland, Nebraska, Michigan, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Delaware the third; Minnesota, Missouri, Oregon, Kentucky, West Virginia, South Dakota, Washington, Alaska, Arkansas, New Mexico, Utah, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Florida, Montana, Texas, Idaho, Arizona, Georgia, South Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Indiana the fourth. The fifth division was composed of Spanish-American and world war veterans, and in the sixth division were disabled veterans in automobiles.

Preceding the parade the G. A. R. delegates passed a resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan. The Sons of Veterans passed a similar resolution. "Whatever may be its purposes," said the G. A. R. resolution, "we believe its methods are un-American and that its existence is a standing menace to constituted government and to the open and impartial administration of the law."

Two Held for Murder in "Double Suicide" Tragedy

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—Vincent M. Parrell, 22 and Winfred Strike, 21, were arrested here early today on suspicion of the murder of Dr. Joseph P. Durand and Myron George McCauley, whose bodies were found in the wreckage of an automobile in the southwestern part of Los Angeles, April 25 last. An official verdict of double suicide was rendered after three days' investigation of the Durand-McCauley case, but relatives of both men declined to accept it, declaring there was no reason for them to have killed themselves.

According to the police, Parrell and Strike were acquainted with Durand and McCauley, and shortly before the tragedy borrowed from Durand two revolvers, neither of which was returned, although one was said to have been found near the bodies in the wrecked motor car.

Other allegations of the police are that a missing diamond ring, the property of Durand, was sold by Parrell, that Charles Francis, brother-in-law to Durand, saw three men running away from the place where the bodies were found and heard one of them say, "Well, I guess we got them that time" and that alleged knowledge by Durand and McCauley of a burglary the police asserted had been committed by Parrell and Strike provided a motive for the slayings.

Durand was a dentist and McCauley was a scenario writer. Each was 22 years old. McCauley was the son of H. O. McCauley, a business man of Colorado Springs, Colo. Durand was engaged to marry Miss Helen Zeleski of Chicago, who came to Los Angeles for the funeral.

Durand was shot twice in the abdomen and McCauley once in the heart.

AWAIT HERO'S BODY.

TRACY, Sept. 29.—The body of James McDermott is expected to arrive some time today from France for final interment at his boyhood home. The young soldier fell at the front, being the only Tracy lad to make the supreme sacrifice. In his honor the local post, American Legion, was given his name. Should the remains arrive today, the funeral will be held tomorrow with full military honors.

REVELATIONS OF EARLY OAKLAND DAYS ARE GIVEN

Revelations of a bygone day, when Oakland was young, were heard yesterday by the Oakland Progressive Business Men, at the organization's weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, when Judge George Langan, Oakland attorney and one of the oldest active pioneers, spoke on the growth of the city since 1872

Recalling the day when Fourteenth street was but a cowpath, Langan spoke of the huge board awnings that extended out over the sidewalks at that time.

"During a parade," said Langan, "people would climb out onto these awnings from the second story windows to get a good view of the street. Not all of those awnings were built well. One used to break now and then and let the sightseers down on the sidewalk, sometimes with disastrous results.

ATTORNEYS SEEK CLIENTS.

"I recall one time that I heard a crash a few blocks away during a parade and rushed to the scene, expecting that perhaps I would pick up a little business from someone who thought they had damages against the merchant who permitted too many people to use his awning. I found every attorney in town there After that I noticed that every time an awning fell every lawyer in town would try to beat the next one there."

Langan described Fourteenth street as a cowpath. The street was then closed, a gate on Broadway admitting persons to a path that led to what is now Fourteenth and Franklin streets, where stood the First Presbyterian church. A few shacks were located along Fourteenth street where now stands the Hotel Oakland and the Southern Pacific depot building.

HAD BIG OPPORTUNITY.

Langan told of an opportunity to buy the block of land where Kahn's store now stands He was advised that this part of town was a goat pasture and always would be, and that anyone who purchased it would never realize a cent out of the deal.

"That's the price one sometimes pays by listening to the other fellow," said Langan.

Langan said that in the early days Oaklanders who had termed themselves progressive business men were the first to turn a cold shoulder to really progressive civic movements He declared that Oakland's great start toward a rapid growth came after the San Francisco fire and earthquake of 1906, when thousands of San Francisco people came to Oakland for a short time and then decided to make it their permanent home.

The speaker urged the Progressive Business Men to look further into the future rather than assume the attitude that the future would take care of itself.

Speeders Held Worse Than Thugs

"I have less condemnation for a burglar or a hold-up man than for one who deliberately imperils the lives of innocent persons by criminal recklessness in driving automobiles."

This was the statement today of Superior Judge George Samuels in declaring war on violators of the motor vehicle laws and in denying the request of Cecil Street, 22, for probation. Street was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail. He has been in jail four months awaiting trial.

"It is time for the courts to treat these felons with the severity they deserve," said Judge Samuels.

LIGHT CO. SUED.

MERCED, Sept. 29.—The suit of Charles A. Pezzalia against the San Joaquin Light and Power company went on trial here yesterday in the superior court, Judge Stanley Murray of Madera sitting for Judge E. N. Rector, who will hear cases in Judge Murray's court. The case, a damage action, will cover a period of several days.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Backed by assurances of non-interference from President Harding, Republican senators today renewed their campaign for a new Senate cloture rule to prevent filibustering and obstructive debate. The immediate task before the group of Republicans advocating the change in time-honored Senate procedure was said to be conversion of a few prominent leaders, notably Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, floor leader.

Democratic senators failed again today to reach an agreement on ratification of the German, Ausrian and Hungarian peace treaties. It was decided at a second conference that each Democratic senator should be permitted to follow his individual judgment in voting for or against the treaties.

Retention of the corporation capital stock tax and repeal of all of the special taxes, such as those on brokers, proprietors of theaters, circuses, automobile bus lines, shooting galleries, etc., is proposed in one of a series of amendments to the Republican tax revision bill, offered today by Senator Simmons of North Carolina on behalf of the Democratic members of the finance committee. The bill as reported to the Senate proposes repeal of the corporation stock tax and retention of the other taxes.

The existing sur tax rates on big incomes and the excess profits tax are "throttling industry" and stagnating capital that should be put into productive fields, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today in discussing the tax situation. Recovery of business from the present depression, he said, would be materilly speeded up by the repeal of these provisions of the existing law.

Senate Democrats at a conference today adopted a resolution expressing the hope "that the fullest measure of success attend the disarmament conference called by President Harding."

OPEN BREAK IN WAR MOTHERS' RANKS AVERTED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—An open break in the ranks of the American War Mothers' meeting here in national convention was averted yesterday afternoon when it was decided to allow three San Francisco delegates, whose credentials had been questioned, to sit in the convention as spectators.

The final status of these delegates will depend on action of the San Francisco Chapter, it was stated by Mrs. Alice French, president of the national organization.

The trouble arose when it was stated that the delegates represented the San Francisco Chapter of California War Mothers, an organization said to have no status with the War Mothers of America.

A stormy scene followed, after which it was decided to admit the delegates as spectators only and await word from the San Francisco Chapter.

The delegates whose status was questioned were Mrs. Clara F. Sawyer, president of the San Francisco Chapter, Mrs. Esther Selig and Mrs. Leah H. Davis.

Routine business was transacted during the afternoon session, the principal subject of debate being the meeting place for next year. Delegations from several cities pushed their claims

Omaha and Kansas City are contenders for the 1922 convention of National War Mothers. Philadelphia has made a bid for the 1926 convention in connection with the world's fair to be held there Planting a war mother's tree in the memorial grove at the state capitol featured today's program. Elections will be held tomorrow.

"I will now sing a song I composed soon after the war was over," he said. "It was written when we thought the American Legion would do something more than promote prize fights and street carnivals."

A storm of disapproval at once arose His words were heard with shouts of "stop such talk" from the mothers of veterans.

TOKYO, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—As a part of her fundamental policy at the Washington conference, Japan will not permit the "scrapping" of the "twenty-one demands" agreement with China and will not tolerate interfence in the Shantung question, it was declared to the Associated Press yesterday by a Japanese in an authoritative position. He asserted Japan considered these matters as accomplished facts which concerned China and Japan directly. In the general discussion of Far Eastern matters, however, Japanese was said to be willing frankly to explain her position regarding these questions.

DECLARED READY FOR CURTAILMENT.

The government is preparing to issue special instructions to the Japanese delegates concerning the limitation of armaments, says the Nichi Nichi Shimbun. It is indicated that the project for the building of eight battleships and eight battle cruisers originated in the idea that this program was necessary for the national principle, but that Japan has come to recognize the project has lost its original significance.

She is, therefore, prepared in agreement with the powers to carry out such curtailment, it is said, as would make her navy strong enough to maintain the peace of the Far East.

The choice of Prince Tokugawa as head of the Japanese delegation meets with national favor, and gives the opposition party no ground for attack upon the government.

Opposition newspapers, however, turn a fire of criticism upon Premier Hara, saying he was "too cowardly to go to Washington himself and accept responsibility for decisions taken there."

CHINA'S DELEGATION STARTS FOR CONFERENCE.

PEKING, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—China's delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments and Far Eastern questions left this city for Shanghai today on its way to Washington, intending to make the voyage across the Pacific on the steamer Hawkeye State. Dr. W. W. Yen, foreign minister, who has been expected to be chief of the delegation, did not leave today, but it was said he would follow, provided China's Shantung policy was determined soon enough for him to reach the American capital for the opening of the conference. The diplomats who left today were Chow Tsechi, formerly secretary of the Chinese legation in Washington; Wang Ta-Shieh, leader of the progressive party and former minister of foreign affairs; Dr. M. T. Liang, former minister of foreign affairs.

The remainder of the party consisted of 22 technical experts, 19 secretaries assigned to various departments, 19 attaches, 17 translators and several foreign advisers.

PORTUGAL ASKS FOR SEAT AT CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—A request by Portugal for a seat at the armament conference during discussion of Far Eastern policies has been forwarded to the other participating nations for their consideration, the State Department announced today. It is believed here that the request of Portugal will be granted.

SOCIETY ENTERTAINED.

RICHMOND, Sept. 29.—A. L. Pearson entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church at her home on Nicholl avenue yesterday afternoon. The musical numbers consisted of a piano solo by Miss Wilda Howland, a recitation by Mrs Paul Dunlap and a duet by Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Pearson.

Prospects for Navy Base Promising, Says Elston

That a distinct victory was scored in the designation of Alameda as the site for the Pacific naval base by the joint Congressional commission is the assertion of Congressman J. A. Elston. He regards this official action as of prime importance in the campaign to induce Congress to make an appropriation for the project.

At the same time, Elston says that immediate action should not be expected. He says that the history of national legislation shows that years are often consumed in consummating projects of the magnitude of the naval base.

NAVAL BASE TALK.

The Congressman's views were expressed following a meeting of the naval base committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Oakland yesterday afternoon. And after his statement of opinion, the committee was informed of the following developments, which were considered significant:

The Navy Department insists on retaining the deed to the Alameda tidelands until the very last minute.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt has set on foot inquiries as to the status of submerged lands in San Francisco county, which are desired as a part of the base.

"The main thing to keep in sight," Congressman Elston said, "is the disarmament conference in Washington. This will play an important part in the future of the navies of the world. If all the nations vote to disarm, of course there will be an end to big warship building programs. This will mean, naturally, a curtailment of the facilities for caring for navies. This does not mean that such action sounds the knell of the Pacific naval base, for the navy experts are agreed that the facilities on this coast are entirely inadequate for the care of the fleet now stationed in these waters.

"If the disarmament conference fails of its object, then one may expect a whirlwind of warship building. The answer in relation to the naval base is obvious.

"I do not presume to predict the outcome of the conference. I am expert in neither international diplomacy nor prophecy."

VICTORY FOR EASTBAY.

Congressman Elston told the committee intimate, confidential details of the fight in Washington for and against the naval base project. Based on his active participation in the campaign, he made this declaration:

"You have scored a big victory in getting Alameda designated as the site for the Pacific naval base. No one out here can realize the opposition that existed in Congress to the project, nor the way in which your managing director, Mr. Caine, and I actually sweat blood until the report favorable to the Alameda site was safely through the Congressional rapids.

"Two powerful factors militated against securing an appropriation—the national-wide insistence for economy and the powerful sentiment for disarmament. Both were the natural outcome of the bloodiest war the world had ever seen. Then, too—and because of the economy and disarmament waves—there was no militant supporter of the naval base item. Those, who could have been of assistance realized this."

PATIENCE ADVISED.

The Congressman then pointed out that possibly several years might be required to gain complete success. He said.

"Don't be impatient. Don't expect results at once. If you will look over the history of Congress you will see that it is always slow in giving approval to such large projects. Usually these things are considered for years. In the case of Alameda, it may be five years, it may be ten years, and then, again, it may come all at once"

Congressman Elston plans to return to Washington within the next two or three weeks. Immediately upon his arrival in the national capital he will make a survey of the situation and report to the naval base committee.

TRUNK BURGLAR ESCAPES POLICE IN BULLET HAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—A thrilling chase through the Mission district in which ten shots were fired by pursuing police featured the spectacular escape of a trunk burglar early today.

Neighbors notified the Mission station that an automobile was being loaded with trunks from the factory of John H. Henderson, 1769 Howard street. Patrolman Joseph Grimminger and Sergeant James Malloy responded in a small runabout.

As they approached, the burglar jumped into his car and fled. He disregarded orders to halt, and the pursuit led along Howard to Fourteenth and thence to Dolores and on out that thoroughfare Both officers fired at the back of the car, denting it with bullets, but the fugitive only put on more speed.

On making a turn he ran down a citizen and one of the doors of the machine was hurled off. The pedestrian was uninjured and the burglar got away. Trunks to the value of $500 had been taken, and according to residents of the neighborhood at least three trips had been made to the factory.

Will of County's School Head Filed

Five thousand dollars, mostly in Liberty bonds, and two unimproved lots, are left to be divided between a son and daughter in the will of George W. Frick, late county superintendent of schools. The document, which was filed today, expresses the wish that the body be cremated and names as the two heirs Mrs. Gladys Childs Shepherd and Raymond L. Frick, both of whom live at 15 Eucalyptus Road, Berkeley

FOUR EFFORTS IN 15 MINUTES TO END LIFE FAIL

Horace A. McLain, a motorman, made four attempts to end his life yesterday within fifteen minutes, according to police records. After his last attempt the police were called and he was arrested. He is being held in the city prison pending an examination as to his sanity.

Mrs. Mary Frazier of 1223 Magnolia street, at whose home he resides, detected the odor of gas coming from his room. Accompanied by Miss Frieda Holley, she entered and found McLean stretched on the floor, covered with an American flag. He had a small gas tube in his mouth.

The gas was turned off and Dr. Judson Liftlied was called.

After the doctor had left he grabbed a bottle of poison and tried to swallow it The women took the poison away from him and he then grabbed a razor. After they had taken the razor from him he secured a revolver from his dresser. The women battled with him and finally got possession of the weapon. The police were then called in.

McLain is 35 years old. According to the police, he has been despondent because of family trouble.

Man Convicted of Forgery by Jurors

Alex Zolli was convicted of forgery by a jury in Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure's court. Zolli was accused of passing a check for $44 on Mrs. Rose Crestotto, 573 Thirty-fourth street, and one for $46 on John Wettig, 482 Seventh street. Both checks were drawn on the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Stockton, which has been out of business for nearly a year, and purported to be signed by Tony Gatto:

FOR THE HOME

SEPTEMBER HOLDS HEAT RECORD FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS

Backbone of Ho Spell Is Broken; Cooler Weather Tomorrow Promised.

Despite predictions, today showed a long drop in temperature from yesterday. Against a noon temperature yesterday of 91 the thermometer this noon at Chabot Observatory rose to but 76½ degrees.

Moderate westerly winds are predicted for tonight with tomorrow remaining fair but registering a perceptible drop in temperature. Although the bay region and most of the state has sweltered under the heat wave of the past few days, according to Professor Burckhalter September has not been an extraordinarily hot month.

The thermometer yesterday reached 93 degrees, cooling off toward evening. The highest eat record still remains with September, 1904, when 99 degrees was officially recorded.

The mercury went to 93 degrees at 2 p. m. in San Francisco yesterday, making the highest record in 17 years for September for that city. It dropped to 78 degrees by 5 p. m.

Los Angeles enjoyed a cool day yesterday, the weather report showing 78 degrees maximum. Needles and Fresno, where 98 degrees were registered, were the warmest spots in California. Sacramento, Red Bluff and San Jose were 2 degrees cooler. San Diego enjoyed a comparatively cool day with the mercury at 80.

POWER COMPANY PAYS $34,691 FRANCHISE TAXES

City Attorney Leon Gray today notified the city council of the receipt of $34,691.38 from the Great Western Power company as percentages due the city under franchises dating from June 9, 1913, to May 31, 1918. The power company, according to Gray, has given notice that it will pay the last three years' percentage very soon. The latter will total more than $50,000.

Hearings of protests on the proposed widening of Bond street were deferred one week. The protestants comprise 13.23 per cent of the property owners affected.

The sum of $2434 98 was appropriated for culverts and a wall along East Twelfth street, from Forty-seventh to Fiftieth avenues.

Farmers Accused Of Blocking Road

Charges that residents along the Stony Brook Canyon road, connecting Niles canyon and Dublin boulevard, have erected fences and gates across the road which virtually destroy its usefulness were made before the board of supervisors today.

Attorney Gilbert L. Jones asked the board to order the gates removed. He said the road, which is about six miles long in one of the prettiest scenic drives in the county. Instead of building fences parallel with the road, he said, the farmers have erected them across the road and extended them to separate the various parcels of property. Gates are frequent, he said.

Supervisors Charles W. Heyer and Daniel J. Murphy will investigate the matter and report to the board. The supervisors indicated they will order the gates removed if conditions prove as represented.

CARMEN TO INITIATE.

RICHMOND, Sept. 29.—Plans for an initiation were made at the meeting of the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen last night at Moose hall. Seven applicatins for membership were received.

Put Cross Opposite October 6; Tribune Host to City at Idora

ENTIRE DAY SET ASIDE, EVERYBODY TO BE WELCOME

Admission Tickets Will Be Distributed Through Shops, Markets.

Just one week from today—October 6.

Mark it down on the calander and have mother put the house in order early that day—for that's the day of days of the year.

It's TRIBUNE day at Idora park.

The big day that boys and girls and mothers and dads have looked forward to—the day when The TRIBUNE will play host to the people of the entire Eastbay region and provide the time of their lives at Oakland's great amusement park.

Boy! Oh, boy!

TRIBUNE PAYS BILLS.

It's going to be some time and The TRIBUNE is going to pay all the bills and provide all the fun.

Tickets will be distributed to the citizens from the various shops and markets about the Eastbay region. These will admit the holders to the park.

Then on entering the park each person will be given a bunch of tickets, good for rides on the several concessions in the park and oh, what a lot of fun there is going to be.

There's the scenic railways and the race through the clouds. There's the "dodge 'em" and the whip and the derby race and the merry-go-round.

For a real thrill there are captive airplanes and for a real "kick," with a laugh every step, there's "Noah's ark," with the old man McGinty in the bottom of the pool.

FOR THE WEE FOLK.

For the wee, tiny folk there are scores and scores of places for them to have lots of fun. There are the wading pool, the swings and slides and the funny little donkeys with their long flapping ears and regular saddles. Roller skating and dancing and many other forms of amusement are to be found in the park, too, and all will be at the command of The TRIBUNE'S guests.

There will be a wonderful musical program for our guests, both afternoon and evening, novelty features of all kinds and just the kind of music the folks all like.

So be sure and come.

The TRIBUNE wants you to come and be its guest on Thursday, October 6. The expense is ours and the fun is for you. Our great organization, the greatest newspaper organization in the western section of the United States, is bending its every effort to make this the greatest of the great TRIBUNE days, so don't fail to be there.

It's all free; come and be happy with us on TRIBUNE day.

Borrowing Habit Is Divorce Cause

Charles P. Hansen's predilection for living on money borrowed from his wife's friends and raised by other means caused his wife's affections to wane, Mrs. Florence Hanssen told Superior Judge T. W. Harris to-day in petitioning for a divorce from Hansen. Hansen made a general denial to his wife's charges, but interposed no resistance to her suit. Judge Harris granted her an interlocutory decree of divorce and allowed her to resume her maiden name, Florence L. Relfe. The Hansens were married on June 12, 1920, and separated on August 26, 1921.

They'll Show How It Works

MISS LARISSA MARTIN (seated) and MISS GENEVIEVE DOUGLAS are two young women assisting in preparations for the Industrial Exhibit at Idora Park, October 1-9. They are demonstrating machinery manufactured in this county.

'Thousand and One' Features For Big Parade on Saturday

George Shelden, chairman of the parade committee of the Associated Manufacturers of the Eastbay Cities who are staging the first Annual Industrial Week and Exposition to be held at Idora Park, October 1 to 9 inclusive, promises "a thousand and one" features for the parade through the downtown section at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the opening day of the exposition.

"The parade committee started out to arrange for an ordinary parade, one which would have done credit to the exposition directors, but the interest which has been aroused among manufacturers and merchants has become so great that the parade will be three or four times larger than originally planned," Shelden said today.

"We appreciate the fact that the public likes music and we've arranged to have bands galore. The industrial parade will be one long remembered by all who see it. So far we have sufficient floats depicting the industrial growth of the Eastbay section to fill one entire section. The parade committee urges that the parents see that every school boy and girl in the Eastbay district line the streets Saturday as the parade will contain many features of a constructive nature."

Idora Park is a busy place these days. The great tent to house the exposition has been put in place and workmen and decorators are working day and night installing the many booths which will contain thousands of Eastbay manufactured products.

Merchants along Telegraph avenue today informed the exposition officials that they had designated a committee to decorate the street from Fourteenth street to Idora Park.

LEGION WILL HEAR GIRL VIOLINIST

Miss Esther Mauskopf, violinist, who has been heard by many audiences around the bay, will head the list of entertainers who will feature the ball to be staged at the Oakland auditorium by Argonne post and Oakland post No. 5 of the American Legion next Saturday evening.

The affair will be under the supervision of a committee from both posts. Many clubwomen of the Eastbay are assisting in the arrangements and a record attendance is being anticipated.

The entertainment numbers include Mrs. Noah Pate, vocalist, who will be accompanied by S. M. Hulett. Miss Mauskopf will be accompanied by David Rosen, who will later render a solo on the piano. Several surprise numbers have been planned by the committee.

Widow Is Witness in Rickey Will Contest

Mrs. Alice Belle Rickey, widow of Thomas B. Rickey, capitalist, was placed on the stand today in the double will contest brought by the children of Rickey's first wife and the grandchild of a deceased child. Mrs. Rickey is accused in the complaints of coercion and undue influence during the framing of the will.

Mrs. Rickey was asked when a certain piece of property was purchased by Rickey. The property in question, it appeared, had been bought some twelve years before Rickey's death and shortly afterwards transferred to Mrs. Rickey. Plaintiff's attorneys sought to introduce the information, holding it as necessary to their plan to show that Rickey provided for his wife amply by gifts before his death and did not intend she should share in his estate. Defendant's attorneys objected to the introduction of that line of evidence, holding such facts to be entirely without the merits of the case in suit.

Aeolian Yacht Club To Celebrate Sunday

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—The Aeolian Yacht club members will celebrate an at home affair Sunday afternoon and evening. The San Leandro bay clubhouse will be a scene of marked gaiety until late at night with the stunts, eats and dancing. During the afternoon an interesting program of rowing and swimming events and stunts will be staged. In the evening there will be a chowder feed, followed by dancing. Attendance will be by invitation.

ARRAIGNED FOR BURGLARY.

Joe W. Maurer was arraigned today before Police Judge Richmond on a charge of burglary. The preliminary examination was set for October 7. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of Joseph C. Rodrigues, 5216 Trask street. Maurer told the police officers that he was not guilty of the crime.

PROFESSOR SAYS LABOR, TEACHERS SHOULD AFFILIATE

That organized labor can derive much benefit from closer affiliation with the University of California was the topic of an address made to the Building Trades Council by Professor John L. Kerchen of the economic section of the extension department of the University of California at the regular weekly meeting in Labor Temple.

"Looking back nearly a century," said Professor Kerchen, "we find that it was labor, in a very primitive form of organization, that brought into existence the first public school in America. From that time labor and education have gone ahead together because of the easily grasped truth that an educated man can do better and more profitable labor. The university has planned a valuable course in labor study which deals with production, distribution and efficiency. I see no reason why school teachers and educators generally should not affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

"There is a certain prejudice against it because educators belong about equally to both the professional and labor classes. They are the most poorly paid of all trained workers, and this is due in a great measure to the fact that they are not organized."

The speaker explained in detail the courses in which labor is interested and the delegates promised to place the facts before their respective unions.

President McDonough of the council reported that there had been a small reduction effected in the price of building material and said that a vast amount of construction was being held back by the high price of materials.

At the regular meeting of the Central Labor Council Secretary Spooner was instructed to organize a Union Labor League having for its purpose the boosting of commodities bearing the label of organized labor.

'TOWN MEETINGS' PLANNED AT U. C.

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Tribal gatherings and the ancient town meetings will be revived at the university if the plans of a number of student and faculty committees are carried out, and "university singing" is inaugurated.

In order to join the many thousands of students into one community, with common interests and friendships, the students have decided upon a plan to use the Greek theater for regular "bonfire meetings" to discuss college problems, and to sing, and be entertained. It is planned that the entire student body will meet every two weeks in the Greek theater for an informal "community meeting."

In sanctioning the plan, faculty members declare that the Greek theater and the bonfire gatherings are the final hope of uniting the students, and that the tradition of the ampitheater will greatly aid in the work. It is planned that the dances and entertainments which follow will be informal, and will be of very low admission price.

Aahmes Band Aids At De Molay Concert

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—The band concert and entertainment staged by Aahmes Temple Shrine band for the benefit of Alameda chapter, Order of De Molay for boys, in the Porter school auditorium last night drew a large attendance. Albert E. Schierenbeck was director and the music was in charge of M. Dubbin. Miss Wanda Bernhard opened the performance with two piano solos. She was followed by Miss Helen Blom in vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Mildred Powell at the piano. Dean Donaldson, violin selections. His accompanist was Julius Walters.

The Aahmes brass quartet was also a feature. Miss Elsa Peterson gave two dances, which were followed by a number of selections by the Aahmes jazz five, consisting of E. Childs, Julius Walters, Ted Harms, Frank Lever and Dean Donaldson. Herbert P. Mee concluded the program with two verses vocal selections.

A reception and refreshments accompanied by dancing concluded the evening.

Mothers' Club to Play Dance Host

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—The Washington School Mothers' club will play the host at a dance in the Washington school auditorium, Saturday evening. The school is located at Santa Clara avenue and Eighth street. The committee is busily engaged in decorating the big auditorium for the occasion.

On Friday afternoon a silver tea set will be held and Mrs. V. N. Strang and Mrs. Garfield T. Morris will be the hostesses.

Wife of Paint Man Is Granted Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Viola A. Dougall, of 895 Sutter street, wife of Arthur H. Dougall, official of a paint company, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce today by Superior Judge Edward Shortall. Dougall, who lives at the Palace Hotel, offered no opposition and the property settlements, which are reported to have been large, were made out of court. Mrs. Dougall charged desertion on her spouse, occurring a year ago.

STOLEN AUTO FOUND.

The automobile which was stolen from W. R. Robinson, a collector for an oil company, on Tuesday evening when he was held up near Lafayette by four armed bandits, was recovered this morning a short distance from the scene of the holdup. The machine was found by Traffic Officer Keefe of Contra Costa county. Besides taking his machine the bandits took $85 from Robinson.

Thieves Take Top from Car, Leave Note

The police are looking for the thieves who removed the top and oil gage from a new automobile parked in front of the Municipal Auditorium while the owner was watching the fights last night.

The machine belonged to the Ramos Brothers, fruit packers of Hayward. The theft was not discovered until the two men went to get into the machine.

Policeman Edward Summers, clerk to Chief of Police James Drew, was coming out of the auditorium and, hearing the Ramos brothers berating the thieves, stopped to inquire what was wrong.

"Everything is wrong and I haven't had the machine twenty-four hours before the top is stolen," said one of the brothers.

"Don't park this bird here again. It is altogether too bright for the moon. Report this to headquarters."

STATE TO SHARE ESTATE CONTEST

With the number of claimants and the prospect of a vigorous battle over the fortune left by Leon Morrison, late eccentric clothier, increasing, Attorneys Dunn, White & Aiken, representing Public Administrator J. A. Hill, has asked State Attorney General Webb to participate in the court battle over the $75,000 estate. Webb has consented and has directed an assistant to appear in the matter.

The reason for this action is that the public administrator is not personally a beneficiary in the case, while the State of California, to whom the property goes if no heirs are established, is directly interested.

Following the suit filed by Miss Maude Marion Scott, former cashier for Morrison and who claimed the deceased had shown her a will in her favor, several claimants have appeared. Attorney E. E. Gehring has received a claim from Mrs. Ida Morrison that she is the widow. Gehring has not revealed her whereabouts, but she is said to be in Chicago. Several children of an alleged brother of Morrison, now in Boston, have declared their intention of filing a claim and a New York attorney has written County Clerk George E. Gross for information regarding the estate, saying he has clients who were related to Morrison.

Dunn, White & Aiken asserted today they expect to have little difficulty in disproving the claims of Miss Scott and said the Mrs. Ida Morrison of Chicago may be the widow, though it is doubtful. It is pointed out that Morrison, who previously was known as Alex Grove, did not take the name of Morrison until after he had left Chicago. Hill and his attorneys ask how, then, Mrs. Ida Morrison happens to have taken that name after he left her. Mrs. Morrison is stated to have been in the insane asylum when Morrison left her.

Rome Paper Accuses Duke of Conspiracy

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Violent attacks upon the Duke D'Aosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, by the newspaper Il Paesi of Rome has created a great sensation in that city, says a Rome despatch to the London Times.

The newspaper charges the duke with inspiring and protecting the Fascisti, or extreme nationalists, and striving to gain the throne, with the support of certain generals and other officers.

The Times correspondent adds that rumors of such a movement have been current in Italy for some time, and it has been suggested that the Duke D'Aosta has been spreading discontent with the present regime in the ranks of the Carabinieri and the army generally.

Sons of St. George Will Give Dance

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—Derby Lodge, Sons of St. George, plan to hold a Ladies' Night entertainment and dance in Odd Fellows' hall, Park street and Santa Clara avenue, this evening. The committee of arrangements is headed by William L. Broadbent, and a highly entertaining program has been prepared for the occasion. Dancing and refreshments will follow the enttertainment.

BARBER ACCUSED BY WIFE.

W. E. Jones, a barber, appeared today before Police Judge Ralph Richmond to answer to a charge of failure to provide for his two minor children. He was arrested in San Francisco by Police Inspector Louis Kersich on the complaint sworn to by his wife, Mrs. W. E. Jones, of 102 B street, Hayward. His preliminary examination was set for October 6. His bail was set at $2000.

SALES INCREASE DAILY DURING BIG USED CAR SHOW

Dealers Are Likely to Reduce Stocks Until They Can Get New Auto Business.

By JIM HOULIHAN.

Forty-nine automobiles have been sold thus far in the used car show, which is now being held in the Downtown Garage at 1827 Broadway, made today in reports coming from F. Walter Crinnion, the manager.

David Aronson, Scripps-Booth and H. C. S. dealer, claims the highest sales record with eight cars sold since the show opened last Sunday noon. Lou H. Rose and Don Lee are fighting hard for second place, with Rose holding a lead of one car over Lee.

Fourteen cars were sold yesterday, ranging in price from $350 to $1750. These sales yesterday line up as follows: W. L. Hughson, 1; Lou H. Rose, 2; Phillip-S. Cole, 3; David Aronson, 3; Chevrolet Motor company, 1; Victory Motor Sales company, 1; Weaver Wells company, 1; Cole Motors Inc., 7; Markham and Purser, 1.

There were more people at the show last night than at any time since the place opened, except last Sunday. A pretty fair sized throng came in during the evening.

CROWDS INCREASING.

Crowds are increasing every day, and if the present rate keeps up during the remaining three days of the show, there is no doubt but that a new record for used car sales will be made.

Before the exposition opened last Sunday night, most of the dealers declared that the market for this sort of car was shot pieces. Now they have learned this is not so and there are just as many people here prosperous enough to buy automobiles as ever before.

Then, too, salesmen have taken a new lease on life and are finding many prospects, to whom they are selling cars. Strange as it may seem, the dealers have sold many new cars to prospects secured at the used car show.

From present indications all the twenty-one dealers in the show will have reduced their stocks so completely that they can go out and get new car business after this show is over.

SEE WAY CLEAR.

Practically every sale of a new automobile now, involves the handling of a new used car, and if dealers find the used car market slow, they are forced to quit trading, and clean sales are naturally less in number.

Now, with used cars moving again, the dealers see their way clear to do more business.

All the dealers entered in the show are members of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association, and have well established places of business. This fact gives added confidence to the buyer of a used car because he knows that the firm from which he buys will stand behind its sale.

The show is considerable of a success, far beyond the dreams of the men who originated the idea.

CAR GOES 'LOCO,' MATTIS STALLED ON WAY TO L. A.

Somewhere between here and Los Angeles, City Engineer George Mattis is busily nursing a wayward automobile and wondering whether he will get anywhere in the next few days. Word was received at the city hall today that Mattis' automobile developed a streak of temperament and quit business.

Mattis started blithely Tuesday evening for Santa Monica to attend the session of the League of California Municipalities. He took a city car which is supposed to be in prime condition, but it is now alleged that something happened.

The session of the League of California Municipalities ends Saturday. If Mattis does not get his auto patched up soon, it is feared he may not arrivve there in time.

Gen. Boree Wins At U. S. Rifle Matches

HAYWARD, Sept. 29.—Brigadier General J. J. Borree, adjutant general of California, has returned to his home in Hayward from the recent national rifle matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

General Borree has sustained his record as an exceptional marksman by capturing second honors in the adjutant generals' match with a score of 87 points out of a possible 100, and winning seven individual medals in special matches.

In the adjutant generals' match Borree lost to Brigadier General F. I. Blumit of Tennessee, but defeated Generals L. Leguard of Washington, D. C., and George Morse of Kentucky.

Prospector Fires At Ghost, Kills Big Owl

ANGELS CAMP, Sept. 29.—Mike Dowling, prospector, says a ghost up and spoke to him and he shot it.

Michael was wending his weary way through the dark woods in the evening, when he suddenly saw something very, very white a little distance in front of him. It gave him a shock, but when it hoo-hooed right at him, that was too much.

Subdivision of Big Ranch Is Planned

ALVARADO, Sept. 29.—Plans are being made today, it is said, for the subdivision of the 41-acre ranch recently purchased by J. E. Faustina, of San Leandro, from Andrew Anderson.

MONEY BAG STOLEN.

Mrs. F. L. Lamping, owner of a soda fountain at 1836 San Pablo avenue, reported to the police that some one stole a buckskin bag which contained $17.43, which was in a box behind the counter. She did not miss the bag until four young men whom she had been waiting on left the store.

Treble Clef Club Presents Comedy Playlet on Oct. 7

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—The Bohemian atmosphere of life in Greenwich Village will be given a novel portrayal in "Polly, Put the Kettle On," a two-act musical comedy to be presented as the annual offering of the Treble Clef society at the university.

Friday evening, October 7, has been set as the time for the performance and the Auditorium Theater in Oakland as the place. Well-known college singers will be heard in the various roles. Ray Crocker and L. V. Edwards, authors of the play, have laid the scene of the comedy in the studio of a young sculptress who has forsaken society to take up art.

Dancing numbers which will feature the performance are being rehearsed under the direction of the Misses Anita Avila, and Eileen Eyre. Included in the cast are the Misses Vernardine Holdbridge, Lois Munn and Evelyn Mack.

Unique Setting for Sophomores' Dance

BERKELEY, Sept. 29.—Wierd, but inexpensive settings will form the background for the coming "Soph Hop," the first of the university formal dances to be financed under the plan of cutting down the costs for all college social affairs.

To offset the lack of an elaborate setting, impossible under the budget allowed them, the students have determined to use as their background the scene of Poe's "Masque of the Red Death."

On the night of the class formal, which is set for early next month, the hall of Harmon gymnasium will be draped entirely in black, resembling the seventh hall of Poe's story, in which the "Red Death" appeared on the eve of the grand ball.

ROTARIANS TO RECEIVE

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—Dr. Aurelia M. Reinhardt will be the guest of honor at the ladies' night by the Rotarian club, Friday night. This is the first ladies' night by the Alameda Rotarians this year, and the affair will take place in the banquet hall of the Adelphian club. Walter Grahn will be chairman.

AMERICAN IDEALS, SPEAKER'S THEME AT CLUB LUNCHEON

Oakland Business Man Exhorts Rotarians to Be Ready to Defend Country.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29.—James H. MacLafferty, well-known Oakland business man, four-minute man during the war, and a candidate for Congress at the next election, spoke to the Alameda Rotarians yesterday on "The Defense of American Ideals."

MacLafferty said in part:

"Many men and women are being misled by crafty schemers seeking to destroy America. It is entirely possible to mislead a club, a town, a state or a nation. Our republic is the ideals we have, not our battleships. You can mutilate the body and man still lives. Man is the intellect we have. 'As man thinketh in his heart, so is he.'

GANG OF I. W. W.

"The time for defense is now. I saw a gang of I. W. W. being addressed alongside the Bank of Italy building in Oakland and the speaker said, 'There is money in that bank; it is yours. All you have to do is go get it.'

"It is all right to be optimistic, but optimists look chiefly to the future. We need to look about us now. There are men here who were not born here. They came here probably because of what they had heard of American liberty and ideals. They deserve perhaps more credit than the native Americans. Does he find the native American ready to teach him the lofty ideals of Americanism? No, he goes to a colony of his countrymen, where he keeps his old ideals, read papers printed in a foreign language and where a foreign tongue is spoken. He has no chance to attain new ideals. And this is the fault of Americans.

"We talk about our inalienable rights. We have not a single inalienable right except those conferred by the Constitution of the United States and we must be ready to maintain these rights. The czar of Russia thought he had inalienable rights. The people of North France believed undoubtedly that they had inalienable rights conferred by the constitution of France.

GLANCE AHEAD.

"Forty years from now the world will be governed largely through what is taught the children of today. And yet two or three times a week the moving picture theaters show pictures illustrating chloroforming of people, robbery and hold-ups and seductions. Twenty-five years ago children were taught the catechism. I attended three moving picture shows in Oakland recently. In each one was a bedroom scene. If a young girl of 16 is present at one of these performances with a young man she does not know very well, is there not opportunity for the man to nudge or comment, with the young girl powerless to resent?

"The producers say that they give the people what they want. I do not believe this. Take the sensational papers. See what they are doing in the 'Fatty' Arbuckle case. These things affect the body politic and the body politic is one man."

The speaker closed with the statement that the chief immediate danger is in the American "do-nothing policy;" in the unpreparedness of Americans to uphold American ideals and to effectively combat the treachery and spacious schemes to tear down and destroy.

Stevedores Seriously Hurt As Crane Falls

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Two stevedores were injured, both perhaps fatally, when a crane load of copra, weighing 1600 pounds, fell over them while they were at work unloading a steamer at pier 54 today. They are, A. Soni, 56 Kissling avenue, injured hip, probable internal injuries; John Koshen, 4112-A Seventeenth street, fractured skull, probable internal injuries. The copra was being unloaded to the docks and as it traveled on the crane a chain broke. The stevedores were directly below and were unable to escape being struck.

People Who Eat Yeast for Health

LIKE NEW TABLET FORM—VITAMON—TO INCREASE ENERGY, CLEAR THE SKIN AND PUT ON FIRM FLESH

Countless numbers of people are now turning to Mastin's VITAMON as a simple, easy and economical way to get the health-giving, tissue-building yeast-vitamines in highly concentrated tablet form. If you are weak, thin, pale, generally run-down or feel lacking in brain power and in ambition, you surely need to get some of these precious vitamines into your system at once. Mastin's VITAMON mixes with your food, helps it to digest and supplies just what your body needs to feed and nourish the shrunken tissues, the worn-out nerves, the thin blood and the starved brain. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under this healthful purifying influence. Mastin's VITAMON will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but strengthens the digestive and intestinal tract and helps to overcome even chronic constipation. So quick and remarkable are the results that complete satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VI-TA-MON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good druggists, such as Owl Drug Co.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

This is Michaelmas Day. Charles Calvert, fifth lord Baltimore, was born in 1699 and up in Willows there is a former who is said to be present lord Baltimore. As the Willows man says he doesn't care whether or not he is the famous lord after whom a cigar was named, why should we care when Charles Calvert was born. Today is contributors' day and we do not have to do anything except write this two-column measure stuff and we get that from a book. Frederick Schwatka, Arctic explorer, who commanded two expeditions, but who doesn't seem to have clung securely in a general remembrance, was born on this day in 1849.

BILL BONES PIPES AGAIN.

Al—'avin' draw up my chair an' put a coal t' my pipe I begs t' reply t' y'rs o' recent date as followin'—

Yep, the Mandy trig
Were a 'ansome brig
O, a right smart brig were she,
As she 'eeled along
Wi' that merry throng
Yersel' an' the skipper an' me.

We shaped our course in a tour de force
'Till we came to a stretch o' ground
W'ere we chanced t' spy wi' our weather eye
Some sea 'orses gallopin' round
Yes, sea 'orses pawin' the ground.

Sure the Mandy trim
Wi' 'er mains'l slim
Were a gallant sight t' see
As 'er canvas puffed
W'ile we tacked and luffed
You an' the skipper an' me.

We sailed, I recall, by a coral atoll
Way down in the far south sea
W'ere a mermaid fair set a combin' 'er 'air
W'ich were certainly pleasin' t' me.
Yes certainly pleasin' t' see.

W'y that Mandy boat
Were the first afloat
As I thinks ye'll all agree
When she rose an' fell
On the salty swell
Wi' you an' the skipper an' me.

For I recollect of the strange aspect
W'en we sailed by 'atteras Cape.
'Ow the 'atters there tossed their 'ats in the air
An' then pulled of 'em down by a tape.

O, the Mandy snug
As a parlor rug
She sailed the ocean, free;
But I 'ave t' larf
'Cause she wasn't arf
As free as this verse, b'gee.

THE PIE IS CUT.

Well, well, well! It is you, my dear sir:

By chance, and a mere bit of calculation, I have discovered that your Mr. R. Spinkeyvintz and Mr. Oska Putz, guardian of the gate at The TRIBUNE automobile lot, are old friends. It seems, according to Mr. Putz, that they are each and severally graduates of the University of Hard Nuts. After leaving what was left of the college when they left, they journeyed to the jungles of Detroit, where for a year they tracked and shot the wild ford in its native habitat. Mr. Putz, only last week, presented Oakland's museum with a beautifully mounted and stuffed ford which he choked to death single handed, one night before Mr. Volstead was sent to Washington. I have promised Mr. Putz that I shall do everything in my power to bring together him (he?) and his old college chum. Could we not arrange a reunion dinner (Dutch treat) for the two old birds?

RONALD ENTERTAINS THE VISITOR.

Rose Jones woke up that morning with an excited feeling. She was to speak that afternoon in the Assembly.

Rose Jones was a senior in High school and was very popular among the boys and girls. Her mother was a great society woman and also wished her daughter to be.

Rose had a brother who was called Ronald, and he had just come home from a business trip. Ronald was 20 years old and Rose was 17.

That morning, as Rose went down to breakfast, her mother told her she would have to stay home from school that day, as she was having some visitors and she wanted Rose to help entertain them.

"Why can't you?" asked her mother.

"Because I am going to speak in the Assembly this afternoon."

"That doesn't make any difference," said her mother. "The visitors have to be entertained."

Rose got up from the table and went up to her room and threw herself upon her bed.

"What's the matter?" asked her brother, as he passed her door.

Rose raised a tear-stained face and said, "I have to stay home from school on account of those horrid visitors."

Suddenly Rose brightened up. "Oh, I have an idea. You can dress up like me (because you look so much like me), and entertain the visitors!"

"What? I dress up like you?" exclaimed Ronald.

"Certainly," replied Rose.

Ronald was so dazed that he sat down on the bed and listened to what she had to say.

"You can put on my pumps and blue silk dress and I have a wig just the color of my hair, and they'll never know the difference. Your voice isn't much like mine, but you won't have to talk much."

Ronald decided he would have to dress up in Rose's clothes, as there was no way out of it.

Pretty soon he heard his mother calling, so he went downstairs, and he almost fell downstairs, as he was not used to wearing high heels.

When he got downstairs, whom should he see among the visitors but the young lady to whom he was engaged to. He sat down in a chair on the other side of the room and began to talk to a lady.

After a while one of the ladies asked him to sing for them, but he said he had a bad cold and could not sing.

By this time he was getting very uncomfortable and just as he decided he would have to excuse himself in rushed Rose. In the excitement she had forgotten all about Ronald. The ladies screamed and rushed out of the room. In the meantime Rose ran up to her room and changed her dress. By that time the ladies had come back into the room. The only one among them who knew what had happened was the young lady to whom Ronald was engaged. She had guessed it all out and she had seen Ronald smile a certain way he always did.

When Rose came into the room the ladies all began questioning her, but Rose said they must have been dreaming, and so the ladies had to be content with that.

Mrs. Jones said she was very sorry it happened, but she couldn't imagine what had happened.

After dinner that night Rose and Ronald went up to Rose's room to talk it over. They thought it was very funny and laughed and laughed over it.

Holding a Husband

Adele Garrison's New Phase
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The girl pressed her lips firmly together. I guessed that she was keeping back a violent disclaimer of Lillian's statement.

"That is the temporary arrangement we have made," she said. "I never know two weeks ahead what I am going to do. But come on to the back of the house and see the dandy studio Mrs. Durkee has been good enough to give up to me."

I watched Little Mrs. Durkee's face as we followed the girl to the back of the house. Her Fluffiness' face wore a startled, almost frightened look, and I wondered if she possibly was beginning to doubt the wisdom and courtesy of her preparations for her son's wife.

The Durkee home, like the one in which we lived in Marvin, is a rather ancient structure, and reminds one irresistibly of Dickens's "Bleak House" in its unexpected passages, its steps up and down into odd little rooms, and its wings thrown out from the original main building.

It was through one of these dark passages that we followed Edith Fairfax and emerged at the rear of the house in the quarters where, in the stirring days when my father made his temporary home here, his treacherous oriental man-servant had been lodged.

As I remember the place—when after the man's departure upon his exposure by Allan Drake we visited his quarters—the second story of the rear wing was divided into three tiny rooms, of no particular beauty or utility, by wooden partitions. These I now saw had been taken down, the three rooms thrown into one—patently the original design of the builder, and a skylight cut into the roof at one end.

The result was a really commodious studio apartment, furnished with the delightful old mahogany which I remembered seeing in the studio apartment which the Fairfax sisters had shared in the city, and to which they had brought the few rare pieces of furniture and china salvaged from the financial wreck of their father's home in Virginia.

Some one, Edith, of course, had arranged them into a marvelously close reproduction of the New York studio home. I guessed that the loving elder sister had planned this room purposely, so that if Leila ever felt strange or homesick in her new life she would have this refuge in which to pull herself together again.

Mrs. Durkee evidently saw what I did and gave utterance to her vision in astonished accents.

"SHE'LL PROBABLY NEED IT."

"Why, it's just like your New York studio! However did you do it? I just turned the carpenters over to her," she said to us apologetically. "I was so busy in the other rooms, and I had no idea what she was fixing up in here. It's wonderful what you've accomplished, Edith. She can come back here and forget she's married."

"She'll probably need it." The caustic words leaped, I knew, without volition from Edith Fairfax's lips, for the next instant she had camouflaged them with a laugh.

It was a sorry effort, however, and I saw little Mrs Durkee ruffle up like an offended bantam. There still remained, however, the startled look in her eyes which had come there at Edith's behavior when the color scheme of Leila's room was made known to her, and I knew that the little woman beneath her surface resentment was busily engaged in conjecture and in questioning her own wisdom.

She has one of the tenderest hearts in the world, this oftimes provoking little neighbor of mine, and it can be counted upon to sway her actions—unless her positively mulish obstinacy is aroused—then there is no hope of stirring her from the path she has chosen. I fervently hoped there would be no further speech which might arouse her resentful obstinacy.

It was Lillian, again, who diverted all our minds by pointing a dramatic forefinger toward a large and beautifully decorated screen which stood in front of a recess in the apartment. Evidently it was a closet, the partitions of which had been torn down.

A REAL KITCHENETTE.

"Don't tell me, Edith," she cried, "that you actually have a kitchenette up here!"

"Come and see," she invited.

"You know," little Mrs. Durkee announced, when she had caught her breath, "I believe this house was a boarding house at one time! The woman who kept it fixed these rooms up either for herself or for the help she was obliged to keep. At any rate, there's a fairly good bathroom through that door"—she pointed to the rear of the apartment—"and this washstand was in that room. But as I told Edith, she might as well get the good of it, for, goodness knows, there isn't a chance in the world of our ever having a maid. You and Lillian," she turned to be a bit pettishly, "have the only help there is left in the world, and, to tell you the truth I wouldn't have either one of 'em as a gift."

The Oriole by Booth Tarkington

The Story Thus Far

FIFTH INSTALLMENT.

[Florence Atwater, through the judicious use of information accidentally coming into her possession regarding admissions in writing by her cousin Herbert and his chum, Henry Rooter, that they had pretty eyes, obtains complete control of the "North End Daily Oriole," a publication from whose office she had been previously excluded by Herbert and Henry. The "Oriole," under Florence's direction, announces the engagement of Julia Atwater to a Mr. Crum, who, according to the "Oriole," was a widower, but had also been divorced and had a number of children. A copy of the paper is delivered to Noble Dill, an admirer of Julia, by Florence herself.]

THROUGHOUT the afternoon adult members of the Atwater family connection made futile efforts to secure all the copies of that week's edition of the "North End Daily Oriole." It could not be done.

It was a trying time for "the family." Greataunt Carrie said that she had the "worst afternoon of any of 'em," because young Newland Saunders came to her house at 2 and did not leave until 5, all the time counting over, one by one, the hours he'd spent with Julia since she was seventeen and turned out, unfortunately, to be a Beauty. Newland had not restrained himself, Aunt Carrie said, and long before he left she wished Julia had never been born—and as for Herbert Illingsworth Atwater Jr., the only thing to do with him was to send him to some strict military school.

Florence's father telephoned to her mother from downtown at 3, and said that Mr George Plum and the ardent vocalist, Clairdyce, two of the suitors had just left his office. They had not called in company, however, but coincidentally; and each had a copy of the "North End Daily Oriole," already somewhat worn with folding and unfolding. Mr. Clairdyce's condition was one of desperate calm, Florence's father said, but Mr. Plum's agitation left him rather unpresentable for the street, though he had finally gone forth with his hair just as he had rumpled it, and with his hat in his hand.

"Well," and he returned to a former theme. "I am glad we aren't implicated. Florence is right there with you, is she?"

"Yes," she said. "She's right here, reading. You aren't worried about her, are you?" she added.

"Oh, no; I'm sure it's all right. I only thought"——

"Only thought what?"

"Well, it did strike me as curious," said Mr. Atwater. "Especially after Aunt Fanny's telling us how Herbert declared Florence could never have a single thing to do with his paper again——"

"Well?"

"Well, here's her poem right at the top of it and a very friendly item about her history mark of last June. It doesn't seem like Herbert to be so complimentary to Florence all of a sudden. Just struck me as rather curious, that's all."

"Why, yes," said Mrs. Atwater, "it does seem a little odd—when you think of it."

"Have you asked Florence if she had anything to do with getting out this week's 'Oriole'?"

"Why, no; it never occurred to me. Especially after what Aunt Fanny told us," said Mrs. Atwater. "I'll ask her now."

BUT she was obliged to postpone the intended question. "Sesame and Lilies" lay sweetly in the chair that Florence had occupied, but Florence herself had gone somewhere else.

She had gone for a long, long ramble, and pedestrians who encountered her and took note of her expression, were interested; and, as they went on their way, several of them interrupted the course of their meditations to say to themselves that she was the most thoughtful looking young girl they had ever seen. There was a touch of wistfulness about her, too, as of one whose benevolence must renounce all hope of comprehension and reward.

Among those who observed her unusual expression was a gentleman of great dimensions disposed in a closed automobile that labored through mud-holes in an unpaved outskirt of the town. He rapped upon the glass in front of him to get the chauffeur's attention, and a moment later the car drew up beside Florence as she stood in deep reverie at the intersection of two roads.

Uncle Joseph opened the door and took his cigar from his mouth. "Get in, Florence," he said. "I'll take you for a ride." She started violently, whereupon he restored the cigar to his mouth, puffed upon it, breathing heavily the while, as was his wont, and added, "I'm not going home. I'm out for a nice long ride. Get in."

"You know where Herbert is?" Uncle Joseph inquired.

"No," said Florence, in a gentle voice.

"I do," he said. "Herbert and your friend Henry Rooter came to our house with one of the last copies of "The Oriole" they were distributing to subscribers, and after I read it I kind of foresaw that the feller responsible for their owning a printing press was going to be in trouble. I had quite a talk with 'em, and they hinted they hadn't had much to do with this number of the paper, except the mechanical end of it; but they wouldn't come out right full with what they meant. They seemed to have some good reason for protecting a third party, and said quite a good deal about their fathers and mothers being but mortal and so on; so Henry and Herbert thought they oughtn't to expose this third party—whoever she was.

"Well, I thought they better not stay too long, because I was compromised enough already without being seen in their company; and I gave 'em something to help 'em out with the movies. You can stay at movies an awful long time, and if you've got money enough to go to several of 'em, why you're fixed for as long as you please. A body ought to be able to live a couple o' months at the movies for nine or ten dollars, I should think."

He was silent for a time, then asked, "I don't suppose your papa and mamma will be worrying about you, will they Florence?"

"Oh, no!" she said quickly. "Not in the least! There was nothin' at all for me to do at our house this afternoon."

"That's good," he said, "because before we go back I was thinking some of driving around by way of Texas."

And while Florence, thus pensively disturbed, sat beside fat Uncle Joseph during their long, long drive, relatives of hers were indeed going into fits, at least so Florence would have described their gestures and incoherences of comment. And straight into such a fitful scene did the luckless Herbert walk when driven home after the movies by thoughts of food at about 6 that evening. Henry Rooter had strongly advised him against returning.

"You better not," he said wisely. "Honest, you better not, Herbert."

"Well, we got apple dumplings for dinner," Herbert said, his tone showing the strain of mental uncertainty. "Eliza told me this morning we were goin' to have 'em. I kind of hate to go, but I guess I better, Henry."

"You won't see any apple dumplings," Henry predicted.

"Well," said Herbert, "I guess I better go home, Henry, it's a good while after dark."

"You're makin' a big mistake!" Henry Rooter called after him. "You won't see any apple dumplings, I bet a hundred dollars! You better come on home with me."

AND Herbert no more than half opened his front door before he perceived that his friend's advice had been excellent. So clearly Herbert perceived this that he impulsively decided not to reopen the door any farther, but on the contrary to close it and retire and he would have done so had not his mother reached forth and detained him. She was in fact just inside that door, in the hall with one of his great-aunts, one of his aunts, two aunts-by-marriage and an elderly unmarried cousin, who were all just on the point of leaving. However, they changed their minds and decided to remain, now that Herbert was among them.

Herbert's father joined them a few minutes later, but it had already become clear to the son that the "North End Daily Oriole" was in one sense a thing of the past, though in another sense this former owner and proprietor was certain that he would never hear the last of it. However, on account of the life of blackmail and slavery now led by the members of the old regime the "Oriole's" extinction was far less painful to Herbert than his father supposed; and the latter wasted a good deal of severity insisting that the printing press should be returned that very night to Uncle Joseph. Herbert's heartiest retrospective wish was that the old printing press had been returned to Uncle Joseph long ago.

"If you can find him to give it to!" Aunt Harriet suggested. "Nobody knows where he goes when he gets the way he did this afternoon when we were discussing it all with him. I only hope he'll be back tonight!"

"He can't stay away forever," Aunt Fanny remarked. "That garage is charging him five dollars an hour for the automobile he's in, and surely even Joseph will decide there's a limit to wildness some time!"

"I don't care when he comes back," Herbert's father declared grimly. "Whenever he does he's got to take that printing press back—and Herbert will be let out of the house long enough to carry it over. His mother or I will go with him."

Herbert bore much more than this; he had seated himself on the third step of the stairway in the hall and maintained as much dogged silence as he could. Once, however, they got a yelp of anguish out of him. It was when Cousin Virginia said:

"Oh, Herbert, Herbert! How could you make up that terrible falsehood about Mr. Crum? And, think of it; right on the same page with your cousin Florence's pure little poem."

Herbert uttered some sounds, totally incoherent but loud and expressive of a supreme revulsion. The shocked audience readily understood that he liked neither Cousin Virginia's chiding nor Cousin Florence's poem.

"Shame!" said his father.

Herbert controlled himself. It could be seen that his spirit was not broken, even when Aunt Fanny mourned, shaking her head at him, smiling ruefully:

"Oh, if boys could only be girls!" Herbert just looked at her.

"The worst thing," said his father—"that is, if there's any part of it that's worse than another—the worst thing about it is this about Noble Dill."

"What about that poor thing?" Aunt Harriet asked. "We haven't heard."

"Why, I walked up from downtown with old man Dill," said Mr. Atwater, "and the Dill family are all very much worried. It seems that Noble started downtown after lunch, as usual, and pretty soon he came back to the house and he had a copy of this awful paper that little Florence had given him——"

"Who gave it to him?" Aunt Fanny asked. "Who?"

"Little Florence."

"Why, that's curious," Cousin Virginia murmured. "I must telephone and ask her mother about that."

THE brooding Herbert looked up, and there was a gleam in his dogged eye, but he said nothing.

"Go on," Aunt Harriet urged. "What did Noble do?"

"Why, his mother said he just went up to his room and changed his shoes and tie——"

"I thought so," Aunt Fanny whispered hurriedly but solemnly. "Crazy."

"And then," Mr. Atwater continued, "he left the house, and she supposed he'd gone down to the office, but she was uneasy and telephoned his father. Noble hadn't come. He didn't come till afternoon, and he didn't go back to the house; and they telephoned around to every place he could go that they know of—and they couldn't find him or hear anything about him." Mr Atwater coughed and paused.

"But what," Aunt Harriet cried, "what do they think's become of him?"

"Old man Dill said they were all pretty anxious," said Mr Atwater. "They're afraid Noble has—disappeared."

Aunt Fanny screamed.

Then, in perfect accord, they all turned to look at Herbert, who rose and would have retired upstairs had he been able.

At last he made a confession, that is to say, it was a proclamation. He proclaimed his innocence. He began the history of it with a description of events distinctly subsequent to the little game with Patty Fairchild, and explained how he and Henry had felt that their parents would not always be with them, and as their parents wished them to be polite, they had resolved to be polite to Florence. Proceeding, he related in detail her journalistic exploit.

OF the matter in hand, he told the perfect and absolute truth—and was immediately refuted, confuted and demonstrated to be a false witness by Aunt Fanny, Aunt Carrie and Cousin Virginia, who had all heard him vehemently declare, no longer ago than the preceding Sunday evening, that he and his partner had taken secure measures to prevent Florence from ever again setting foot within the newspaper building.

Poor Florence would answer later in the evening, he was told severely, and though her cause was thus championed against the slander, it is true that some of them felt stirrings of curiosity in regard to Florence. In fact, there was getting to be something of a cloud upon her reputation. There were several important things for her to explain, among them, her taking it upon herself to see that Noble received a copy of "The Oriole," and also her sudden departure from home and rather odd protraction of absence therefrom. It was not thought she was in good company. Uncle Joseph had telephoned from a suburb that they were dining at a farmhouse and would thence descend to the general region of the movies.

"Nobody knows what that man'll do when he decides to!" Aunt Carrie said nervously. "Letting the poor child stay up so late! She ought to be in bed this minute, even if it is Saturday night. Or else she ought to be here to listen to her own bad little cousin trying to put his terrible responsibility on her shoulders."

One item of her description of himself the badgered Herbert could not bear in silence, although he had just declared that since the truth was so ill-respected among his persecutors he would open his mouth no more until the next day. He passed over "bad," but furiously stated his height in feet, inches and fractions of inches.

Aunt Fanny shook her head in mourning. "That may be, Herbert," she said gently. "But you must try to realize it can't bring poor young Mr. Dill back to his family."

Again Herbert just looked at her. He had no indifference more profound than that upon which her strained conception of the relation between cause and effect seemed to touch; and, from his point of view, to be missing should be the lightest of calamities. It is true that he was concerned with the restoration of Noble Dill to the rest of the Dills so far as such an event might affect his own incomparable misfortunes—but not otherwise. He regarded Noble and Noble's disappearance merely as unfair damage to himself. He continued to look at this sorrowing great-aunt of his, and his thoughts made his strange gaze appear to her so hardened that she shook her head and looked away.

"Poor young Mr Dill!" she said. "If some one could only have been with him, and kept talking to him until he got used to the idea a little!"

Cousin Virginia nodded comprehensively. "Yes, it might have tided him over," she said. "He wasn't handsome nor impressive, of course, nor anything like that, but he always spoke so nicely to people on the street. I'm sure he never harmed even a kitten, poor soul!"

"I'm sure he never did," Herbert's mother agreed, gently. "Not even a kitten. I do wonder where he is now."

BUT Aunt Fanny uttered a little cry of protest. "I'm afraid we may hear," she said, "any moment!"

And the most tragic news of Noble Dill these sympathetic women could have heard would have surprised them little, they had unanimously set their expectation in so romantically pessimistic a groove.

But if the truth of his whereabouts could have been made known to them, as they sat thus together at what was developing virtually into his wake, with Herbert as a compulsory participant, they would have turned the session into a riot of amazement. Noble was in the very last place (they would have said when calmer) where anybody in the world could have madly dreamed of looking for him. They would have been right about it. No one could have expected to find Noble tonight inside the old, four-square brick house of Mr H. I. Atwater Sr, chief of the Atwaters and father of the disturbing Julia. This was an old man of rigidly limited sympathies, and his opinion of Noble Dill had become almost notorious. Here was no bosom of refuge for a lorn Noble needing solace, nor was his house for any moment hospitable with Julia out of it.

Moreover, Mr. H. I. Atwater Sr. was not at present in the house; he had closed and locked it yesterday, giving the servants a week's vacation and telling them not to return till he sent for them; and had then gone out of town to look over a hominy mill he thought of buying. And yet, as the wake went on, there was a light in the house, and under that light sat Noble Dill.

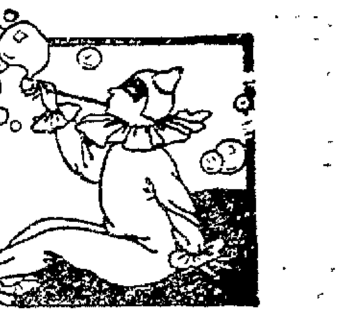
Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder



Listen, World

It's mighty funny, but you can't hand most people a worse insult than to tell them they're perfectly well. They may be going along nominally functioning with 100 per cent efficiency and never an ache or a pain, but just suppose you come along with a touch of [illegible] and envy them their perfect health. I ever try it. Then you'll know how they act. First they [illegible], and then begin to nod and roll their eyes mysteriously as they [illegible], with mysteries the while shifting impatiently from one foot to the other while you relate your own symptoms. Then, if you persist in [illegible] about their fitness they become actually peevish and forthwith [illegible] out on a list of diseases, [illegible] present and probable, that would make a doctor's book look like a child's primer.

Now why is that? You can understand the Commandment against coveting your neighbor's [illegible], but why should we also covet his floating kidney and his ingrowing toe nail? I could almost think that Sickness was one of the Fine Arts to hear some of us talk; and that it was as improper to go around in perfect condition as to appear at a ball in your bathrobe. It's a strange, strange world and if I awake hereafter the first thing I'm going to do is to have a good laugh at myself.

It makes most folk mad to tell them they're well.

Dear Geraldine:

Being a settlement worker on my vacation, I now have a chance to write to you. A sad story came to my ears the other day, and I only hope you will print it and thus wake people up to the fact that the majority of us are intolerant satisfied-with-ourselves people.

A few days ago a young girl (about 19 years, I should judge) came into our settlement and asked for aid. She said she wanted us to hear her story first, and so commenced thus:

"I was a young dancer, and every night had a part in a cabaret at the ——. A young man often ate dinner there, and after my act, would often go back of the stage and visit me. I liked him very well, and as he brought me candy and flowers, I thought he was fond of me.

"One night, after promises of marriage, he tricked me.

"A month and a half went by and he always put me off when I suggested marriage. Finally his parents got word of it, and immediately came and offered me hush money. I wouldn't take it, but pleaded with them to make him marry me, but in polite tones they said he was already engaged to a girl of his own station.

"Well, then I didn't care what happened. Oh, ladies (she said with tears running down her face), can't you help me."

That was the end of her bitter little tale, and she said to me afterwards. "All men are like that; they know they can get a kick out of a dance hall girl and then throw her over, and they couldn't do that in their own set."

Jerry, won't you help poor little sinners who have no parents to guide them, by printing this letter and showing that even the rich are as much animal at heart as the "lizard" who roams the streets.

If you print this, I'm sure it would do a world of good, and if it answers come, I hope some of them show tolerance for a "poor, hard-luck" kid, in the words of another little sinner, Kate Jenson.

Sincerely,
A FRIEND OF THE POOR

Jerry's Reprimand.

I'll gladly print it, Friend, but I may not draw the lesson you intended from it. I did not know that there was any doubt in the public mind that the "rich are as much animal at heart as the lizard who roams the street." In fact, I think we're apt to wish vice onto the rich man a good bit sooner than we would on his flannel-shirted brother.

This story is a pitiful one. I am sorry for the little dance hall girl, but I am not sorry for her because she IS a dance hall girl. I would be sorry for any girl—but I wouldn't be unduly sentimental about it if she had gone into the situation with her eyes as wide open as this girl did.

She isn't an abused innocent. She had better chances than almost any other girl to know the rules of the game. She broke the rules—and she's facing the consequences—and now she is trying to raise a persecuted-by-the-rich alibi. I'm sorry for the girl and I would help her, but I refuse to swallow her alibi, and I am surprised that you, if you are an experienced social worker, should advance it.

That man would have been just as apt to dodge his responsibilities and to treat the girl had he been a bum as a rich man. That's the nature of such men, and that is exactly the reason why society has instituted marriage and made association without marriage a crime. Remember, I'm not standing up for the man. He's a skunk. But there is no true friendliness in sentimentalizing over troubles in which the participants knew perfectly well what they were doing.

Incidentally, society isn't as heartless about these things as you assume. Men can't "get a kick out of a dance hall girl" in this melodramatic and casual way without paying for it. If the man has wronged her and she needs aid, she can report her case to the district attorney, and he will be forced to marry or support her, whether his family wish it or not.

There will be many who ask why Jerry should send such pity to the Kate Jensens and yet be so cool concerning this case. Kate Jensen presented no silly alibis which she knew in her heart were false. She had done wrong. Neither she nor Jerry condoned the wrong. She was sorry and she longed to play the game straight. Jerry was with her there, and would gladly face anyone who tried to shove her down again. Honest effort is a noble thing, but it can't begin until folks get over making excuses for themselves.

"He Provider" Again

That "He Provider" surely did start trouble for himself when he denounced the Married Woman Worker and said her motives were base. Here's a pal who isn't regarding him with any great amount of sisterly love:

Dear Jerry:

I was just reading that letter from the woman who agrees with a "He Provider." Really, Jerry, if I told you what I think of that woman you sure wouldn't be able to print it, so will only say I would like to get in a good uppercut to her face.

Yes, I am a married woman, and I don't work, either. The only reason being, frankly, that I am too lazy, I guess, but I do keep my house clean. I think I will go to work, if it wouldn't be a disgrace to put myself in the same class with that woman. Do you think it would, Jerry? I think she is a disgrace to the working class. And if I could get one good slam to her face, I don't think she would be able to work for a while.

I wrote to you before, Jerry. Do you remember me? Brown-eyed Peggy from Alameda. Well, I am really married now and find it just as I thought I would. I would like to get a job and go to work, for hubby sure needs my help now. We are not in quite such a good financial position now as when I wrote you last.

Well, Jerry dear, please print this if for no other reason than it may cool my temper down to see her slammed, even if I did do it myself. Your old pal,
BROWN-EYED PEGGY FROM ALAMEDA.

Tacks' Philosophy

Folks, meet Tacks! Whadda you bet that he hasn't a bunch of freckles on his nose? There are no freckles on his philosophy, however.

Dear Jerry:

I read your column every night and have several new outlooks on life since I began. Now, I am not going to pan the girls, for I respect all women, and there is not a woman in the land I wouldn't fight for.

But one "Marcella Wave" takes her swing at all men by the type she has seen at tough dance halls. I would inform Marcella that there are men in other places in the city besides Twelfth and Broadway and the dance halls. And you can't judge a man by the look on his face or the way he combs his hair. Down in Texas once a bronco kicked me in the face and in France the cooties got so bad we kept our heads shaved. You can never tell what is under the hair or behind the face.

Maybe lots of boys and girls looking for the kick in life need one, but not the kind they are looking for. About nine-tenths of the evil Marcella sees in the boys is really in her own mind. I know there are clean-minded fellows just the same as there are clean decent girls and lots of both. Look for them, Marcella, and you will find them and lots of them are lonesome, too, maybe. Nuff sed this time, Jerry. TACKS.

Right you are, Old Top, and if anyone disputes it, just 'phone an S. O. S. to Jerry and she'll be right on the job. There's a great deal of silliness in this business of trying to wish the bulk of evil-mindedness on either sex. If you could see all the souls running around loose, without either pantaloons or petticoats, you couldn't tell one from 'tother.

By BOB SHAND.

Promoter Tommy Simpson did not meander down the center aisle just before the last scrap at the Auditorium last night and take a seat with the honored guests at the ringside, which means but one thing—the show was not up to standard. When the first dozen little four-rounders do all that is expected of them from a promotorial point of view and some of the kids get knocked for rows of bungalows and things and the customers are full of elation and cheers and enthusiasm, the Hon. T. Simpson feels at peace with the world in general and the customers in particular. Then it is that he hides behind a five-inch grin and mingles with the elite at the ringside meantime chirping something about "How you like 'em tonight, boys?" Last evening Mister Simpson was strangely missing. He was not in evidence after the first bout, and the boys know why.

It was no fault of Simpson that the card flivvered. Good talent is scarce and Tommy tried his best to improve the program by importing Cyclone Gavvy from Modesto, Georgie Marks from Los Angeles and Frederick Sullivan from nowhere in particular. Gavvy was quite a bloomer, as he was outpointed by Johnny Burns. Marks showed a lot of fancy footwork and some clever boxing and licked Terio Vargas, while Mr Sullivan was knocked for a field goal by Floyd Johnson in the fourth chukker. The home talent which provided the balance of the battles failed to show the right kind of enthusiasm which made it a dull evening all around.

Marks Can Box, But He Lacks a Punch.

If there was a bright spot it was the boxing of Marks, but these clever birds never make much of a hit here. The Auditorium customers and gimme boys would rather see some roughneck walloper hang one on the point of a fellow citizen's talking apparatus than witness the gyrations of a gent who boxes on his toes but fails to hit hard enough to knock the well-known Humpty Dumpty off the equally well-known wall. Young Mister Marks has everything in the way of footwork and almost everything necessary to make good as a boxer, but he will have to put a little something behind his blows if he is to meet with success when he tackles the Johnny Buffs, Pete Hermans, Joe Lynches and that kind. "Doc" Cline, who came north with Marks, says his boy has been promised a match with Buff in New Jersey next month.

Marks stepped around Vargas for three rounds hooking all the time. Evidently Georgie does not believe in the efficacy of the old familiar straight left as he overlooked many a chance to shoot this popular punch in the midst of the Vargas good looks. He put nothing but hooks and swings on display last night, but his footwork carried him through. Vargas made a belated rally and got an even break in the fourth round, but Marks had the battle sewed up long before that.

No Time to Bring A Cyclone to Town.

Maybe Cyclone Gavvy was afraid to let loose on account of the grass fire back in the hills. It was no time to bring a cyclone to town anyhow, so the Modesto man has a perfectly good alibi for losing to Burns. If he needs another he can protest against Burns for not carrying a red lantern on the end of his left arm. Gavvy kept bumping his nose on that southpaw hitter of Burns and every time he bounced back something impelled him to bounce in again and sample another dent in his face. Harry Watkins, who has been to Modesto, says they don't make the fighters wear red lanterns on their left gloves down there and he could not account for Gavvy's persistent punching with his face. In the third round it looked as though Cyclone would win on a knockout. Twice he hit Burns' left glove terrific jolts with his nose and for a moment the Burns boy slowed up. "Go get him, Gavvy; you got him goin'!" came a frantic yell from his corner. Gavvy set his face for another punch at that left glove and just as he was preparing to run full tilt and knock the local scrapper dead Burns crossed him up by using the right hand. That wasn't fair. However, Gavvy still has the red portieres he wore for trunks and when his fighting days are over he can hang 'em in the drawing room and his embroidered initials will be all the decorations needed. Maybe the Cyclone was flustered by the big crowd, but maybe it was that left hand of Burns. Gavvy alone can give the answer. Henry Borba, who swung a mean towel for the Modesto man, refused to answer last night. Gavvy knocked Red Williams down twice the other night and gave Rodeo Red a fine pasting. Quite recently he licked Bat Larson. These four-rounders of ours must act scan'lous when they go down the valley or Cyclone Gavvy was saving his stuff last night in order to get Jack Dempsey to fight him.

Sullivan Is Game, But That Lets Him Out.

Fred Sullivan is a game heavyweight, but that let's him out. He took one on the point in the first round from Floyd Johnson that should have convinced him that fighting is not a business, but Fred gamely continued only to get clouted into submission in the fourth. If this Johnson boy would only hit straight instead of stealing Fat Larue's pawing stuff he would be quite a heavyweight. Greggains' boy is game and aggressive, but Alick cannot teach him to hit. When Sullivan recovered from that first wallop he made a gallant come-back and belted Johnson to good effect in the second, but Fred tired as the battle proceeded and fell a victim of a right cross in the middle of the fourth. Sullivan made no effort to protect his chin at any stage of the doings, which is foolish stuff for a little four-rounder. Jack Brereton who kept score announced that Johnson reached the Sullivan talking apparatus 87 times during the three and a fraction rounds.

Joe Herrera gave Joe Ketchel a [illegible] lesson and breezed home with [illegible] decision. Ketchel could not keep [illegible] of the path of the Hererra wallops and was all cut up at the finish.

Herman's "Boxing" Is Something Original.

Joe Herman and Jack Quinn boxed a funny draw that was neither boxing nor fighting. Herman looked tough and threw punches at Quinn from the other side of the ring. Jack Chambers swore he saw Herman training in a brickyard throwing bricks at stray cats. That's the way Joe boxed last night. Quinn hotfooted around the ring trying to get out of harm's way and sticking out a left hand in self-protection. Herman ran into that left often enough to get his face all mussed up and that got Quinn a draw.

Joe Mendina, a wild swinging bird from North Beach, licked Joe Healy. Mendina tried to knock Joe out with a punch on the chin, but Joe has no chin at which to aim, which is all that saved him. Occasionally Mr. Mendina almost knocked himself out after missing his little playmate, but he blocked nicely and stopped some of his own wicked right handers with his left glove.

Frankie Thomas shot Tommy West in the chin in the first round and poor Tommy was laying himself down to sleep when Louie Bernstein showed the kind of a guy he is by ringing the alleged gong. Tommy simply had to get up, but in the middle of the next round he went down and stayed down, being careful to go down long before Louie could hit that old tin he uses for a gong.

Let's hope T. Simpson finds occasion to stroll down to the ringside next week.

St. Mary's Is Hard at Work For Big Game

After a day's rest, following their mix-up with California last Saturday, members of the Saint Mary's varsity are hard at work again in preparation for their next game with Stanford at Palo Alto on October 8. Coach Edward "Slip" Madigan is all smiles these days, for not only has he put the Saints and the Notre Dame system on the football map, but he has won recognition from the experts who are now willing to class the little St. Mary's coach with the best of them. And when one stops to think that many of the members of the Broadway college team played in last year's woeful organization, Madigan's work becomes all the more remarkable.

The Notre Dame system was something entirely new and the large total of yardage the Oaklanders ran up is a tribute to the system and the element of surprise it contained.

SUBS. MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

A further source of gratification to the Saints' coach is the showing of his substitutes. When the news leaked out last Saturday morning that Houston Stockton the fast, husky left half, would be out of the game with blood poisoning, a feeling of gloom settled over the campus, for Stockton was looked upon as a strong man on defense and a consistent ground gainer on offense.

In his place Charlie Silva, captain and quarter of last year's prep team, was sent in and stood out as one of the stars of the game. He looked good on the defense and made yardage time after time and his run of thirty yards was the second longest of the game. This youngster is a comer and it will be a problem for Madigan to keep him out of the regular back field.

BACKS FIELD LOOMS UP STRONG.

Kauhane, Captain Bahan and Black are going at top speed playing a great game, and with Stockton back in the line-up along with Silva Madigan will possess a great back field for his game with Stanford a week from Saturday. Within another week the St Mary's mentor will have a smooth working machine and will be able to uncork plays against the Cardinal varsity that he was unable to use in the Bruin game because of the greenness of his men.

Enthusiasm aroused by the come-back of St. Mary's on the foot-ball map has caused Graduate Manager LeFevre to plan an excursion for the Stanford game. LeFevre is anxious to have the alumni and the supporters of the Oakland college who contemplate attending the game make known their plans as soon as possible so that he can make arrangements.

Jock Hutchinson Out Of National Tourney

NEW YORK, Sept 29.—Elimination yesterday of Jock Hutchison, of Chicago, holder of the British open golf championship and playing-through defender of the Professional Golfers' Association championship was the first real upset of the tournament. He was defeated by Gene Sarazen, Titusville, Pa., 8 and 7. Sarazan played perfect golf while Hutchison was off his usual form.

Jim Barnes, of Pelham, N. Y., national open champion and Walter Hagen, western open champion, won their matches.

In the matches today Barnes will play Fred McLeod of Washington; Hagen will oppose John Golden of Tuxedo; Sarazen will meet Cyril Walker, of Englewood, N. Y., and George McLean of Bronxville will play Emmett French, Youngstown.

Duck Hunting At Vallejo Promising

VALLEJO, Sept. 29.—Duck hunting conditions are said to be unfavorable in this section of the state, and unless the weather conditions change before Saturday few birds will be bagged in the Napa county marshes. At Cordelia and Suisun the hunting is expected to be very good on the opening day.

HERE'S THE JOHNNY BUFF FAMILY

Flyweight Champion Johnny Buff added a new crown to his collection recently, winning a decision over Then-champion Bantamweight Pete Herman. And Johnny wasn't even marked up—much. Here is the new bantam champ, with MRS. BUFF and the littlest BUFF, on the roof of their home.

Sequoyah Women Will Play With California Club

Home-and-Home Team Contest With Women Golfers of California Club.

In a fourteen member home and home team match play, fourteen women golfers of the Sequoyah Golf and Country Club will meet fourteen women of the California Gold Club of San Francisco, on the Sequoyah links for a silver trophy cup, the best two out of three taking the cup. A return match will be played a week from Tuesday, October 11, on the California Club's links.

The feature match of the day's play is expected to be that between Mrs. Milton Bernard of the Sequoyah Country Club, one of the best if not the best woman player of the Eastbay organization, and Miss Gwen Parks, the shining light of the women golfers of the California Club. It is expected that the Bernard-Parks match will start the day's matches.

Mrs E H Foote, Sequoyah, vs. Mrs C. L Moore, California.

Mrs A E Lorber, Sequoyah, vs. Mrs Karl Anderson, California.

Finals in the annual Sequoyah Country Club birthday tournament will be played Saturday, the day of the club's annual meeting. In the semi-finals of the first flight H M Lee defeated F L Wight 4 and 2, while W H Scott defeated H W [illegible] 2 and 1. The winner of the Lee-Scott match will play for the club championship with the winner of the Jay B Nash-F L Dettman match, winner in the semi-finals of the second flight. Nash defeated A T Brock 1 up. Dettman defeated H B. Blanton 2 and 1.

Yankees Are Favored To Defeat the Giants

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Odds of 7 to 5 that the Yanks beat the Giants in the world series—if they play—were being offered today. Only small amounts were offered and were quickly taken. Yankee partisans are basing their judgment on hitting with the prediction that the Giant pitchers will not be able to stop Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On the St Mary's College field the St. Mary's prep school squad stepped on the University High school team 13 to 0 in another good exhibition of the gridiron sport. Although they were outweighed on an average of fifteen pounds to a man, they had no difficulty in tearing holes in the University High's line. Burns, Saint half-back, gained yardage again and again through the heavy opposing line.

Grant, quarterback, carried the ball from his own 15-yard line 85 yards to a touchdown in the first quarter for the longest run of the season. Now that St Mary's defeated University High, and Berkeley defeated St Mary's, it looks as though the college city team would again be the semi-finalist or finalist in the State Interscholastic Federation football competition. Alameda High school has yet to be seen in action against these two teams.

Lick Wilmerding High school of San Francisco will meet Oakland Technical High school Saturday morning on the gridiron at a place yet to be designated by the officials of the league. Lick has not yet been defeated. San Francisco Poly will play the St. Mary's preps on the college grounds at the same time. This will probably be a good game.

The fast little 120 gridiron team of St. Mary's prep school, playing against the 130-pound team of Alameda High school, held the Encinal city squad to a 7 to 7 tie yesterday afternoon on the Alameda field in one of the snappiest inter-scholastic games played yet this year. Both teams scored one in the first half but in the second it was a battle royal with the visitors having the edge on account of their weight. The 120-pound St. Mary's team is open to all engagements and issues a challenge to other like teams through its manager, Martin Narony, care of the Associated Students.

A pall of gloom has settled over the campus out at Technical High school since the announcement was made that five of the school's best football players had been barred from the team because of overstay. The five men, including Captain Bennie Holmes, comprise men who have been mainstays of the team in the schedule so far this season. The five are Captain Bennie Holmes, Scotty Tait, Andy MacNaughton, Kenney Steers and Lloyd Smith.

With the season hardly in full swing the loss of the five men will seriously affect Tech's chances at the county and state interscholastic titles. Already Coach Hansen is lining up new men for the vacant positions. He still has Lane and Fechtor at ends, Claude McPhee and Newt Davis in the back field and the man on whom depends now the success of the team, "Big Bill" Cowes at fullback.

While the Tech team is practically wrecked it is by no means out of the running. It will display its wares Saturday morning against Lick-Wilmerding high school of San Francisco, minus the old stars and with new men filling in the positions. A field for the game has not yet been located.

Bill Johnston Arrives at Home From Court Play

After an extensive campaign on Atlantic Coast tennis courts, William M "Bill" Johnston arrived in San Francisco last night for a long rest. Johnston, twice national singles champion and runner-up in the national singles against Bill Tilden, was stricken with ptomaine poisoning just prior to his match with the champion and so was unable to play his best game. In addition to his illness, the "California Rocket" ran into a heavy playing schedule.

Johnston refused to make any excuses for his showing in the East, declaring that he was playing good tennis but was beaten by a better man. He said, however, his illness weakened him considerably. Johnston then played Vincent Richards in the semi-finals for the singles championship, the match going five sets. On the following day he played Tilden and despite his weakened condition, took the first set from the champion and led by a good margin in the second only to weaken just when he had the championship won for the third time. Tilden came through with the second and third sets.

That he would not permit tennis to occupy so much of his time was the statement made last night by Johnston, who declared that he believed that he was through competing in Eastern tennis matches.

Stcher Signs to Meet "Strangler," His Old Opponent

Joe Stecher, former world's champion wrestler, will meet Ed "Strangler" Lewis of San Jose in a two-hour match Tuesday night, at the Coliseum. Promoter Franck Schuler announced today. Lewis was originally intended as Stecher's opponent for last Tuesday night but his eye trouble bothered him again and he was forced to abandon the match. Stecher was persuaded to remain in San Francisco for one more week after long arguments on the part of Schuler, Ad Santel and several others interested in the sport.

It was Lewis who stretched Stecher out on the mat with his famous headlock for the championship of the world and which for three weeks confined Stecher to a sick room, hardly able to move. Lewis is confident he will be able to win again.

Tex Rickard Expects To Sign Mr. Willard

NEW YORK, Sept 29.—Tex Rickard expects to have Jess Willard's signature to a contract to meet Jack Dempsey within a few days. Rickard has mailed the contract to the former champion. The terms were not disclosed, excepting a date between June 15 and July 5 next in America, Canada or Mexico.

Stanford Team Getting Ready For California

By S. N. PIERCE.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 29.—The Stanford football squad is getting into fine trim for its opening contest of the season against the Mare Island Marines eleven on the local gridiron Saturday afternoon. Local dopesters figure the Cardinal squad an easy winner over the service team.

The business-like way in which the Cardinal squad goes through its workouts has impressed all who have watched the men in the practice sessions. Perhaps it is the ambition of every candidate for the squad to be on the first Stanford team to play in the new stadium, or it may be the desire to humble the Bruin "wonder team" that has inspired the men with such an unusual amount of enthusiasm.

Coach Gene Van Gent has not given an inkling as to the eleven men he will start against the Marines on Saturday. He will probably use a veteran combination in the backfield. Captain Jack Patrick at fullback will do the kicking. "Art" Wilcox will start at one of the halfback positions. Doughty and Walt Phelps will be ready to fill in at the other halfback station. It is unlikely that Morris Kirksey will get into the first contest. He has had a bad foot all week and has not been out in uniform, although he has been on the field at every practice to get all the information the coaches impart to the squad. As soon as he gets into shape Kirksey will make them all hustle for a berth at halfback.

The team will be directed by Bob Shlaudeman at quarter. He called them for the varsity last season and is a first-rate quarterback. In case Stanford piles up a comfortable score Van Gent may take out Shlaudeman and give Bud Woodward a chance to show what he can do in directing the team play. Woodward has been showing up well in practice.

LINE IS STRONG.

Professor John B. Canning has been whipping a line into shape that the Marines are going to have a hard time breaking through next Saturday. Fred Ludeke will likely be started at center in the first game. He is new at the position but a few contests should make him a hard man to deal with. Will Fawcett, "Shorty" Mertz, "Kewpie" Sproull and Fred Loomis will be the men from whom Van Gent will choose his two ends in the opener. Dick Pershing will likely start at one of the tackle positions, while the other place will either be occupied by Harley Carter or Dudley De Groot, with the chances favoring Carter. Carter joined the squad the first of the week and promises to be one of the strong factors in the Cardinal line. He is a big man and knows a lot about football.

The two guards will be chosen from "Red" Betts, Charley Heiser, Bob Stice and Joe Douglass. Dud Clarke will referee the opening game. The other officials will be Bart McCumber, umpire, and Ralph Marx, head linesman.

FRESHMEN LOOK GOOD.

Duffy Seay's freshmen appear to have the material for a winning first year team. The squad has been put through several scrimmages during the last few days and the coach has been pleased with its work. The freshman eleven goes up against Lowell High school in the preliminary to the varsity game Saturday. The first year men should have no trouble in disposing of the high school eleven.

Seay will probably use the following in the first game: Guy Dennis, quarterback; Harris and Gillelan, halfback; Cuddeback, fullback; Janssen and Widdamen, end; Dole and Shipke, tackle; Mopiasky and Crook, guard. Van Hook, center.

Russ Wilson will referee the preliminary game while R. D Leland, principal of the San Jose High school, will umpire.

Local Boys Are Entered in S. F. Tennis Tourney

Juvenile Tournament for Lads Under 16 to Start Saturday.

Alameda county boys under the age of 16 have entered enthusiastically for the first annual juvenile tennis tournament to be conducted by The Chronicle at the Golden Gate Park courts, commencing Saturday, October 1.

All told there are 212 entries for the boys' event and Alameda county will have a big representation. Strange to say, not a girl tennis player represented Alameda county, though there are 48 contestants in the girls' tournament.

Known as amateur boxing champion and also president of the old California Athletic Club, in the days when it was located on New Montgomery street, L. R. Fulda, famous in the early history of Pacific Coast athletics, died Tuesday night at his home, 645 Frederick street, at the age of 73 years. Fulda was undefeated light heavyweight boxing champion in the seventies and as a member of the Olympic Club won numerous medals for his athletic prowess. In 1881 he was elected president of the California Club.

He acted in that capacity when James J. Corbett boxed Peter Jackson. In his early days Fulda fought a ring battle with Jem Mace, the old professional champion. Fulda was an uncle of Herbert Hauser, well known in athletics. The funeral will be held today.

BRUINS DARE ENEMY TO CROSS THEIR LINE DURING THE SEASON

By DOUG. MONTELL.

California staged a hard workout yesterday afternoon on California Field when Andy Smith put both his first and second 'varsity teams through tough scrimmage practice against the Goofs and Freshmen respectively in preparation for the Olympic club game which is slated for Saturday afternoon. The Bruin coach is not underestimating the strength of Commissioner Spaulding's Olympians, and while California figures to beat the Winged "O," the clubmen are rated as one of the toughest games of the early season and will present a formidable enough line-up to enable them to make matters very hot for the Bears. Smith is not worrying so much about his own team's ability to score sufficient points to win the football game as he is the possibility that the fighting clubmen might slip over a score by some means or other before the doings of the day are over.

California is admittedly out to establish a record this season of having defeated all opponents by shutout scores and all the efforts of the California coaching staff are directed toward this end. It is considerd vastly more important in these opening weeks of football that the Bruins should be thorougaly drilled in the details of defense than that they should be quipped with a flock of offensive material and lack the ability to check any sort of an attack that might be brought into play against them. Victories by overwhelming scores in early season, or in Conference games for that matter, mean little in the long run, and the team that goes through the season without a score having been made against it is due for much more glory than is the team that rolls up some 600 points, if such were possible, and yet had an opposing eleven sneak across a score that would mar the record.

Witter Breaks Ankle; Probably Lost for Year.

The Bears suffered their first hard luck of the year in yesterday's workout when Jack Witter, the promising fullback candidate, who has displayed a world of stuff in the early season workouts, sustained a broken ankle that promises to keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. Witter was regarded by Andy Smith as one of the few Freshmen of last year who had the goods to warrant keeping on the first string and his injury, coming as it does at the start of the sason, breaks up whatever plans Andy had for developing him into a reserv backfield star. Witter possesses a wonderful boot that compares favorably with Morrison, Van Sant and Nisbit and in practice and scrimmage he has been doing excellent work in punting. In addition he is considered better than any of the other California fullback candidates in the matter of defense in backing up the line and this ability would have given him an opportunity in many of the important games during the season to get into action.

Nichols Playing Great Game At Halfback.

Despite this hard luck the California rooters found considerable consolation in the wonderful playing of young Don Nichols, the newest half-back star of the Blue and Gold. Nichols, younger brother of Lute Nichols, the California graduate manager who is directing the new stadium drive, was a Freshman last year on the same team with Wittor and these two were co-stars throughout the year. Nichols has developed rapidly under Smith's instruction and was given an opportunity last Saturday to get into action against St. Mary's where he looked exceptionally good during the time he was in the game. Nichols is a clever line plunger and has the speed and ability to carry the ball in the open and through a broken field that will make him a valuable substitute for Crip Toomey in case the Bruin star is forced out of action on injury at any time during the year. If Toomey and Dutch Eells can lose Old Man Jinx this year in the matter of injuries the Bears will have a backfield the equal of that of last year in every respect save the matter of forward passing.

Bruins Need Another Good Forward Passer.

California's success against Ohio State, and in fact throughout the latter part of the season against Conference teams, lay in Pesky Sprott's ability to fool the opposition in the shooting of forward passes. Sprott had the ability to draw the entire secondary defense in the opposite direction from where the play was going and his passes to Muller and Berkey gainued the Bears fame. This year the brunt of the forward passing must be borne by Crip Toomey and although Toomey has a lot to learn in this department of the game, he is a consistent passer and one who will be able to complete the majority of his attempts, although lacking the finish of Sprott. Witter was being looked to as another man for the California backfield who would do a considerable share of the forward pass work and it is now the task of Andy Smith to develop up another capable hurler of the pigskin if the forward passing game is going to play any great part in the games of the Bears this season. Mugs Van Sant is a valuable football player in many respects but his attempts at passing last week were far from what is to be desired. No criticism is directed at Van Sant on this score for the Bears were not attempting to put them across for actual offensive tactics, but he is not the man to be on the throwing end when the Bruins are to get themselves out of a tight place by the aerial route.

California Is Strong In Backfield Material.

California lacks but one thing for her backfield and that is a man who has the combined ability to pass, buck, run and punt. Morrison and Nisbit will do the brunt of the punting and both of these fullbacks are fairly good ground gainers through the line. Toomey is a sensation in the open and on criss-cross plays and heave a reliable forward pass, something that neither Nisbit nor Morrison can do. Eels is to be used primarily as a line plunger and the Bruin halfback is as slippery as his name implies in this respect. Van Sant can kick and run as well as do bucking. Nichols is an excellent prospect for an open runner and on line plays. Given one more forward passer who will be reliable the Bears can be said to be fixed for the year in the backfield. The line is practically intact from last year, although keen competition is making many of the linemen fear for their positions. Particularly are the tackle and guards on the uneasy seat.

Toney May Replace "Fat" Clark At Guard.

The battle royal is being waged over the guard position left open by the graduation of Cort Majors. Fat Clark has been looked upon as the logical successor of the Bruin captain of last season but St. Mary's found Clark to be far from a finished product and the Saints were able to drive their line plays through this part of the line for good yardage repeatedly. Toney, a substitute guard of last year, is giving Clark a terrible run for the position and it would occasion little surprise were Toney to start at guard next Saturday against the Olympic Club in place of Clark, although no official announcement to this effect has been forthcoming from Coach Smith. The tackle positions are being fought for by McMillan, Barnes, Dean and Beam with the first two named as the present holders. Dean was considered the equal of Barnes last year but Barnes appears to be going great this year and played a wonderful game last week, probably the best of any California lineman. Beam, out of college for a year, has returned and is playing a smashing game on the second team and if either McMillan or Barnes strike a slump they will find themselves gracing the bench before long.

Charlie Erb Returns To Bruin Lineup.

Charlie Erb has returned to the Bruin squad and although he could probably step into action against the Olympic Club Saturday the chances are that he will be given another week of rest as Cline has been playing a heady game at quarterback and the experience that he will gain in these early season games, the outcome of which is considered certain, the better off the Bears will be later in the year should anything happen to keep Erb from the lineup during the Conference season. Cline has shown great ability at running the team and is favored to start against the Winged "O" with Eells, Toomey and Morrison comprising the others in the Bruin backfield against the clubmen. Unless Toney starts at guard for Clark the balance of the California lineup will remain the same as last week.

Soccer Season Starts Sunday At Golden Gate

Many Eastbay Lads to Play on San Francisco Soccer League Teams.

At Golden Gate Park stadium, Sunday, October 1, the Union Iron Works and Burns will have the honor of officially starting the 1921 soccer season at 12.30 o'clock. The game will be played under the auspices of the newly organized San Francisco Soccer League, and as the Bay Cities Soccer League will not start operations for at least two weeks many Eastbay fans are expected to attend the game across the bay. A large percentage of the members of the Union Iron Works team is composed of Eastbay players.

Billy Stirling, former manager of the champion Moore Shipyard team, will manage the Iron Works aggregation this season. He has signed Swabrick, McKeenon, Sturrock, Boyd, Harrison and Olleton of the last season's Moore team for the San Francisco organization. In addition Stirling has Harlin, Tied, Hay, Murphy, Picknell and Black of last year's Union Iron Works team.

In a few days Garside, the old Ranger's favorite, Talla from Bakersfield, and Daugham from Yehama, are expected to sign up with Stirling's squad.

In recounting the experiences of putting his team through the paces out at the Golden Gate stadium Stirling reports that innumerable teams are haunting the fields there. Soccer teams from the Chinese Y. M. C. A., the Young Men's Hebrew Association, the Italian Virtus Club, and the Unione Sportiva Italiana Club play there almost daily, Stirling declares. He predicts great strides forward in soccer football this year, particularly on the east side of the bay.

Fight Pictures to Be Shown At Broadway

Moving pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight will be shown here beginning next Sunday. The announcement was made by Larry Land of the New Broadway theater today. They will be shown for an entire week.

The pictures show scenes at the ringside, the record-breaking crowd and every movement of the principals in the battle, including that much-discussed second round in which Dempsey is declared to have been staggered by the Frenchman.

NOTED GOLF ARCHITECT TO INSPECT THE MUNICIPAL COURSE

GOLF ARCHITECT TO ARRIVE IN OAKLAND FRIDAY AFTERNOON

William Watson, Famous Golf Architect, Will Inspect Site For Oakland Links.

By RALPH HOSLER.

William Watson, noted golf architect, who has laid out most of the big golf courses in California, will arrive in Oakland tomorrow to confer with Jay B. Nash, superintendent of the Oakland recreation department, and George Mattis, city engineer, relative to the construcion of the new municipal golf course, according to a wire received by Nash from the golf architect from Denver last night. In his telegram Watson declared that his work in connection with golf links in the Colorado city necessitated a stay of several weeks, but that he would cut his plans short in order to assist Oakland in establishing its new muncipal course.

Watson laid out the Claremont Country club course and the Berkeley Golf and Country club course, and many others in different parts of the state. According to golfing experts, men who have played on courses constructed by various architects, the links built by Watson have always been the best. On the proposed Oakland course, Watson has the opportunity of constructing one of the most beautiful and practical municipal courses in the United States.

So correct in every detail was the map sketched by The TRIBUNE artist published September 27, that Nash has decided to make it official Copies will be made and distributed in his offices so that correct information concerning location, distance, approaches, etc., may be given.

Bob Black, professional at the Sequoyah Country club; John Black, professional at the Claremont Country club; Dan Brown, professional at the Berkeley Country club, and Billy Blackall, professional and head of the Blackhall golf school out at the Oakland ball park will probably be called into the conference with Watson, Nash and Mattis, it was announced today. Professional golfers who have already looked over the course declare it to be "real golf country."

Many Improvements At Course Are Planned.

Immediately after the city closes for the purchase of the 244½ acres of land near Lake Chabot and makes the first payment of $7500, work of completing the municipal links will be rushed to full speed, Nash said today. Following the conference with Watson, a contour map will be drawn, engineers will begin investigation and estimating the course relative to the water supply and distribution system, specifications for the improvement of the old county road, leading into the site from the north end will be made, and all work relative to the speedy completion of the course will be hurried, Nash declares.

In improving the old country road from the Durant gate onto the property, a distance of one and three-fourths miles, city engineers will make efforts to construct it so that in time it will become one of the scenic spots of the city. Leading from the main gate on the Durant property, the old county road winds through a narrow, wooded canyon, through which a small creek, a small tributary of the larger San Leandro creek, runs. Care will be taken that none of the larger trees will be harmed and the entire length of the road will be made into a municipal scenic boulevard, which will lead through the north entrance clear through the golf course to the southern edge of the site, a distance of three and three-fifths miles.

Within a year after the course is completed, the club house constructed, and the refreshment concessions built and leased to private interests or run by the city, the municipal links will turn in sufficient profits to actually pay for the land, Nash believes. It is the intention of Nash to secure advice of various golf club directors in the state and data from commissioners or directors of municipal links in other states so that the Oakland links might be conducted at a profit.

Plenty of Homers in The Major League

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—With only a few more games to be played, the season record of home runs in the National and American Leagues is close to 300 more circuit clouts than were made in 1920. Both leagues to date have totaled 924 homers against 621 made last season.

American league players so far this year have walloped the ball for 470 home runs, against 270 last year, and in the National League 454 have been hit to date, as compared with 261 in 1920.

Yesterday's Doings on the DIAMONDS

It's a great old race that is being staged for the Pacific Coast League bunting. Here is the season ready to close within five days and four clubs are still fighting for the flag.

Once more "Red" Killefer has his Los Angeles tribe leading the road to Pennantville and it is doubtful if they will ever give it up. They took that position yesterday by defeating the Portland Beavers 5 to 3 in a game featured by an eighth-inning rally, while the Seals were being handed their second defeat in a row by the Seattle Indians.

Bill Rodgers' Sacramento Coyotes passed up for the "Steenth" time a chance to gain, when they allowed the Vernon Tigers to hand them an 8 to 2 walloping at Los Angeles.

The Seals were defeated 5 to 4, after piling up a four-run lead in the first few innings off Al. Demaree. Jim Scott was not there with the right stuff to keep the Indians in check, so they got three runs off him in the fourth and won out with a run in each of the seventh and eighth frames.

Al. Demaree was batted from the box by the Seals in the second inning and "Stubby" Mack, the St. Mary's College boy and former TRIBUNE leaguer, was sent on the job After allowing two runs in the third, Mack settled down and pitched winning ball.

The Oaks put up a game fight to defeat the Salt Lake Bees 7 to 6 at Recreation park. The Bees grabbed a three-run lead off Alten in the second inning, the Oaks came back with one in their half, another in the fourth and four in the fifth. A home run into the left field bleachers by Ray Brubaker started the fireworks in this inning.

Jack Mooney, former TRIBUNE leaguer who spent the past season with Joe Devine's Calgary club and helped Joe in bringing home the Western Canadian championship, was in the outfield for Salt Lake and made his debut by hitting a homer into the left field bleachers. He also got two singles in the pinch and played a nice fielding game.

Even Door Mat May Turn and Trip Somebody

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 29.—Life for the New York Yankees is "one little croocial series after another." Miller Huggins and his "murderers' row" are "croocialing" again today with the Philadelphia Athletics.

The league leaders, toting their one and a half game margin, swooped down on the Quaker village this morning for a two-game series with Mack's cellar holders which they hope to use for a ticket into the world series.

Figuring that the A.'s have won only five out of twenty-four games this season from the New Yorkers, it seems that the Yanks can't be blamed for asking the Macks to lie down and be walked over.

In loud tones, the gaunt leader of the Athletics sounded a warning this morning to the effect that even a door mat can curl up and do a little tripping.

The Yanks will be busy watching the scoreboard as the Indians get under way with the White Sox. Should the Sox slap Speaker's tribe and should the Athletics get the big club, the Yanks will need only one more game to cinch the pennant.

Coursing News.

The Oakland kennels have entered ten dogs in the National Futurity and the Waterloo Cup at Nevada, Missouri, October 8 to 18, while many other entries have been made from other sections of the state. George W. Heints shipped his entries to the Missouri city yesterday and today he will leave with his family to attend the national event. Tony Dutro entered California Girl several days too late, and so his entry will not be eligible to compete.

Lagamarsino and Malcolm have entered six dogs. Others who have entered include Jack Dennis, Homestead kennels, William Kyne, Gerald Brown, H. C. Hindley, Jim Hammam, Henry Struve and Paul Vannuchi.

Among California dogs that will compete in the Waterloo will be Oakland Charter, runner up last year for the cup; Steam Roller, Oakland Honey, Imported, Baldy Blended, Golden State, Sportsman, Steam Belle and Nib Nimrod.

The California futurity and the runnig of the California Cup will be held at the same time at Merced, November 11 to 12, and the best dogs of America are expected to compete. The California Futurity will be run with Tom Faltrick as judge and Allen Boccock as slipper.

Opening of the season of the newly organized Contra Costa Coursing club will be held Sunday, October 2, at the club's field at San Pablo, when the feature of the afternoon will be a race between Martynside and Badly Blended. Jack Lane, manager of the new club, has been receiving entries at 1497 Eddy street, San Francisco, for the opening stakes. A large crowd is expected to attend the opening event Sunday.

Officers of the new Contra Costa club are: A. J. Harrington, president; Dr. E. W. Morrison, first vice-president; George H. Connelly, second vice-president; Gerald Brown, third vice-president; Paul Vanucchi, treasurer; Phillip Higgins, secretary, and J. J. Lane, field secretary and manager.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Seven days remain for managers of teams in The Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter league to send in the contracts signed by players who will be eligible to play in the opening games of the season a week from next Sunday. But from the way the contracts are being handed in by the different managers, one would think that only a few hours remained to get them in. The Class A managers are showing the most speed in sending in their batches of signed contracts, and by the end of the week every manager in that division should have his in. Ten Class A managers have filed contracts with the Sporting Department, and as far as work has gone in passing on the eligibility of the players, everything is satisfactory. A number of Class B and C managers have also sent in their contracts, and it is pleasing to note the names and ages of the youngsters signed.

Everything points to the league being the greatest amateur organization in the history of America. The TRIBUNE League this winter again is bound to attract the attention of the scouts, especially as the league is composed of youngsters. Joe Devine and Pat Kilhullen, who have followed The TRIBUNE League ever since its formation and who have plucked a number of youngsters to step into professional circles, were around yesterday to look over the batch of entrants, and they say they will be badly disappointed if some good kids are not developed to go into professional ball next spring. Of course Joe and Pat were not ready to tell what kids they expected to see step out from The TRIBUNE League. They believe in doing that after they have signed the lads themselves.

Devine Predicts Big Output Of Youngsters Each Year.

Year by year the output of talent by The TRIBUNE League will increase. There will be in the neighborhood of six hundred youngsters in the league this year. A raft of the boys who will be in the Class B League this winter will step up next season to take the place of those who will graduate from Class A to professional ranks, and boys from the Class C will be ready to fill the places of the Class B graduates.

One of the first questions that Joe Devine asked upon his arrival here from the Western Canadian League, was how The TRIBUNE Midwinter League was getting along, and when he was informed that the professionals were barred and that an amateur league of fifty clubs was organized, he smiled and said he would have to purchase an automobile to make the rounds of the parks each Sunday. Joe and Pat Kilhullen will keep a close watch on The TRIBUNE Leaguers, and any youngster they see who needs advice, they will gladly give it to them. Joe is a self-made baseball man, for he played only a couple of games of professional ball, and still he is manager of a professional club and turned in two championships in as many seasons. Joe learned what he knows about baseball on the Oakland sand lots, just like many kids in The TRIBUNE Amateur Midwinter League have done.

Calatones Will Present Classy Team of Kids.

Herman Harice, manager of the Calatone Water Company team of the American Branch of the Class A Division, has signed eleven of his men and will have the other three in a day or two. The Calatones will have about the same club that built up such a fine record during the summer. Only two players are over twenty-two years of age, so Harice appears to have a well balanced ball club of youngsters.

One of the latest additions to the Calatone nine is Earl (Fireman) Jones, a right-hander. Jones pitched all summer for the Oakland Firemen and set up a nice reputation for himself. The addition of Jones gives Harice a nice trio of pitchers, as he also has Oscar (Lefty) Sandberg, who is but seventeen years of age, and "Chic" Hafey, a right-hander, eighteen. Eddie Jackson, the catcher, is only one year older than Hafey. Those young pitchers have stepped out during the summer and beaten the best teams around the bay. Other players who have signed Calatone contracts are Leonard Turney, 1-b.; Al Garcia, ss.; Sam Hafey, Lauren Hoffman and M. E. Sinclair, outfielders, and Maurice O'Connell, second base. Jimmy Hafey, a brother of the two Hafey boys on the ball club, has played ball in the local bushes for some time and is assisting Herman Harice in handling the team. Look out for the Calatones, is what the other managers are shouting.

Clement Drug Will Also Have Hustling Youngsters.

Geo. C. (Doc) Clement, who has placed the Clement Drug team in the American division of the Class A, is another who can point to a club of promising youngsters. Not a player who has signed a contract with that team gives his age over twenty-five, and only two are up to that age. Cecil Williams and Romeo McDonald, who have been of much assistance to "Doc" Clement in putting together such a fast club of youngsters, were around to say that they and the rest of the boys are ready for the start of the season. Of course they are, for the Clements are about the same team that played all summer under the name of Sovans and cleaned up on all but two clubs out of more than two dozen.

Cecil Williams pitched for the Clements all summer and had Romeo McDonald as his battery mate, but since Dayton Jones joined the club a couple of weeks ago Williams has been satisfied to alternate in the outfield and the box. Jones has pitched two beautiful games in as many starts for the Clements and is going to be closely watched during The TRIBUNE league season. With Williams and Jones as chuckers and McDonald behind the log, the Clements are well fixed in the battery department. For his infield Clement has "Frenchie" Laffargue at first, Walter Crimmelman, shortstop; Bill Lawson, second base, and Al. Pisani, third base. C. Dolan, new man with the Clements, can play the outfield and take his turn in the box the same as Jones and Williams. Herbie Ingraham and Eddie McGah both hard hitters, are the outfielders.

Rotarians, Lions Annual Game Set For October 7

Francis H. Woodward, local baseball enthusiast, is another who is not going to let the winter season make him forget the national pastime, so he is busy these days arranging games between such clubs as the Rotary, Kiwanas Mutuals, Optimist and Lions. As a starter he has arranged for the Lions and Rotary club to play a week from tomorrow at the Oakland Coast League park. Claire Goodwin will hustle up a team of Lions and advises the Rotary manager to have his best team out.

The Rotary club tangled with the Progressive Business Men's nine a couple of days ago and put over a 16 to 2 win. Seagrave and Saroni made a fine battery for the Rotarians while Leighter, Gardner and Reamer did the mound honors for the Progressive Men. Each club got but six hits, but the Progressive pitchers were wild as they could be and about twenty men drew free transportation to first base, hence the large score. Woodward is anxious to book a game for tomorrow afternoon between a couple of teams of local business men.

Hansen Appointed Portland Matchmaker

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29.—Captain Harry Hansen has been chosen match maker of the Portland boxing commission. The commission decided to hold the first boxing exhibition the night of October 12. Captain Hansen served overseas in the world war.

WONDERFUL RACE FOR COAST LEAGUE HONORS

The greatest race in the history of the Pacific Coast League! That's what the fans think of the resent struggle for the bit of banting that goes to the winner. With the defeat of the Seals yesterday and the victory of the Angels over the Beavers the Los Angeles team hopped into the lead just a nose ahead of the Seals, who in turn are a whis[illegible] head of the hard luck Senators. Sacramento has had a dozen chanc[illegible] [illegible] the league in the past three weeks, but they always lose when [illegible] other contenders are being beaten. Ysterday was a swell chance for Rodgers to boost his gang to the front, but the Vernon Tigers took an unexpected fall out of the Sacramentans, while the Seals were getting whaled at Seattle.

ANGELS HALF A GAME IN LEAD

The Angels are half a game in front of the Seals which is nothing at all right now, but may mean the pennant next Sunday night. Bill Kenworthy, the Seattle pilot, has not given up hope of bringing the pennant to his fair city and he is going to give the Seals the fight of their young lives. Kenworthy has taken two in a row from the San Francisco boys already. Seattle is three games behind the league leading Seraphs.

Despite the swell playing of the Oaks recently the locals will not even get into the first division unless Seattle slows up. The Siwashes are keeping a jump ahead of the Oaks right along and the way they are trimming the Seals the locals' chances of hopping into the first division are not bright. However, local customers are quite satisfied that they are getting a better run for their money than they have received in eight or nine years.

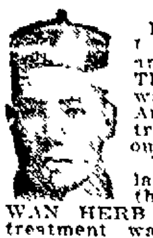
Ex-Service Man Testifies



Oakland, Sept. 14, 1921.
For more than five years I had stomach trouble and pain in my back. Throughout this period I was in the United States Army in Manila. I was treated all this time without obtaining relief.
Upon my return to Oakland, a friend suggested that I see the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST as his treatment was safe and harmless. After having taken twenty-eight packages of the herbs my complaints are all gone and I feel fine. I have already gained eight pounds. The facts in this testimonial are absolutely true.

We Build
For You

For example: You pick a $1000 lot and plan a $2000 house. We put up $2550 and you put up $450. You plan your own house and you choose your own builder. All we do is finance.

You pay us back by the month, with interest at 7%.

In order to get a loan you must buy your lot of us and arrange for the loan when you buy the lot. We have lots in Oakland, Berkeley, Hayward and Alameda.

LATEST NEWS OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND FINANCE

ELECTRIC ENERGY BECOMES GREAT AID TO INDUSTRY

Million Volts Produced And May Lead To Conveying Power Thousand Miles.

By HOLLAND.
Exclusive to TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Some of the gold which has recently come from Europe to the United States was mined within the past year in India, and it was possible to take it from the mines because electric energy was conveyed for a little over one hundred miles from a hydraulic plant situated in Northwestern India. The mines are in the Mysore district and although they do not rank in production with some of the South African mines, yet their yield is large and contributes greatly to the new supply of gold which England receives.

This gold would have been unavailable had not the great water power a hundred miles distant been captured chiefly with American apparatus and converted into electric energy. Even before Niagara Falls furnished energy converted into electric power which was conveyed to Buffalo twenty-five miles distant, these Mysore mines were operated by electric energy conveyed a hundred miles from a hydraulic plant. It was perhaps the first demonstration of the ability to carry electric energy for many miles to a point where it could be commercially utilized.

CAN EXTEND ENERGY.

Now the Niagara Falls plant is furnishing electric energy which is utilized at Syracuse about a hundred and fifty miles away, and by means of it valuable by-products of coke are secured. Dr. Coleman Sellers, who was the consulting engineer for the Niagara Falls Power Company was confident that in time the energy that conveyed with commercial practicability for two hundred miles or more.

The stupendous employment of electric energy obtained by the conversion of water power in the mountains of the northwest into electric energy whereby the cars of the St. Paul system are now operated between Montana and the Pacific Coast has often been referred to as another proof that electricity obtained through the utilization of water power may be carried many miles to commercial advantage. So also in the south the great water powers in western North Carolina have been sufficiently captured to create electric energy by means of which many cotton mills stretching in a row so to speak from North Carolina southerly are now operated.

ONE MILLION VOLTS.

Recently announcement was made that science which was employed by the General Electric Company has produced electricity of 1,000,000 volts. This achievement is in line with others which have been attained by the men of science who have been employed by this corporation. About a quarter of a century ago the company was asked if it could manufacture and deliver an apparatus by means of which an electric current equivalent to 1000-horse power could be utilized at the carborundum plant at Niagara Falls. One of the other leading manufacturers of electric apparatus to whom this offer was made replied that it was impracticable if not impossible to manufacture an apparatus of the kind which was sought. The Schenectady Company, however, did hesitatingly undertake to build one and was successful. The apparatus was then referred to as one of the marvels of commercial electricity, but it was a little thing in comparison with the enormous apparatus of that kind which this company now makes.

Why the company should have instructed the chemical engineers whom it employs to produce if possible a million volts of electricity is yet to be explained. Apparently such stupendous voltage as this would be unavailable for commercial purposes excepting possibly in one or two undertakings of magnitude. Probably its use would entail heavy expense.

FOR THOUSAND MILES.

The experts say that by means of so powerful a current it may be possible to transmit this enormous voltage for a thousand miles or more so that an industrial plant operating at Chicago might receive a current which had been transmitted a thousand miles and make good use of it.

This achievement like others which have been recently attained by the electrical engineers is sufficient proof of the amazing advance which within twenty-five years has been made in the utilization of electricity for commercial purposes. This triumph has been in part due to the ability of the manufacturers of electrical apparatus to make dynamos capable of creating very great electric energy. Yet twenty-five years ago all the dynamos which were in use were very small in comparison with those now employed in generating electricity.

NEW SOURCE OF POWER.

Within a comparatively few years there have been erected lofty skeleton steel towers which carry wires charged with twenty-two thousand electric voltage, and this apparatus finds its way for many miles across the country in New England, in New York State, in the South and in other districts. The voltage is so great that there are warnings lest any one imperil his life by too near approach. These carry electric energy which is created by the conversion of water power into electricity. They furnish means whereby great power is transmitted across country for many miles to be used chiefly in industrial plants. So great has been the success of installments of these serial wires through which electricity generated by water power passes and so considerable is the distance that the electricity can be thus conveyed to commercial advantage that the probability is strong that in many parts of the country where coal is now burned to generate power after normal times return, water power will be employed for the generation of high voltage electricity to be carried many miles for industrial purposes.

MAY BE PROFITABLE.

Therefore the creation of electric energy of a million volts, although it is to be regarded as one of the latest triumphs of science, evidently has been accomplished because the able minds in the electrical manufacturing corporation thought that some time in the future, although not at present, there may be profitable employment of so great a voltage as this.

Just as the chemists at their recent [illegible] revealing some of the marvels which chemistry is now producing and which are to be of commercial advantage came the announcement that the able men of science who are employed by the General Electric Company have produced by methods not yet explained, a million volts of electricity, and nothing heretofore that more nearly approaches the stupendous voltage which is in a lightning flash has been produced.

$1,000,000 FIRE LOSS.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 29—Fire last night destroyed the Milwaukee plant of the American Hide and Leather Company, and damaged the Albert Trostel Tannery, with a loss estimated in excess of $1,000,000. Three firemen were injured in fighting the blaze.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

EXPANSION plans of the Bank of Italy are under way which far surpass steps already taken, it was disclosed by that institution today in connection with a statement following passage of a resolution by the executive cmmittee of the institution asking directors, at their next meeting, to proceed with necessary steps to increase the bank's capitalization from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000.

The plans include new branch banks of importance and new bank buildings. Although it is not officially announced, it has been understood in banking circles for some time that negotiations looking to the establishment of some of these new institutions already have been in progress.

Under the plan to issue no stock, it is proposed to put 50,000 shares of $200 par value on the market as soon as state approval is gained. To two-thirds of this, and other stock to be issued, present stockholders are to be given prior rights of purchase.

When the new capital stock is sold, the combined capital, surplus and undivided profits of the bank together with those of the Auxiliary corporation will aggregate more than $50,000,000. This is comparable with the foremost banks of the nation, such as the National City bank of New York, whose working capital is slightly more than $100,000,000, and the National Bank of Commerce, with $50,000,000.

The latest statement of the Bank of Italy showed resources of approximately $190,000,000, not including the Rideout banks of the Sacramento valley and the recently acquired institutions at Bakersfield.

A. P. Giannini, president of the bank, in a statement today said:

It is our intention, with the approval of the authorities, to extend Bank of Italy service to every section of the state. At present 4000 Californians own Bank of Italy stock, but we are going to ask present stockholders to waive their prior rights to at least one-third of the contemplated new issue. The executive committee in its action has followed the established policy of the bank to maintain an adequate ratio between its increasing deposits and paid in capital. The bank further intends to provide adequate buildings for its branches at Los Angeles, Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno, as well as in several of the smaller cities where the present quarters have been outgrown. It also intends to establish branches in other important centers. More available stock will, therefore, be necessary with which to interest residents of new communities entered.

SACRAMENTO NORTHERN CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT.

State Railroad Commissioner Benedict has taken under consideration the request by the Western Pacific for authority to acquire the Sacramento Northern Railway which is the reorganization of the Sacramento Northern Railroad Company effected in the process of purchase of the valley line by the Western Pacific for a feeder. At the hearing yesterday President Levey of the trunk line said his company would spend $3,000,000 next year improving the feeder branch. In the hearing the complaint of minority stockholders that the price paid was inadequate, came up. The commissioner decided this was a question beyond the jurisdiction of the commission and would require adjudication elsewhere. The price was $730,000 and assumption of $5,224,000 bonded debt. Fiscal agents of the Western Pacific and Sacramento line and bankers testified that the price was adequate.

DON PEDRO STORAGE PROJECT APPROVED.

Approval has been given by the Railroad Commission to the agreement between the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Sierra and San Francisco with the Turlock and Modesto Irrigation Districts enabling the districts to go ahead with the Don Pedro storage project. The districts thus acquire the La Grange power plant and Tuolumne river water rights, owned by the Sierra under lease to the Pacific, but agree to furnish 10,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy a year for 25 years as return. The generating plant is to be built by the districts in connection with the storage dam. It was necessary for the districts to acquire the La Grange plant as the proposed storage reservoir will submerge several miles of the company's ditch supplying the plant. The Commission defines the transaction as substantially a sale of public utility property on an installment basis. At a rate of 4 mills a kilowatt hour and an interest rate of 8 per cent the present value of the power covered by the contract, is placed at $427,000. From the viewpoint of the Sierra Company and its consumers the price is entirely adequate, the Commission says.

MEYER IMPRESSED WITH TRIP TO COAST.

Despatches from Chicago today told of the visit there of Eugene Meyer Jr., chairman of the War Finance Committee of his return from his trip to this ecoast, a journey which brought him to the bay region for several days. Meyer is quoted as saying of his western journey observations that while the volume of traffic has been disappointing to some people in a position to judge look for a sharp pickup soon. Meyer predicted a sharp revival. He said the buying power throughout the country will advance steadily and may reach a normal level within six months. This should mean a good advance in the stock market.

VICTORY NOTES GO TO TOP AGAIN; MARKET IS FIRM

Oils Leaders, California Sharing in Advance; Gains Include Rail Issues.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. — Rails and oils were in demand at the opening of today's stock market and the general list showed firmness. Chicago and Northwestern and Texas and Pacific gained 1 point each and Canadian Pacific, New York Central and prominent coalers rose large fractions.

The bond market gave promise of another active session, especially for Victory notes. The first sale of Victory 4¾s consisted of a block of $750,000 at 99.46 to 99.48, as against the recent high of 99.50.

Oils supplanted rails as market leaders before noon. The broad rise, which ranged from 1 to 3 points in Mexican Pan-American and California Petroleums, Houston Oil and Standard Oil of New Jersey seemed to be directed mainly at the shorts. Buying of Liberty bonds fell off before noon, but Victory 4¾s again rose to 99.50. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Delaware, Lackawanna and Western reacted 2¼ points on announcement of the increased dividend and investment shares were moderately under best prices of the morning. Coppers hardened, however, and such specialties as Woolworth, Kresge, May Department stores, Montgomery Ward and Union Bag were strong.

Trading broadened later, with oils, rails equipments and motors the dominant features. Food and chemical specialties also improved. The closing was strong. Bonds, including government issues were irregular, Victory notes showing further accumulation. Sales approximated 500,000 shares.

ARGENTINE LOAN HANDLED FREE BY U. S. SYNDICATE

Buenos Aires Learns Agreement Also Includes Printing of Securities.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 29.—The group of bankers with which Argentina has contracted for a loan of $50,000,000 has surrendered the bankers' commission of one-quarter of one per cent for services and agreed to pay the cost of printing the notes, amounting to $20,000. This is disclosed in cablegrams exchanged between the finance minister, Senor Salaberry and Samuel McRoberts, representing the bankers, published in La Epoca, the government organ. The correspondence shows that the finance minister objected to paying these costs, as contrary to the loan agreement; whereupon McRoberts yielded, saying that the bankers "desired to respect the understanding with the government." The message also confirms that Tomasa Le Breton, the Argentine ambassador at Washington conducted the final negotiations.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. — Wheat continued to decline today, affected mainly by the seeming lack of any foreign demand. Opening quotations which varied from ⅜c off to ¼c advance with Dec. $1.20¼ to $1.21¼, and May $1.24¾ to $1.25¼, were followed by material setbacks all around.

A sharp rally took place in the last half of the day as a result of persistent buying on the part of speculators who have been on the selling side of late. The close was strong, 1 to 2½ net higher with December $1.23 to $1.23¼, and May, $1.27½ to $1.27¾.

Corn and oats went down grade with wheat, September corn tumbling to the lowest level since 1906. After opening unchanged to ¼@⅜c off, including December at 49⅞c to 50⅛c the corn market continued to weaken.

Rye, No. 2, nominal.
Barley, 56@63c.
Timothy seed, $4.25@4.75.
Clover seed, $12@18.
The close:
Wheat, Dec., $1.23; May, $1.27½.
Corn, Dec., 50c; May, 55¾c.
Oats, Dec., 36⅝c; May, 40⅞c.
Pork, Sept., $22.
Lard, Oct., $9.65; Jan., $9.02.
Ribs, Oct., $6.85; Jan., $7.65.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Initial losses of 7 to 24 points were attributed at the opening of the cotton market today to further hedge selling and realizing which offset firmer cables from Liverpool. For a time after the start the list was irregular but the heavy buying by Wall street, based on strength in securities, gradually absorbed the hedging and values recovered most of their earlier losses.

Shorts covered freely in the late dealings when expected hedge selling failed to develop. The close was steady at a net decline of 13 to 43 points.

William Boyce Thompson, New York banker, is said to be President Harding's choice for Ambassador to Germany.

Books on Pacific Oil closed today to reopen October 7.

Rise in foreign silver here to 71¾, a new high for the year, is due to good crops in India, necessitating currency to effect movements. Improved conditions in Japan and China are responsible for exports to the far East; shipments to China are being sent to interior instead of remaining in the treaty ports.

Semi-investment accumulation is reported to be taking place in Frisco preferred and common. Pool buying has been noted in the past few weeks.

Improvement in the copper situation has revived buying of Cerro De Pasco, ores of this Peruvian country show a large content of both gold and silver. It has low production costs, freedom from serious labor troubles and quick and cheap transportation by Panama Canal. The output for the first eight months of this year was 35,165,000 pounds.

PACIFIC FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

BANANA PRICES SOAR IN RESPONSE TO BIG DEMAND

Slow Trading and Strong Delivery Has Tendency to Weaken Market.

Central American bananas are on the upgrade in the matter of price in this market, and on arrival of the next car will have marked an advance of a full cent a pound f. o. b. New Orleans. The commission quotation on the southern fruit is still 8 cents. Hawaiians are about a half-cent to a cent cheaper. Until about two weeks ago bananas were quoted at $3.35 a hundred, New Orleans. The first advance was 60 cents. Houses have been advised that a car due tomorrow will cost $4.20 a hundred f. o. b. New Orleans. No reason other than immediate conditions of supply and demand is apparent for the increase.

Slow trading and strong delivery weakened the Oakland vegetable market materially today. Beans sold off to 5 cents and tomatoes were below $1.50 a lug again. Other green commodities were similarly affected. In the fruit and grape division prices held about steady. Peaches were quoted from $1.25 on small lugs to $2.25. The supply was limited. Car deliveries today included two of apples and one each of potatoes and melons.

Oakland and Richmond market men back from the Modesto area today reported Zinfandel grapes selling at $100 and better and the crop largely garnered. The chief difficulty, it is reported, has been a car shortage. Valley growers are even shipping grapes east in renovated cattle cars, chancing damage in transit.

Alameda county sweet corn is nearly all harvested, the weather bureau reports in its weekly summary of weather and agricultural conditions for California today. The situation is reflected in the Oakland market by small offerings. The bureau also finds tomatoes going to the canneries and beets to the refiners in this county rapidly. Farm work is about normal. Of the general condition the review says in part:

Except along the extreme north coast the weather was rainless, and this, together with the abundant sunshine, rising temperatures and fresh breezes on several days, hastened the drying of prunes and the sun-curing of fruit. Prune picking is practically over in the more important districts, but a vast amount of fruit is still on the trays. The bulk of the Muscat crop, also, is gathered, with the drying about half completed.

Rice has done well. In the lower Sacramento valley the harvest is under way, and in the upper part of the valley it is about to begin.

Conditions have been favorable for the bean and beet crops. Digging of the latter continues and the sugar content generally is developing. Beans in the stack had a week of good drying weather. Vegetables and tomatoes made good progress. The latter continue to reach the market and the canneries in large lots, but this product is still below standard in quality. Cucumbers are maturing slowly.

Much summer fallow is now ready for grain of all kinds and seeding has begun in some districts. Dry feed is plentiful in most localities and the stock brought in from the mountains are thriving. Ranges are getting steadily poorer. Alfalfa made excellent growth.

A Spokane despatch says damage ranging from 20 to 30 per cent of the apple crop of the Spokane valley is reported as a result of the heavy windstorm in the past two days, according to the Spokane Fruit Growers' Company.

Outgoing officers of the Wholesale Dairy Produce Exchange in San Francisco were re-elected yesterday by the directors chosen a few days ago.

SHOE FACTORIES, TEXTILE MILLS AGAIN PROSPEROUS

Boston Industries Report Approach To Normal in Trade Increase, Prospects.

By EDSON S. SMITH.
By Consolidated Press.
Special to Oakland TRIBUNE.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Industrial conditions are improving in a broad way at a steady pace. The belief is gaining ground that business has turned the corner. Compared with two years ago business is not normal but compared with six months ago, the betterment is clearly manifest and the trend is toward better things. The brightest spots continue to be the textile and shoe trades.

The sharp advance in cotton has unsettled the market for cotton goods and buyers are holding off. On the other hand, the mills show little disposition to contract too far ahead for fear of further advance in the raw product. Cotton brokers report it increasingly hard to buy the fine staple. The woolen mills continue active and the wool market has a better tone than for months with firm prices for fair to good grades.

In the shoe trade, Endicott-Johnson is running at capacity with an output of 100,000 pairs of shoes daily. W. H. McElwain is operating about 75 per cent of capacity and makers of the finer grades are running at between 60 and 70 per cent of capacity, which is double the speed of six months ago.

Building costs have come down materially and construction of dwellings is active.

FT. WORTH

By JAMES R. RECORD.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 29.—Betterment in business and industrial circles continues to manifest itself in this territory and two factors of strong influence toward improvement will be added this week when reduced rates on livestock will go into effect and the war finance loan agency will be opened here.

Intense activity in cotton gathering and marketing continues under the spur of the increased prices, and the liquidation of credit which has attended this has been most gratifying. Cottonseed prices have soared, farmers receiving as high as $40 a ton in some localities.

The gigantic gusher wells brought in in the Mexia fields have caused renewed activity in the oil regions and some buying of wells and drilling supplies has been reported by supply houses. Retailers are enjoying a large trade and are having difficulty in meeting the demand.

COMMODITY NEWS

STEEL.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 29.—After being idle since April 20, the Old-Meadow mill of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company at Scottsdale, resumed operations today, giving employment to about 400 men.

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 29.—A new wage scale has been announced in the Farrell Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, effective at once. Hot mill workers are reduced approximately 12 per cent and tin house workers about 7 per cent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The American Bridge Company has just closed an order for 14,000 tons of structural steel.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 29.—Wire nails are selling here for $2.90 a keg. This represents an increase in price of one to three dollars a ton in wire products and is the first increase in the prices of building materials recorded since the decline started.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Sept. 29.—Ten mills of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company's Newcastle plant will resume operations, September 26. Eight hundred men will be given employment.

TOBACCO.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—Retail prices of several recognized brands of cigars have been reduced 15 per cent here and additional price reductions have been effected by putting new and cheaper brands on the market. The wholesale price of cigarettes has been increased by eliminating the ten per cent discount but this increase does not reach the consumer.

COTTON.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—Increase in the basic price of raw cotton has not yet reached the consumer of cotton goods, but is reflected in wholesale prices now in effect in this section.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Prices for tickings have been advanced by some mill agents two to three cents a yard. The new figures will cover October and November deliveries.

LUMBER.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 29.—Argentina is in the market for American lumber and at least two steamers will load heavy cargoes of lumber this month for River Plate ports.

CHEMICAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—It is reported from London that Hugh Stinnes, the German financier, has obtained options on 6,000,000 tons of British pit head spoil heaps at one shilling a ton. It is said he proposes to manufacture dyes from this vast waste coal products.

FRUIT.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 29.—The Massachusetts cranberry crop will fall considerably below the average for the last twenty years because of unfavorable weather conditions. The yield is estimated at 215,000 barrels.

ALONG the WATERFRONT

The schooner William Nottingham arrived at Port Townsend yesterday after a passage of ninety-four days from Balboa. On September 21 she was hailed 14 miles north of Coos Bay, and was short of provisions. She was aided by the steamer President. Strong northwest winds drove the schooner off shore again, and not a word was heard of her until yesterday morning when she was towed into Townsend, again sort of provisions and water. She carried a crew of 24 men. The Nottingham was built on this coast some years ago, and was in the lumber trade. She was sent to the Atlantic Coast with lumber about 15 years ago, and was later sold to a Norwegian shipping man, who now own her. After drydocking on Puget Sound the Nottingham will load lumber for Callao.

The Coast Guard cutter Modoc will be launched from the Union Construction company's plant at West Oakland, Saturday at noon. Miss Jean Bradford Leonard, of Oakland, will be sponsor of the new craft, which is the fourth vessel of her class built at this plant for the United States government. The other three are the Tampa, Mojave and the Haida. Two are to remain on the Pacific, while the other two will do service on the Atlantic. These cutters are of a different type than other revenue cutters now in the service. The cutter Bear, now in Alaska waters, will be condemned and sold by the government when she returns from the north next month.

Vessels changing ownership reported at the United States Custom House today are the Rainier, formerly a government vessel, which was sold to E. W. Cullen by the government, and her name was changed to the Angel. She is of 227 tons register. The Anglo-California Trust Company has taken over from the Commonwealth of Australia the motor ship Cethana, 1777 tons register; Challambra, 1791 tons; Coolcha, 1804 tons, and the Culbura, 1776 tons. While the Anglo-California Trust company, who are trustees for the Ocean Motor Ship Company, has taken over the motor ship Babinda, 2483 tons register; Benowa, 2485 tons, and the Boobyalla, 2457 tons, from the Pacific Motor Ship Company. Some of these vessels have been in this port since last February and were held up on account of wages due the crews.

The British ship Cardinia, which was previously reported ashore near Leonka, is now a total loss, according to advice received here today. The vessel was partly loaded with copra, which she was to deliver in England. Nothing could be saved from the wreck. The crew reached shore in safety.

The steam schooner Tahoe, which arrived here late yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles in ballast, was taken direct to Oakland Harbor to tie up. She has just returned from the South, where she had delivered a cargo of lumber.

The lumber arrivals here today were the steamers Nome City, with 450,000 feet of lumber; Unimak, with 9000 railroad ties; Frank S. Stout, with 871,000 feet; Sea Foam, 200,000 feet, and the Johana Smith, with 1,500,000 feet of lumber. Eight vessels left here during the day for Northern ports to load lumber cargoes for this port.

The schooner Lizzie Vance, which arrived here from Papeete on March 24 with cocoanuts and copra, is now at Barnes and Tibbetts shipyard, Alameda, being overhauled. When she leaves here again it is rumored that she will sail under the French flag, as she was recently purchased by her master, Captain Osterhuis, and his brother, who is first officer. The vessel will be used trading around the South Sea Islands.

Announcement was made today by R. V. Crowder, general passenger agent of the Los Angeles Steamship company, that the coasters Yale and Harvard will go on their fall schedule, effective the week of October 2. Under the new schedule, which will afford four sailings per week from each port, the Harvard will leave San Francisco on Tuesdays and Fridays and the Yale on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The same sailing days will obtain from Los Angeles, the Harvard arriving at San Francisco Wednesdays and Thursdays and the Yale on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The arrangement will provide for a lay-over of the Harvard at San Francisco from Sunday morning until Tuesday afternoon, and a lay-over of the Yale at Los Angeles for the same period. Heretofore, all lay-overs of both ships have been made at Los Angeles.

Changes of Masters registered at the United States Custom House: Captain H. W. Lewis, seamer West Islip; Captain A. K. Simonsen, steamer Fort Bragg; Captain E. W. Cullen, steamer Angel; Captain Anton Wie, motor ship Boobyalla; Captain T. K. Kuhn, gas schooner Captain T. K. Kuhre, gas schooner gas launc T. G. Condare; Captain R. A. Schnalie, gas launch Albion; Captain H. W. Anderson, gas launch Jolanda; Captain A. J. Lattimore, gas launch E. Antoni.

Revealing for the first time to the clothing public the striking difference between virgin wool and other cheaper fabrics as shown by actual laboratory photographs under a powerful microscopic lens, magnifying two hundred times!

Why we can sell virgin all-wool at $25, $30 and $35

Not only big buying power, but big manufacturing power---makes the difference! Our 3 great factories---selling direct to you through coast-to-coast stores---cut the heart out of clothing costs. Nothing is left but bone-cost, bed-rock value, downright quality. We can afford to pay twice as much as the average maker for woolens to retail at $25, $30 and $35! That means all wool instead of shoddy, it means 12 and 14-ounce fabrics instead of 10-ounce, it means a guarantee instead of guesswork---and it means satisfaction to you.
